Berlin Rump Regime Recognized By Russia

Tension Rises As Reds Invade Another Rally

Russian Command Pledges Assistance To Communist Body

BERLIN, Dec. 2 (AP)—The Russians announced tonight their formal recognition of the Communist rump government in Berlin.

This further step in dividing the city came as German Communists clashed again with political opponents and police at a Western Berlin political rally. It was the second successive night of such violence.

ADN, the Soviet-sponsored news agency, said Col. Alexis Jelisarov, the acting Soviet commandant, had announced recognition of the Communist government by the Soviet command.

Jelisarov made the action known in a communication to Ottomar Geschke. The latter was chairman of the Communist-led "extraordinary city assembly" which hand-picked the rump government two days ago.

With tension mounting over next Sunday's elections in the western sectors of the city, scores of Communist toughs invaded a Christian Democratic rally in the borough of Spandau in the British sector. There were 26 other rallies in the British, French and American sectors of the city but these were peaceful.

15 Hecklers Tossed Out

Anti-Communists in the audience at Spandau pounced on the hecklers and with the aid of police used cut 15 of them before the rally was an hour old. A few were roughed up but none was injured seriously. No arrests were made.

Police used clubs to subdue some Communists, among whom were women planted in the crowd of 1,500, police said. Jacob Kaiser, the Christian Democrat city chairman, and Ferdinand Friedensburg, acting mayor, were addressing the crowd.

Jelisarov replied to Geschke's letter asking all four occupying powers for recognition of the "provisional democratic city government."

The Russian said restoration of a unified administrative body for the city of Berlin was vital to its population.

"Therefore," he added, "the Soviet comand supports the measures aiming at the preservation of the city's unity and at securing the normal activity of the organs of democratic self-administration.

"It recognizes the provisional democratic city government of greater Berlin as elected by the extraordinary asembly as the only legal organ of the city administration until general free and democratic elections are held in all Berlin, which the Soviet command continues to deem necessary in the near future."

Truman Says He Will Receive Mme. Chiang But Fixes No Time

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 (AP) — Madame Chiang Kai-Shek, seeking aid for Communist-beleaguered China, conferred with Secretary of State Marshall late today.

Their meeting was at Walter Reed Army General Hospital where Marshall is undergoing a checkup.

They met just about the time that President Truman was telling a White House news conference that he will receive Madame Chiang but fixed no time.

Nor did Mr. Truman give any hint of his attitude on the question of new aid to China.

Nature Of Talks Not Revealed

Madame Chiang came to Washington yesterday to ask new help for the Nationalist government, which is being hard pressed by the Communists.

Presumably, Madame Chiang discussed the urgency of China's position in her hour-long talk with Gen. Marshall but there was no formal announcement of the nature of their talks.

The meeting occurred between the two shortly before a State Department spokesman said that Marshall would see Madame Chiang in the next day or so. The timing of this announcement gave rise to speculation among officials that today's meeting was, to some extent at least, social and that further meetings would occur in the next few days. Madame Chiang is guest of the Marshalls at their Leesburg, Va., home while she is in this country.

China Won't Get MacArthur

The State Department said that Madame Chiang and Mrs. Marshall called at Walter Reed Hospital to see Gen. Marshall about 4 p. m. and remained for approximately an hour.

Mr. Truman ruled out any suggestion that Gen. Douglas MacArthur be sent from Japan to advise the Chinese in their battle against the Communists.

Chiang Kai-Shek is reported to have asked for an outstanding American commander.

Asked whether MacArthur would go, Mr. Truman said—no, period.

Asked about the administration's present policy toward China, Mr. Truman observed that on three occasions since he became President he has made statements on the subject. He said he had nothing to add to them at this time.

President Says All Have Been Asked To Stay

All Willing To Do So, Nation's Chief Tells Big News Conference

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 (AP) — President Truman said today he's not angry with anybody, and there will be no changes in his cabinet at this time.

Every man in the Cabinet has been asked to stay on, and they are all perfectly willing to do so, Mr. Truman told his first Washington news conference since his November 2 election sweep.

That was only the highlight of a question-and-answer discussion that ran the range from significant to trivial, a discussion to which Mr. Truman brought a seemingly newfound sureness and skill.

He batted down questions he didn't want to answer. He rocked the packed room with laughter when he felt it was time for fun. He was a little bitter in comment on some columnists' work. He gave direct answers in detail when he thought it best, and even repeated some of the Q. and A. for people in back of the room who couldn't hear well. In short, it was a Truman show—like the Democratic 1948 campaign.

For his audience, Mr. Truman had 225 reporters. It was the second largest White House conference since he became President; the record was 347 at his first, back in 1945.

As question after question came up, Mr. Truman disposed of them this way:

Dewey "Greatest Asset"

1. Of all the influences in his election, he regards Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican presidential nominee, as his greatest asset. This, at the end of the conference, was delivered dead pan for an instant and then with a wide grin and chuckle.

2. He will see Mme. Chiang Kai-Shek, wife of the Chinese Generalissimo, at a date to be announced. But he wasn't committing himself before hand on China aid.

3. Gen. Douglas MacArthur is not going to be sent to China.

4. So long as he is President, the German cartels are not coming back to life and run German industry.

5. He is talking with Attorney General Clark about proposed tightening of regulations to control lobbying in Washington.

One of the first questions was whether Secretary of State Marshall is well enough to continue in his post; Marshall has been in Walter Reed Hospital this week for examination.

Mr. Truman said he didn't have the answer to that, but as the questions ran down the line on other Cabinet members—Secretary of Defense Forrestal, Secretary of Interior Krug, etc., Mr. Truman bracketed them all and said there would be no changes at this time.

A reporter quoted back his "at this time" clause, and Mr. Truman recalled that back in 1945, he was asked much the same questions. The press, he said, will be informed when, as and if there are changes.

(Only two of Mr. Truman's present Cabinet members date their service back to 1945—Forrestal and Attorney General Clark. Forrestal, who became Secretary of the Navy in 1944, is the only holdover from the Franklin D. Roosevelt Cabinet.)

Truman Gets New Desk Ornament

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—(AP)—President Truman has a new desk piece—a metal reproduction of a Chicago Tribune election night headline: "Dewey Defeats Truman."

Reporters in the front row at Mr. Truman's news conference today spotted it quickly.

The President, asked about the item, chuckled and said it had been presented to him by the Chicago Sun-Times.

Mouse Kayoes Radio Station At Hagerstown

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Dec. 2 (AP) — Never underestimate the power of a mouse. One of them knocked radio station WARK off the air here today.

Electricians said the mouse hopped into a transmitter and contacted high tension wires, causing a short circuit.

Service was restored in about five minutes.

Five Passengers On Bus Are Shot In Pistol Battle

CLEVELAND, Tenn., Dec. 2—(AP)—Bradley County Sheriff Bud Cash said five persons were shot on a bus near here today when two passengers, one white and one negro, began shooting at each other.

The sheriff quoted the bus driver, E. K. McKenzie, Cleveland, as saying the pistol riot began when the negro sat down by the white man on the bus.

Sheriff Cash identified the men who did the shooting as Jack Bennett, white, Calhoun, Tenn., and James A. Phillips, negro.

He said Bennett was wounded in the left shoulder and that Phillips was not hit.

Four other white people, according to the sheriff, were taken to the General Hospital at Cleveland for treatment of bullet wounds. He identified them as Edward Thomas, Cleveland; D. L. Stanberry, Mrs. Grady Duggan and Mrs. J. M. Preasman, all of Charleston.

The bus driver told the sheriff that he was four miles from Cleveland and en route to Charleston, 12

White Man Found Guilty Of Raping Negro Woman, 22

Penalty Is Fixed At 45 Years In Prison

METUMPKA, Ala., Dec. 2—(AP)—An all-white Albama jury sent a white man to prison for 45 years tonight for the rape of a young negro woman.

The jurors, asked by a prosecutor to show negro "he can get justice in court," found stocky, 30-year-old John C. Howard, Jr., guilty of raying Melinda Jackson, 22 last April 25.

Then, acting under state legal procedure, they fixed the penalty—45 years in prison.

Shortly before reporting with their verdict, they asked through their foreman, R. A. Nelson, if they could go even further—and fix it so Howard could not get a parole or pardon.

Judge Advises To Contrary

Circuit Judge Oakley Melton advised them to the contrary. "That's not for you to worry about," the court told them.

The jury acted under the urging of Circuit Solicitor Winston Huddleston that it decide the white man's fate "just like like you would if a negro was charged with raping a white woman."

Another prosecutor, County Solicitor U. G. Jones, called for a verdict that will "go everywhere and show that the people of Elmore Country will not tolerate such conduct."

Howard is one of two white men charged with raping two negro women. His cousin, Jack Oliver, 20, is slated for trial tomorrow on an indictment that he raped Melinda's companion, Annie Grayson, 23.

Denies He Used Force

Both men also are accused of robbing the women's husbands.

Howard admitted in court that he was intimate with Melinda but said he did not use force. His attorneys, W. C. Woodall and Willard Pienezza, emphasized this testimony in their jury pleas.

Huddleston countered that this was no defense. He said that although negroes have made much progress since slavery "they still got it in their minds to do what a white man tells them."

He aserted Howard could have raped the woman without a gun "because by their very nature negroes fear white people."

Communists Claim Capture Of Suchow

NANKING, Dec. 2 (AP)—The Chinese Communists announced tonight they had captured Suchow, and government reports gave no reason to doubt it.

Along the 211-mile route from Suchow to Nanking, the government was left with three large bodies of troops, all in critical plights.

One was the 250,000-man government force moving tardily out of Suchow. Its advance parties were reported stalled by Communist interception 25 miles to the south.

The second was a 100,000-man army group trapped 130 miles northwest of Nanking in a rapidly-tightening Communist noose.

The third was the last main reliance of this alarmed capital: 80,000 troops hotly engaged around Pengpu, on the broad Hwai (Huai) River only 100 miles northwest of Nanking.

This last force was reported in some danger of a Communist encircling maneuver. Behind it lay only sketchy local defenses and the broad Yangtze River, with Nanking on the south bank.

The Foreign Ministry nevertheless informed the foreign diplomatic corps that it had no intention of removing the capital.

Shih Chao-Ying, Foreign Office spokesman, said that Jacques Meyrier, French ambassador and dean of the foreign diplomats, had re-

Nourse Informs Chief Executive Inflation Easing

Sizeable Food Price Cuts May Be Delayed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—(AP)—Government experts advised President Truman today that the fight against high prices is taking a brighter turn. However, it may be late 1949 before housewives can really celebrate.

Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, chairman of the President's Economic Advisory Committee, called on Mr. Truman at the White House and later he told newsmen he informed the Chief Executive:

There has been "a flattening out of some prices" and "they don't seem to be jumping through the ceiling."

"Food has had quite a turndown and is now moving down at a somewhat slower rate."

"There has been a softening of prices on quite a number of clothing items," but rental charts still show a "creeping advance."

Truman "Gratified"

Nourse said Mr. Truman was "very much gratified" at the report. He said the President is "deeply concerned" over the price situation—"in fact, it is his very first concern."

Some details of a Truman anti-inflation program may be supplied tomorrow in a New York speech by Secretary of Commerce Sawyer. He is on the program for the annual Congress of American Industry, sponsored by the National Association of Manufacturers.

Dr. Leo Wolman, a professor of economics at Columbia University, told the business congress today that "there are many signs that we stand today at a critical stage in the business situation."

Wolman said (1) more and more people find they cannot pay existing prices, (2) conditions favorable to buyers' strikes are abundant, and (3) business costs are rising and many firms are nearing the point where they can do no more than break even.

Most Foods To Be Plentiful

The Agriculture Department, in a price report, said it may be eight or 10 months before the nation's housewives will be able to make any sizable cut in the family food budget.

The department said in a report that generally high retail food prices may be expected to prevail for most of 1949, with some decline late in the year.

Plentiful supplies of most foods were forecast in the report, which

Council Shelves Israel's Bid For U.N. Membership

Sent To Committee; British Plan Jolted By Odd Combination

PARIS, Dec. 2 (AP)—The Security Council today shelved Israel's request for membership in the United Nations by sending the application to a membership committee.

Thus the council may have delayed action until the United Nations General Assembly meets next year.

At the same time an odd combination of pro-Arab and pro-Israel countries killed two of the main sections of a British plan for a Palestine settlement which was before the Assembly's Political Committee.

The British plan had been endorsed by the United States. Members of both delegations expressed surprise at their rebuff. They went into a huddle tonight to try to frame some substitute which the committee might accept.

Free Hand For Commission

The two clauses turned down referred to the United Nations partition plan approved November 29, 1947 and to the report of Count Folke Bernadotte, slain Palestine mediator.

Delegates said the committee action left the conciliation commission a free hand, without reference either to the original partition or the Bernadotte plan. They pointed out, however, that the partition plan has not been repealed, and the Bernadotte plan is still available for whatever use the commission chooses to make of it.

Some delegates apparently did not wish to pin the commission down to either plan.

The Arabs oppose any partition and refuse to recognize the existence of Israel. The Jews are against any reference to the Bernadotte plan, declaring it would take the Negev Desert from them and reduce the size of their state by two-thirds.

Tie Vote On One Clause

One clause was rejected by a tie 23 to 23 vote with five abstentions. The other was voted down 25 to 22 with five abstentions. They would instruct a conciliation commission to consider the original partition plan and the Bernadotte proposals and consult with Arabs and Jews on the future boundaries of Palestine.

The committee approved that part of the British resolution setting up the conciliation commission.

Barricaded Man Slain After He Kills Policeman

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 (AP)—A policeman was shot to death and his barricaded killer died in a fusillade of shots from the revolver of another policeman in a house in Northeast Washington tonight.

Police Cpl. Grady A. Beacham died of a shotgun wound in the chest.

The man who shot him, police said, was Robert Sterling Wilkerson.

Wilkerson died of wounds inflicted when Private Harvey Womble, who accompanied Beacham, emptied his revolver at the man at close range.

CIO Union Admits Members Raided Kalamazoo Plants

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Dec. 2 (AP)—A CIO union admitted today that its members staged the dawn raid on two struck plants of the Shakespeare Companies here Wednesday.

The State of Michigan meanwhile set up another of its familiar and usually effective one-man grand juries to take up the trial of the raiders.

Thomas Shane, state director of the CIO United Steel Workers, described the invasion as an open "raid," to support Shakespeare employes who have been on strike since September 7.

Military-Style Assault

He said the estimated 300 raiders came from steel worker locals around the state. They made no effort to hide their identity, he added, and did not flee the scene as reported by Kalamazoo police.

Seven persons were injured in the swift, military-style assault. Several cars were overturned, a truck was burned and equipment damaged.

Shane repeated previous union charges that the company had imported strikebreakers from other states.

"I was on the picket line," he asserted, "and can state positively that any violence which occurred was due entirely to the provocation of the scabs."

The company did not comment immediately on Shane's statement.

With a large detail of state and local police around the plant gates, an estimated 200 non-striking workers walked through the picket lines this morning. Shakespeare officials had said the workers were recruited mostly from nearby farms.

License Numbers Are Clues

Circuit Judge John Simpson, of Jackson, was named grand juror by State Presiding Judge Joseph A. Moynihan, of Detroit.

State Police who will work with the grand juror said their principal clues to the identities of the raiders are license numbers from the cars in which they came. They said many of the cars were from Wayne County (Detroit), where most of the union's members are concentrated.

Shane contended that the out-of-state cars noticed at the scene yesterday were those of people whom he termed strikebreakers. The union official said the autos were not those of unionists.

He denied that Communists had any part in the raid, as hinted by State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard.

State Officials Warned More U. S. Taxes Likely

DETROIT, Dec. 2 (AP)—More federal taxes may be in store, high state officials were warned today.

This news came from United States Budget Director James E. Webb as the ninth biennial General Assembly of the States met and tackled the problem of curbing federal power in regional affairs.

Webb said the government will face a deficit in the next fiscal year if taxes don't go up.

On the state level, delegates had their own tax questions to thrash out during discussion of a suggested 1949 legislative program for the states.

At the top of the proposed program was a state-run civilian defense agency, including battalions of "minute men" ready to go into action at a call from the governor in any emergency.

Truman Proud He Won Without N. Y., Solid South

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 (AP)—President Truman told his second largest news conference today that he is proud of having won the election without the support of New York and the Solid South.

In a good-natured exchange with 225 newsmen who showed up for his first Washington interview since mid-September, Mr. Truman said he:

1—Did not want any Dixiecrat votes.

2—Is not angry with anyone over the election.

3—Regarded Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, his Republican opponent, as his greatest asset in the Democratic victory.

4—Felt the columnists were wrong and the people voted right once they got the facts.

The President was asked whether he was interested in any moves to get the 38 southern electors pledged to Gov. J. Strom Thurmond, States' Rights presidential candidate, to vote for him in the electoral college.

He replied promptly that he did not want any Dixiecrat votes. He added he won the election without New York and without the Solid South and is proud of it.

Gov. Dewey won New York's 47 electoral votes and Thurmond captured Alabama's 11, Mississippi's nine, Louisiana's 10, and South Carolina's eight. There is a possibility Thurmond may pick up an additional vote from Tennessee when the electors meet in the state capital December 13.

Today's question regarding the Dixiecrat electors apparently was predicted on a recent statement by Sen. Ellender (D-La), after a White House conference, that efforts would be made to get the Thurmond electors lined up for the President.

Asked if 10 Democratic congressmen classed by a reporter as Dixiecrats would lose their seniority privileges in the House, the Presi-

Head Of Paint Concern Elected NAM President

NEW YORK, Dec. 2—(AP)—Wallace F. Bennett, Salt Lake City, president of a paint and varnish manufacturing concern employing about 225 workers, tonight was elected 1949 president of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Bennet, who is 50, also heads the Bennett Motor Company which holds the Ford automobile franchise in Salt Lake City; is president of the Clayton Investment Comany, Salt Lake City.

Mayor Pays Fine

Baltimore Makes Amends For Wrecking Honeymoon

BALTIMORE, Dec. 2 (AP) — A young honeymooning couple from Newport News, Va., was given the key to the city today as a sort of peace offering and the Mayor paid their parking fine.

Mr. and Mrs. David Fromal's wedding trip had been delayed five days after police impounded their car for a parking violation.

What was worse, the 21-year-old groom had left the auto's registration card in Newport News and police wouldn't return the car.

That meant the Fromals couldn't go on to New York where they planned to spend most of their wedding trip and as far as Mrs. Fromal was concerned the city owed them "another honeymoon."

Today Police Chief J. M. Peach, of Newport News, vouched for the couple and said the registration was being airmailed. The car was returned to them.

But the couple figured it was too late to go to New York and so decided to visit Washington instead. They were going to leave Baltimore as soon as they paid the $12.25 they owed the city—a $5 fine, $5.25 for towing and $2 for storage.

However, Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro called in the newlyweds, gave them the key to Baltimore — and paid the $12.25.

After that the bride and groom said they thought they'd stay around a few more days.

In fact, Mrs. Fromal had changed her mind completely about Baltimore. Said the 19-year-old bride:

"I love it."

Girl Who Changed To Boy Seeks Peace In Suicide

TROY, O., Dec. 2—(AP)—Don Lee Reid, who couldn't escape the trick Mother Nature played in changing his sex in mid-life, sought peace in suicide last night.

The 28-year-old man who made headlines a decade ago because he changed from a girl to a boy shot himself with a .22 caliber rifle he borrowed from a friend.

Coroner Charles Kiefer ruled his death suicide.

Don Lee, a slender fellow with good-looking, clean-cut features, left no note. He didn't explain his act. But Ralph Reid, an uncle with whom Don Lee lived, said:

"He had just returned from St. Louis where he had been trying to get a job. He didn't have any luck. He couldn't hold a job. His life followed him wherever he went."

Don Lee began life as a girl, a tot who suffered from dual sexuality. When he was 18, high school age when deviations from the normal strike hardest, Don Lee became a boy. Medical testimony nine years later bore this out.

The metamorphasis plagued Don Lee. Nine years after his switch of sex, he was drinking with his 51-year-old father, John.

The oddity of his son's sexual switch caused the father to taunt Don Lee, witnesses testified later.

Don Lee stabbed his father to death.

The young man was convicted of manslaughter. But, even then, Don Lee wasn't treated normally. Because of his change in sex, authorities declined to place him in Ohio penitentiary.

So, Don Lee served a year in jail. He was paroled last April.

Between his sex change and the slaying of his father, Don Lee married Miss Thelma Cox. The marriage didn't last. Mrs. Reid since has remarried. She lives in St. Louis.

Mr. Truman said he didn't have the answer to that, but as the questions ran down the line on other Cabinet members—Secretary of Defense Forrestal, Secretary of Interior Krug, etc., Mr. Truman bracketed them all and said there would be no changes at this time.

A reporter quoted back his "at this time" clause, and Mr. Truman recalled that back in 1945, he was asked much the same questions. The press, he said, will be informed when, as and if there are changes.

(Only two of Mr. Truman's present Cabinet members date their service back to 1945—Forrestal and Attorney General Clark. Forrestal, who became Secretary of the Navy in 1944, is the only holdover from the Franklin D. Roosevelt Cabinet.)

Nourse Informs Chief Executive Inflation Easing

Sizeable Food Price Cuts May Be Delayed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—(AP)—Government experts advised President Truman today that the fight against high prices is taking a brighter turn. However, it may be late 1949 before housewives can really celebrate.

Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, chairman of the President's Economic Advisory Committee, called on Mr. Truman at the White House and later he told newsmen he informed the Chief Executive:

There has been "a flattening out of some prices" and "they don't seem to be jumping through the ceiling."

"Food has had quite a turndown and is now moving down at a somewhat slower rate."

"There has been a softening of prices on quite a number of clothing items," but rental charts still show a "creeping advance."

Truman "Gratified"

Nourse said Mr. Truman was "very much gratified" at the report. He said the President is "deeply concerned" over the price situation—"in fact, it is his very first concern."

Some details of a Truman anti-inflation program may be supplied tomorrow in a New York speech by Secretary of Commerce Sawyer. He is on the program for the annual Congress of American Industry, sponsored by the National Association of Manufacturers.

Dr. Leo Wolman, a professor of economics at Columbia University, told the business congress today that "there are many signs that we stand today at a critical stage in the business situation."

Wolman said (1) more and more people find they cannot pay existing prices, (2) conditions favorable to buyers' strikes are abundant, and (3) business costs are rising and many firms are nearing the point where they can do no more than break even.

Most Foods To Be Plentiful

The Agriculture Department, in a price report, said it may be eight or 10 months before the nation's housewives will be able to make any sizable cut in the family food budget.

The department said in a report that generally high retail food prices may be expected to prevail for most of 1949, with some decline late in the year.

Plentiful supplies of most foods were forecast in the report, which

Sent To Committee; British Plan Jolted By Odd Combination

PARIS, Dec. 2 (AP)—The Security Council today shelved Israel's request for membership in the United Nations by sending the application to a membership committee.

Thus the council may have delayed action until the United Nations General Assembly meets next year.

At the same time an odd combination of pro-Arab and pro-Israel countries killed two of the main sections of a British plan for a Palestine settlement which was before the Assembly's Political Committee.

The British plan had been endorsed by the United States. Members of both delegations expressed surprise at their rebuff. They went into a huddle tonight to try to frame some substitute which the committee might accept.

Free Hand For Commission

The two clauses turned down referred to the United Nations partition plan approved November 29, 1947 and to the report of Count Folke Bernadotte, slain Palestine mediator.

Delegates said the committee action left the conciliation commission a free hand, without reference either to the original partition or the Bernadotte plan. They pointed out, however, that the partition plan has not been repealed, and the Bernadotte plan is still available for whatever use the commission chooses to make of it.

Some delegates apparently did not wish to pin the commission down to either plan.

The Arabs oppose any partition and refuse to recognize the existence of Israel. The Jews are against any reference to the Bernadotte plan, declaring it would take the Negev Desert from them and reduce the size of their state by two-thirds.

Tie Vote On One Clause

One clause was rejected by a tie 23 to 23 vote with five abstentions. The other was voted down 25 to 22 with five abstentions. They would instruct a conciliation commission to consider the original partition plan and the Bernadotte proposals and consult with Arabs and Jews on the future boundaries of Palestine.

The committee approved that part of the British resolution setting up the conciliation commission.

Barricaded Man Slain After He Kills Policeman

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 (AP)—A policeman was shot to death and his barricaded killer died in a fusillade of shots from the revolver of another policeman in a house in Northeast Washington tonight.

Police Cpl. Grady A. Beacham died of a shotgun wound in the chest.

The man who shot him, police said, was Robert Sterling Wilkerson.

Wilkerson died of wounds inflicted when Private Harvey Womble, who accompanied Beacham, emptied his revolver at the man at close range.

CIO Union Admits Members Raided Kalamazoo Plants

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Dec. 2 (AP)—A CIO union admitted today that its members staged the dawn raid on two struck plants of the Shakespeare Companies here Wednesday.

The State of Michigan meanwhile set up another of its familiar and usually effective one-man grand juries to take up the trial of the raiders.

Thomas Shane, state director of the CIO United Steel Workers, described the invasion as an open "roll," to support Shakespeare employes who have been on strike since September 7.

Military-Style Assault

He said the estimated 300 raiders came from steel worker locals around the state. They made no effort to hide their identity, he added, and did not flee the scene as reported by Kalamazoo police.

Seven persons were injured in the swift, military-style assault. Several cars were overturned, a truck was burned and equipment damaged.

Shane repeated previous union charges that the company had imported strikebreakers from other states.

"I was on the picket line," he asserted, "and can state positively that any violence which occurred was due entirely to the provocation of the scabs."

The company did not comment immediately on Shane's statement.

With a large detail of state and local police around the plant gates, an estimated 200 non-striking workers walked through the picket lines this morning. Shakespeare officials had said the workers were recruited mostly from nearby farms.

License Numbers Are Clues

Circuit Judge John Simpson, of Jackson, was named grand juror by State Presiding Judge Joseph A. Moynihan, of Detroit.

State Police who will work with the grand juror said their principal clues to the identities of the raiders are license numbers from the cars in which they came. They said many of the cars were from Wayne County (Detroit), where most of the union's members are concentrated.

Shane contended that the out-of-state cars noticed at the scene yesterday were those of people whom he termed strikebreakers. The union official said the autos were not those of unionists.

He denied that Communists had any part in the raid, as hinted by State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard.

Mouse Kayoes Radio Station At Hagerstown

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Dec. 2 (AP) — Never underestimate the power of a mouse. One of them knocked radio station WARK off the air here today.

Electricians said the mouse hopped into a transmitter and contacted high tension wires, causing a short circuit.

Service was restored in about five minutes.

Five Passengers On Bus Are Shot In Pistol Battle

CLEVELAND, Tenn., Dec. 2—(AP)—Bradley County Sheriff Bud Cash said five persons were shot on a bus near here today when two passengers, one white and one negro, began shooting at each other.

The sheriff quoted the bus driver, E. K. McKenzie, Cleveland, as saying the pistol riot began when the negro sat down by the white man on the bus.

Sheriff Cash identified the men who did the shooting as Jack Bennett, white, Calhoun, Tenn., and James A. Phillips, negro.

He said Bennett was wounded in the left shoulder and that Phillips was not hit.

Four other white people, according to the sheriff, were taken to the General Hospital at Cleveland for treatment of bullet wounds. He identified them as Edward Thomas, Cleveland; D. L. Stanberry, Mrs. Grady Duggan and Mrs. J. M. Preasman, all of Charleston.

The bus driver told the sheriff that he was four miles from Cleveland and en route to Charleston, 12

White Man Found Guilty Of Raping Negro Woman, 22

Penalty Is Fixed At 45 Years In Prison

METUMPKA, Ala., Dec. 2—(AP)—An all-white Albama jury sent a white man to prison for 45 years tonight for the rape of a young negro woman.

The jurors, asked by a prosecutor to show negro "he can get justice in court," found stocky, 30-year-old John C. Howard, Jr., guilty of raying Melinda Jackson, 22 last April 25.

Then, acting under state legal procedure, they fixed the penalty—45 years in prison.

Shortly before reporting with their verdict, they asked through their foreman, R. A. Nelson, if they could go even further—and fix it so Howard could not get a parole or pardon.

Judge Advises To Contrary

Circuit Judge Ockley Melton advised them to the contrary. "That's not for you to worry about," the court told them.

The jury acted under the urging of Circuit Solicitor Winston Hudleston that it decide the white man's fate "just like like you would if a negro was charged with raping a white woman."

Another prosecutor, County Solicitor U. G. Jones, called for a verdict that will "go everywhere and show that the people of Elmore Country will not tolerate such conduct."

Howard is one of two white men charged with raping two negro women. His cousin, Jack Oliver, 20, is slated for trial tomorrow on an indictment that he raped Melinda's companion, Annie Grayson, 23.

Denies He Used Force

Both men also are accused of robbing the women's husbands.

Howard admitted in court that he was intimate with Melinda but said he did not use force. His attorneys, W. C. Woodall and Willard Pienezza, emphasized this testimony in their jury pleas.

Huddleston countered that this was no defense. He said that although negroes have made much progress since slavery "they still got it in their minds to do what a white man tells them."

He aserted Howard could have raped the woman without a gun "because by their very nature negroes fear white people."

Communists Claim Capture Of Suchow

NANKING, Dec. 2 (AP)—The Chinese Communists announced tonight they had captured Suchow, and government reports gave no reason to doubt it.

Along the 211-mile route from Suchow to Nanking, the government was left with three large bodies of troops, all in critical plights.

One was the 250,000-man government force moving tardily out of Suchow. Its advance parties were reported stalled by Communist interception 25 miles to the south.

The second was a 100,000-man army group trapped 130 miles northwest of Nanking in a rapidly-tightening Communist noose.

The third was the last main reliance of this alarmed capital: 80,000 troops hotly engaged around Pengpu, on the broad Hwai (Huai) River only 100 miles northwest of Nanking.

This last force was reported in some danger of a Communist encircling maneuver. Behind it lay only sketchy local defenses and the broad Yangtze River, with Nanking on the south bank.

The Foreign Ministry nevertheless informed the foreign diplomatic corps that it had no intention of removing the capital.

Shih Chao-Ying, Foreign Office spokesman, said that Jacques Meyrier, French ambassador and dean of the foreign diplomats, had re-

Truman Proud He Won Without N. Y., Solid South

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 (AP)—President Truman told his second largest news conference today that he is proud of having won the election without the support of New York and the Solid South.

In a good-natured exchange with 225 newsmen who showed up for his first Washington interview since mid-September, Mr. Truman said he:

1—Did not want any Dixiecrat votes.

2—Is not angry with anyone over the election.

3—Regarded Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, his Republican opponent, as his greatest asset in the Democratic victory.

4—Felt the columnists were wrong and the people voted right once they got the facts.

The President was asked whether he was interested in any moves to get the 38 southern electors pledged to Gov. J. Strom Thurmond, States' Rights presidential candidate, to vote for him in the electoral college.

He replied promptly that he did not want any Dixiecrat votes. He added he won the election without New York and without the Solid South and is proud of it.

Gov. Dewey won New York's 47 electoral votes and Thurmond captured Alabama's 11, Mississippi's nine, Louisiana's 10, and South Carolina's eight. There is a possibility Thurmond may pick up an additional vote from Tennessee when the electors meet in the state capital December 13.

Today's question regarding the Dixiecrat electors apparently was predicted on a recent statement by Sen. Ellender (D-La), after a White House conference, that efforts would be made to get the Thurmond electors lined up for the President.

Asked if 10 Democratic congressmen classed by a reporter as Dixiecrats would lose their seniority privileges in the House, the Presi-

Mayor Pays Fine

Baltimore Makes Amends For Wrecking Honeymoon

BALTIMORE, Dec. 2 (AP) — A young honeymooning couple from Newport News, Va., was given the key to the city today as a sort of peace offering and the Mayor paid their parking fine.

Mr. and Mrs. David Fromal's wedding trip had been delayed five days after police impounded their car for a parking violation.

What was worse, the 21-year-old groom had left the auto's registration card in Newport News and police wouldn't return the car.

That meant the Fromals couldn't go on to New York where they planned to spend most of their wedding trip and as far as Mrs. Fromal was concerned the city owed them "another honeymoon."

Today Police Chief J. M. Peach, of Newport News, vouched for the couple and said the registration was being airmailed. The car was returned to them.

But the couple figured it was too late to go to New York and so decided to visit Washington instead. They were going to leave Baltimore as soon as they paid the $12.25 they owed the city—a $5 fine, $5.25 for towing and $2 for storage.

However, Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro called in the newlyweds, gave them the key to Baltimore — and paid the $12.25.

After that the bride and groom said they thought they'd stay around a few more days.

In fact, Mrs. Fromal had changed her mind completely about Baltimore. Said the 19-year-old bride:

"I love it."

Truman Gets New Desk Ornament

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—(AP)—President Truman has a new desk piece—a metal reproduction of a Chicago Tribune election night headline: "Dewey Defeats Truman."

Reporters in the front row at Mr. Truman's news conference today spotted it quickly.

The President, asked about the item, chuckled and said it had been presented to him by the Chicago Sun-Times.

The headline appeared in an early edition of the Chicago paper November 2.

Girl Who Changed To Boy Seeks Peace In Suicide

TROY, O., Dec. 2—(AP)—Don Lee Reid, who couldn't escape the trick Mother Nature played in changing his sex in mid-life, sought peace in suicide last night.

The 28-year-old man who made headlines a decade ago because he changed from a girl to a boy shot himself with a .22 caliber rifle he borrowed from a friend.

Coroner Charles Kiefer ruled his death suicide.

Don Lee, a slender fellow with good-looking, clean-cut features, left no note. He didn't explain his act. But Ralph Reid, an uncle with whom Don Lee lived, said:

"He had just returned from St. Louis where he had been trying to get a job. He didn't have any luck. He couldn't hold a job. His life followed him wherever he went."

Don Lee began life as a girl, a tot who suffered from dual sexuality. When he was 18, high school age when deviations from the normal strike hardest, Don Lee became a boy. Medical testimony nine years later bore this out.

The metamorphasis plagued Don Lee. Nine years after his switch of sex, he was drinking with his 51-year-old father, John.

The oddity of his son's sexual switch caused the father to taunt Don Lee, witnesses testified later.

Don Lee stabbed his father to death.

The young man was convicted of manslaughter. But, even then, Don Lee wasn't treated normally. Because of his change in sex, authorities declined to place him in Ohio penitentiary.

So, Don Lee served a year in jail. He was paroled last April.

Between his sex change and the slaying of his father, Don Lee married Miss Thelma Cox. The marriage didn't last. Mrs. Reid since has remarried. She lives in St. Louis.

Shopping Slow For Christmas

The Christmas shopping season is off to a slow start, but merchants are expecting better business the remaining 19 shopping days before Christmas.

Harold W. Smith, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, said that in the recent years the public started shopping earlier than this year, and he attributes this to the former scarcity in some lines of merchandise and the desire on the part of shoppers to make certain they obtained the proper Christmas gifts for men in the service.

This year the shopping is following the normal prewar procedure, and Smith thinks last-minute business will result in a good Christmas season generally.

Some merchants report their sales are four to 10 per cent below the same figure at this time last year.

One factor clouding the shopping picture is increased unemployment with a two-day furlough of B. and O. workers just ending and 300 more carmen and shopmen being notified of an indefinite furlough starting Monday.

The Kelly-Springfield Tire Company has been operating only four days a week for some time, and will close down production lines December for a week.

The local office of the Maryland Employment Service reports an increase in applications for work, and that the number of unemployed has also increased during the past few weeks.

Very few extra sales clerks have been hired through the Employment Service office, as the lack of brisk shopping has deterred the hiring of the usual number of clerks by most stores.

Fort Hill Students Hear Job Talks

Fort Hill High School students heard representatives from two Cumberland firms speak on qualifications of graduates at an assembly program yesterday.

Mrs. Morris Rosenbaum talked on "What Business Expects from the High School Graduate", and Edwin Lytle, employment manager of Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, gave a short speech on "What Industry Expects from the High School Graduate."

Lessie Sponaugle, a member of the Junior Class, spoke on "What the High School Student Expects from Business and Industry."

Following the discussion, students were given an opportunity to ask questions of the speakers.

The opening exercises of the program were led by Thomas Kaboskey, president of the Student Council. Janet Matlick read the scripture. Ernest Minka, guidance director, arranged the assembly.

City's Smoke Control Program Again Stalled

Members of the City Council erupted and boiled over like so many volcanoes, spewed forth lava in the nature of innuendoes, sputtered something about qualifications and then proceeded to delay a real start on Cumberland's smoke abatement program for, what now looks like, the remainder of the year.

Everything that had been done to make way for a real beginning for cleansing the city's air of its smoke, fly ash, soot and whatever other impurities are impregnating it, was sidetracked during the special session of Council a day or so ago. Today, the program to improve the city's welfare, and which appeared so promising 18 months ago, is in the throes of its most severe setback all because of a lot of needless quibbling by City Commissioners over what qualifies a man to be deputy director.

If any member of the Council had any idea as to what qualifications are required he made no attempt to define them. The Commissioners showed no willingness to accept the assurances of Director Hitchcock that the person named would be fully trained within 30 days, and they were not willing that Mayor Post should assume the responsibility for the success or failure of his proposed appointee.

To be sure, all the blame for the delay in getting on with the effort to bring smoke and other dirt under control should not be placed on the Councilmen. Too much time has been frittered away since a smoke abatement engineer was named. Director Hitchcock realized soon after taking up his duties that he would require an assistant. But, instead of securing one within a reasonable time after initial preliminaries had been disposed of, he permitted this important addition to his organization to remain unfilled month after month. True, he set date after date as to when organizational work would be completed. But nothing happened until about two months ago when an office was finally opened.

Meanwhile, members of City Council did not seem to consider it their duty to press for action anywhere along the line. They gave no outward indication that they were insisting on a deputy being named or for the completion of any other portion of the set-up, including the naming of the advisory board called for in the anti-smoke ordinance. They recognized, in all probability, that this was the mayor's duty, as set forth in the ordinance. If that were so, then they should have adhered to that position when the Mayor attempted to fill the deputy post. Instead, the minute a name was submitted for confirmation by them they took an arbitrary attitude, more or less. And for several weeks they quibbled over it without once offering anything constructive to substantiate their position except to assert "I haven't anything against the man proposed for the job because I don't believe him qualified," or words to that effect.

Commissioner Keegan finally did break the deadlock of four against one by voting for the nominee for the position. But during a session or two later, and when all efforts to bring about confirmation failed, he joined the three stand-pat Commissioners against confirmation and voted for a new examination. And the clock of progress was again turned back.

It does not seem likely that the examination will be held this year although the Civil Service Commission should make every effort to conduct it within the next two or three weeks to enable Council to act upon a new nominee at its first session after New Year's.

In the meantime, Director Hitchcock should advance the program as much as possible and thereby make up, in some degree, for time already lost toward results which the people of Cumberland had reasons to hope would be noticeable by now.

Senator's Plan "To Protect Free Enterprise In Nation"

Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming, who will probably head the powerful Senate-House Economic Committee in the new Congress, has startled Washington with his plan "to protect free enterprise in this country."

In the Senator's view, prices are now controlled and products rationed by "a few giant corporations." He does not name the corporations but does say that prices and distribution of steel are fixed by a few companies. His plan is to impose an excess profits tax on corporations, at one-half the wartime rate; to have Government allocate basic materials in short supply, and to require Federal Trade Commission approval of any price increase after a 60 to 90-day "cooling-off" period and after hearings before FTC, the Department of Commerce and the Justice Department. The Senator does not call for wage control as part of Government price control. And he would punish any evasion of the new laws by a fine of $5,000 and imprisonment for one year.

Since the country's industries have been set by the ears by the Federal Trade Commission and court ban on the basing-point price-system—which seems very likely to reduce competition and make purchasers dependent on local monopolies—Mr. O'Mahoney will find an anxious audience for his plan to deliver the American economy over to Federal bureaucracy and red-tape. His interested readers will not be confined to business and industry. Many members of the new Congress will bitterly fight his plan for Government life-and-death powers over manufacturing and distribution. Mr. O'Mahoney knows that. He says the opposition in Congress is "avoiding the facts."

Speaking of facts, is it a fact that the narrow plurality of voters who elected Harry Truman favored the "new New Deal" advocated by Senator O'Mahoney? Did the Midwestern farmers, who held the balance of power in the election, want it? Did the Southern Democrats want it? Did even labor want these socialistic controls?

The country should be glad that this critical issue has been presented so bluntly even before the new Congress convenes.

Changing Times

The Pittsburgh says:

"A few years ago it would have been a lead joke, but now it's news—a delegation from Indianapolis came to Pittsburgh the other day to find out how to control smoke."

Let's hope that Cumberland will soon get such recognition.

Deduction of $30 from income taxes for every person who votes at a general election has been suggested. Some of the boys in Kansas City should do rather well.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Eating During Pregnancy

Pregnant women should be careful of their diet. If they eat too much, overweight is encouraged; and if they do not consider quality, vitamin deficiencies and other abnormalities may arise. The normal diet is usually sufficient, provided the number of calories are kept within reasonable limits.

Dr. Van Dellen

Carrying a baby increases a woman's need for foods rich in energy and building materials. During the first three months, the baby is going through the developmental stage in which the cells multiply and the tissues are taking shape. It is at this time that the framework is being made and it behooves every prospective mother to make certain that the proper material is used.

This phase is in contrast to the last three months when the babe is fully developed but needs to grow in size. After all, premature infants who come into the world at this time are no different from full term babies except that they are smaller. Consequently, during this period, the expectant mother should come as close as possible to "eating for two." This does not mean that she should eat for two mothers but for a mother and a tiny babe.

No more than 25 pounds above the ideal weight should be gained. This is not difficult if she pays more attention to the quality of food rather than the quantity. One quart of milk should be consumed daily. This fluid furnishes calcium and phosphorous along with proteins and vitamins, which are essential for growth. It can be taken as a beverage, cooked in foods, or eaten as cheese. A 1¼ inch cube of American cheese is equivalent to 6 ounces (¾ measuring cup) of milk. Whole milk is better than skim in the circumstances because it contains butterfat, which is rich in Vitamin A. The evaporated variety, diluted with an equal part of water, may be substituted. Condensed milk is sweetened hence provides more calories, which must be counted in the day's total.

Two or more servings of cooked vegetables should be ingested daily, one of which may be potato, boiled or baked in the skin. The latter is suggested because skins are rich in vitamin C and iron. Three servings of fruit or fruit juices are on the bill-of-fare. Since these foods contain much water and sugar, care must be taken not to use any more than necessary. Whole grain products are beneficial and three to four servings should be taken daily in the form of cereals and enriched bread. Each day, a liberal portion of lean meat is advised along with one egg. Butter, fortified margarine, and cod liver oil are suggested also. Two teaspoonfuls of the latter are ample or one of the better multiple vitamin products may be taken with each meal.

If weight increases too rapidly in spite of a sensible diet, restrictions in salt and fluid may be demanded. The total daily intake of all liquids should not exceed 8 glasses. This includes milk, tea, coffee, water, soups, and fruit juices. Fresh fruit contains considerable water; therefore, no more than the prescribed amount should be eaten.

No.

Gray Hair Vitamin

S.J. writes: My sister is taking folic acid to keep the color of her hair. Will it be helpful?

REPLY

I can find no scientific evidence to prove this contention. Several years ago, other fractions of vitamin B (para-aminobenzoic acid and pantothenic acid) enjoyed this reputation but failed in 97 per cent of the cases. Subsequently, they were discarded.

Possible Kin

H.S. writes: Is rheumatoid arthritis the same as rheumatic fever?

REPLY

Physicians have never considered the two conditions as the same but in the past few years, doubt has been cast upon the correctness of this opinion. The fact that some victims of rheumatoid arthritis encounter leakage of the heart (as occurs frequently in rheumatic fever) suggests that the two diseases are related. Furthermore, some rheumatic fever sufferers develop arthritis. In time, the answer to this question will be determined.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

"If I am elected" . . .

The Women's Research Guild believes that the world needs more joy. It has suggested that a new member be added to the President's cabinet .. . . secretary of entertainment.

Imagine all the comedians fighting for the post. Of course, Milton Berle would probably use everybody else's campaign speeches.

But this would be the first time in history that secret service men would accompany the candidates so they could protect the people.

I hear that Jack Benny was offered the post but declined to run. He's still holding out for Secretary of the Treasury.

Fred Allen heard about the proposition but he was cynical. He said, "What's new about comedians in Washington?"

And Eddie Cantor was all set run, but one phrase in the campaign platform frightened him away . . . "favorite son."

Truman Won't Change Cabinet Before January 20; Press Associations Omit One Side Of China Story; F.S.A. Makes Plans To Ease Doctor Shortage

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Talking to a close friend last week, President Truman confided that he did not intend to make any Cabinet changes before Jan. 20, at which time several Cabinet members would go.

However, Mr. Truman, who knows what it is to be broke, said he didn't want any Cabinet member to appear to be fired, for fear it might hurt his future earning power.

"And I'm not going to throw them out while the newspapers are sniping at me," he added. "When the newspapers stop picking my Cabinet for me, I'll pick my own."

News Omission

U. S. newspapers outside New York and Washington sometimes get mentally kicked around by their readers through no fault of their own. They are at the mercy of the press associations which frequently take their lead from the big Washington-New York dailies.

Here is a case in point.

Front-page news in the big metropolitan dailies recently was the report of ex-Senator D. Worth Clark of Idaho urging that several billion dollars be dumped into China. Clark had been sent to China by Republican members of the Senate Appropriations Committee and almost every newspaper front-paged his demand for Chinese aid.

However, not one paper carried the very important fact that ex-Senator Clark was a former partner in a law firm which was paid $100,000 by T. V. Soong, brother-in-law of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, for the express purpose of getting aid for China.

This, most people will agree, was also news.

Qualified Public Servant?

Mayor John F. Davis of Reading, Pa., tells this story on himself.

"Shortly after I was elected, I began to learn about the qualifications for government office. A friend dropped in an suggested that I give a job to George Schultze down in the 6th Ward.

"'What can he do?' I asked.

"'Nothing,' replied my friend.

"'Then let's hire him right away,' I said. 'We won't have to break him in.'"

Doctor Shortage

Unassuming Oscar Ewing, the Federal Security Administrator, has been doing some quiet digging on the all-important problem of getting more U. S. doctors, dentists and nurses.

"Even today, three years after the end of the war," says Ewing, "there are large sections of the country woefully lacking in doctors."

Meanwhile, medical schools are overcrowded and medical faculties are so understaffed that, if new medical schools were started, it would be difficult to find enough professors to staff them.

Ewing is working on a plan for Federal loans to medical students as one way to ease the doctor shortage. Local banks would grant tuition-loans to qualified students, with the Government guaranteeing the loans 100 per cent.

He is also hoping that the bill introduced by Senator Thomas of Utah will pass the next Congress giving Government subsidies to medical schools based on the number of students they turn out.

Note—Ewing blames the marriage-market for the nurse-shortage. Good nurses get married about as soon as they get trained. However, all is not lost, says Oscar; they make better wives.

Truman's Jaw

Comments W. F. Bond, Mississippi's Commissioner of Public Welfare: "Samson slew 1,000 Philistines with the jawbone of an ass—a record which stood for over 6,000 years, and was not broken until November, when Harry Truman with his own jawbone slew over 21,000,000 Republicans."

Labor Diplomat

President Truman's advisers are seriously considering the appointment of a labor leader as Assistant Secretary of State.

Hitherto, high State Department jobs have usually gone to Wall Streeters, as for instance the present Undersecretary of State Robert Lovett, a big investment banker, and Assistant Secretary Charles Saltzman, former vice president of the New York Stock Exchange.

However, most European Governments are now dominated by labor. In fact, the moderate labor leaders of Western Europe are considered the best bulwark against Russia, and it is vital that U. S. diplomats understand their point of view.

That's why a labor leader may be among the new State Department executives, also why Irving Brown, the International Labor Office representative in Europe, may be appointed U. S. Ambassador to a Western European country. Brown's quiet work among European labor leaders has done more to combat Sovietism than a whole crew of the old-fashioned U. S. diplomats combined.

Merry-Go-Round

Senator Glen Taylor, the prodigal Democrat, tells friends he "would be very happy to work as a Democrat in the new Congress." . . . . Even-year-old Jerilyn Jessel, daughter of Hollywood comedian Georgie Jessel, got some chewing gum from President Truman himself when she and her dad called at the White House last week. "I know who I'm going to vote for next year," chortled Jerilyn after the interview . . . . Secretary of State Marshall is sore as blazes over the pilgrimage of Madame Chiang Kai-shek. His pal, Secretary Forrestal, however, was in favor of her visit . . . . Marshall confides to friends that he is in a dilemma regarding China. He thinks the American people deserve to know the facts, yet if he tells the facts, the Government of Chiang Kai-shek will collapse . . . . A report leaked out recently that Senator Elbert Thomas, scholarly Utah Democrat, was writing a book on the rise and fall of the New Deal. See magazine promptly offered to buy the magazine rights. Replied Thomas: "I doubt whether an article on the rise and fall of the New Deal would be timely at this time since I do not anticipate its fall."

ON THE LINE

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK, Dec. 2—(INS)—Just think, some day no home will be complete without an "A.C. Poppy," a "cutie pie," a "juno" or "zeus," or "cheng and eng."

These are slightly stupefying instruments which have been developed in this dawn of the atomic age to warn a person when he comes too close to something dangerously radio-active.

Let the atomic war to end all atomic wars come along, and a fellow would be a prize jerk to come up out of his lead-lined bomb shelter to see what is left of his city or state, unless he dragged along one or more of these gadgets.

They were on display, with two dozen other ray-detection gadgets, this week in New York—a city which deservedly will be the first to go in the war of disintegration. This newest industry already has succumbed to the age's passion for streamlining and compactness.

A late model detector comes in several shades of plastic, can be worn as easily and unostentatiously as a hearing aid, and gives off an alarming ticking sound if the wearer is about to touch something which—if touched—would make his toes curl and back teeth spring loose. The 1949 model probably will sound chimes.

• — • — •

The overly-precious names which these slightly macabre instruments possess were given to them during that period of the development of the A-bomb when any person working on the object stood in fear of being re-assigned to a weather outpost in Greenland if he opened his yap.

They were code names fit to astound and bewilder the sleepless enemy, but the names stuck.

The detectors were shown at the conference on electronic instrumentation in nucleonics and medicine. There was no effort to sell the merchandise to home-owners, of course, nor any talk of what the stuff would mean to the survivors of an A-war. Instead, stress was laid on peace.

With the spread of radio-active isotopes in the medical, biological and mining fields it is now imperative that such gadgets be handy at all times to protect and guide scientists engaged in research work. It is possible, for instance, to impregnate an egg with isotopes and then trace it to the various parts of the body of the person who eats it and is enriched by its nutritiousness.

Medicine intended for the liver, let us say, can be similarly treated and the gadgets can prove whether the stuff actually reaches the liver and does any good once there.

Some of the devices on hand were designed for prospecting. This is one of the world's most bountiful lands. We have just about everything except white rock wells, but we have been able to find little or no uranium — without which no country of the future can adequately exist.

• — • — •

To augment the sleepless prospecting of government geologists the Atomic Energy Commission has posted prizes of $10,000 to any American who finds deposits of uranium. The only sure way of finding the junk is with one or more of the gadgets on view here this week.

Variations of these machines have actually been installed on the soft underbelly of airplanes which, in turn, have cruised countless miles over our good and badlands in search of the magic substance.

Don't ask me how any of the geegaws work. The simplest is the Geiger-counter, a sensitive tube which, when bombarded by the trillions of invisible particles flying out of a radio-active or ray-contaminated object, gives off a clicking warning.

Improvements range from a machine which actually counts the particles to tiny instruments which snap on to the vest pocket like a fountain pen and let you know, by means of a built-in needle and chart, just how "hot" you're getting.

We recall the unforgettably cautious men who walked, one step at a time, around the ruptured decks of the ships at Bikini a few days after the first A-blast there, pointing their camera-like Geigers at the decks, railings, wrecked gear and the like—and backing away in horror from, say, a perfectly innocent-looking port hole.

It was a grim preview of what it might be like to the man returning to his home after an a-bomb attack to inquire—by means of monstrously modern implements—whether he could ever live there again.

Business Men Should Not Let Policy Forming Go By Default

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—Business men, many of whom have been suffering from the shock of the election result and some of whom have gotten the mistaken impression that their advice isn't wanted in Washington, are being told to forget it—and come and make their viewpoints known.

The Truman Administration has taken cognizance of the wave of pessimism which recently swept the business community. Secretary of Commerce Sawyer went to particular pains to write this week a public address, which he submitted to President Truman, assuring business that there is no plot afoot to undermine the economic system with destructive legislation.

Similar expressions of reassurance may be forthcoming. The truth is that the Administration is much surprised at the reaction in some business quarters over the expectation of a sudden turn to radicalism. Possibly much of the talk in business circles stems from the outspoken predictions of an intent to wipe out the Taft-Hartley law and leave the one-sided Wagner Act in its place. Another source of concern is the proposal to restore the wartime excess-profits law.

Views Not Crystallized

On both these counts the Administration views have by no means crystallized. While it is certain that a law which will bear the names of Democrats instead of Republicans will replace the Taft-Hartley Act, it is not so certain that the one-sided Wagner law will be that substitute. Even if the labor leaders want such an extreme position, the Administration knows that such a proposal will not get by Congress where a majority who voted for the Taft-Hartley Act is still in power. Whatever law is passed will have to take account of the conflicting interests of labor unions and management. In the end, there will be repeal only is such a compromise is developed. To put it another way, the advocates of outright repeal without a substitute will be playing into the hands of those who want the Taft-Hartley Act to go untouched.

On excess-profits taxes, Senator O'Mahoney, one of the most powerful of the Democrats in the Senate, told the press after a visit to the President that an actual restoration of the wartime law on excess profits was not contemplated. He spoke of the need for writing a law that would not discourage new enterprises. This reveals an awareness of the whole problem of siphoning off into tax receipts any excess of profits without disturbing businesses in the growth stage. Mere percentage rates will not be of avail and could conceivably impair the whole economic structure. Some other formula has to be devised—and it is not easy. But the fact that the Administration indicates that it knows the complexity of the problem is reassuring in itself.

Not Accurate Reflection

More important than any other phase of the post-election mood of business is the report that some business men feel they have been cut off from Washington and that they should avoid the national capital as much as possible. This is probably not an accurate reflection at all of how the majority of business men feel but the report has gained ground here recently, especially as it has been asserted that some business men expect the Truman Administration, by radical legislation, involuntarily to create conditions that will bring about a recession and hence a political upheaval would result and a Republican Congress would come back in 1950.

The situation internationally is so serious that any holding back or reluctance by any economic group to cooperate in Washington just now can be injurious. The cooperation of every group is needed to make the economic system function on a voluntary basis, with government as a guide to what constitutes the public interest.

If a recession does come, there is always the possibility that a much more radical Congress may be elected in 1950 and that nationalization or some new forms of control of industry and business may result.

Business men who let the forming of policies here go by default will be making a serious mistake. The Administration is anxious to have the business viewpoint as well as the labor or agricultural viewpoint. It is a time for greater rather than less interest in government and more rather than less participation by business men in the councils of those here who make governmental policy on economic questions.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The Law of Nations

AFTER the downfall of Napoleon, Europe faced all the confusions which we face today. Napoleon had tried to reorganize the world to his liking. He sought a federation of states under himself, something that Stalin is trying to do today.

Opposed to Napoleon were those countries which he had failed to master and those which managed to liberate themselves. He was master of the world, creating states, appointing kings, changing forms of government.

Then he failed. The real cause for his failure will long be debated, but when it happened and he was a prisoner on St. Helena, Europe engaged in conference at Paris and Vienna and undoubtedly in other places to find a conclusion to a prolonged universal war. It was extraordinarily difficult and the nations were in conflict, even to their own detriment. The shock of Napoleonism did not readily abate. Napoleon was present in spirit at every conference as Hitler is present today.

The most curious character at these conferences was Talleyrand, renegade and married bishop of the Roman Catholic Church, Napoleon's Foreign Minister as he was now the Minister of Louis XVIII. He had survived the Revolution, Napoleon, and was now making a peace. He had his instructions from Louis, which he probably wrote to himself. I quote the essence of them from Ferrero's "The Reconstruction of Europe," I quote them because they apply today as poignantly as they did when Talleyrand made them his guide:

"The European nations do not live under moral or natural law alone but also under a law which they have invented and which gives the first law a sanction which it would otherwise lack; a law established by written conventions or by customs which are constantly, universally, and mutually observed, based always on mutual consent, whether expressed or tacit, and obligatory for all. This law is the law of nations.

"This law has two fundamental principles. One is that sovereignty cannot be acquired by the simple act of conquest, nor be transferred to the conqueror, if the sovereign does not cede it willingly. The other is that no title of sovereignty and consequently the law which proceeds therefrom, has any reality for other states, unless they recognize it."

Our own troubled times arise, of course, out of war and all that preceded the war, but more immediately they come from errors of judgement and misunderstanding of history at the preliminary conferences of Teheran, Yalta and Potsdam, the order JCS 1067 which implemented the Morgenthau Plan and the failure to make of the United Nations a true parliament of man.

The essential error was that the law of nations was abandoned. For it was substituted a series of deals, trades, transactions based upon the assumption that sovereignty is a matter of no importance, that lands and peoples can be moved about without their consent and against their interest. So we find Poland made a fief of Soviet Russia; Manchuria made into a Soviet sphere of influence. Korea divided in half between Soviet Russia and the United States. A line was drawn vertically across Europe which closed off a large part of the world to the rest of the world. One country became so large geographically and in manpower that it made a just peace impossible.

None of this was done with the consent of the countries or peoples involved. They were not present. For instance, China was not asked to come to Teheran, although Chiang Kai-shek was immediately after called to Cairo, where a declaration was made by Roosevelt, Churchill and Chiang which was violated at Yalta. De Gaulle was not at Yalta.

It is interesting that no matter what has since been tried ends in failure. The reason, of course, is that no principles guide the world today.

No contract can be written without basic and agreed principles, no treaty of peace can be written without basic and agreed principles. Without them, the representatives of nations are like blind men walking in a forest. Of course, they stumble at each step; they hit into obstacles; they soon strike at each other.

That is where we are, but we need not be. Once the principles of the law of nations are restored, the road will be a less onerous one.

Keep Adventuring

No matter what sort of life any of us may live, we should never let the spirit of adventure creep out. While life itself may be termed the Great Adventure, it is made up of endless adventures, wound about interests as endless.

Every job that we handle is an adventure. Every friend is one. Every hobby, no matter what, is also one. Every time that we have an idea, and start putting it to action, we are on our way to some new adventure, the result of which must wait upon our dream or imagination. The fact remains, however, that the more we adventure and explore, the more fascinating and thrilling life becomes.

We owe more to our adventures than we can ever repay. The Wright brothers merely went upon an adventure when they conceived the idea that a machine could be built that would fly in the air, and it was the spirit of adventure that first aroused Henry Ford and which led him into constructing his first buggy without a horse.

I once went through the old laboratory of Thomas Edison that Henry Ford reconstructed in his famous Greenfield Village, and was conducted around by the last living aid of Edison's, Dr. Francis Jehl. He showed me scores of inventions that Edison had started, leaving many others to carry on and improve, but Edison was always an adventurer—and always getting great fun and satisfaction from it.

Every time we read a book we adventure with the author. I have had many an adventure trying to discover the source for many a story that has become a famous book. And any collector of rare books can understand me when I say that there are few adventures quite so satisfying to a book lover as those that he experiences in the second-hand book shops.

How happy we all should be who have been born and reared in a free country—where adventuring is a habit early acquired, because no limit has ever been placed upon ambition in a free country. Like Ulysses—even in old age—we can still adventure. Even "beyond the seas"!

City's Smoke Control Program Again Stalled

Members of the City Council erupted and boiled over like so many volcanoes, spewed forth lava in the nature of innuendoes, sputtered something about qualifications and then proceeded to delay a real start on Cumberland's smoke abatement program for, what now looks like, the remainder of the year.

Everything that had been done to make way for a real beginning for cleansing the city's air of its smoke, fly ash, soot and whatever other impurities are impregnating it, was sidetracked during the special session of Council a day or so ago. Today, the program to improve the city's welfare, and which appeared so promising 18 months ago, is in the throes of its most severe setback all because of a lot of needless quibbling by City Commissioners over what qualifies a man to be deputy director.

If any member of the Council had any idea as to what qualifications are required he made no attempt to define them. The Commissioners showed no willingness to accept the assurances of Director Hitchcock that the person named would be fully trained within 30 days, and they were not willing that Mayor Post should assume the responsibility for the success or failure of his proposed appointee.

To be sure, all the blame for the delay in getting on with the effort to bring smoke and other dirt under control should not be placed on the Councilmen. Too much time has been frittered away since a smoke abatement engineer was named. Director Hitchcock realized soon after taking up his duties that he would require an assistant. But, instead of securing one within a reasonable time after initial preliminaries had been disposed of, he permitted this important addition to his organization to remain unfilled month after month. True, he set date after date as to when organizational work would be completed. But nothing happened until about two months ago when an office was finally opened.

Meanwhile, members of City Council did not seem to consider it their duty to press for action anywhere along the line. They gave no outward indication that they were insisting on a deputy being named or for the completion of any other portion of the set-up, including the naming of the advisory board called for in the anti-smoke ordinance. They recognized, in all probability, that this was the mayor's duty, as set forth in the ordinance. If that were so, then they should have adhered to that position when the Mayor attempted to fill the deputy post. Instead, the minute a name was submitted for confirmation by them they took an arbitrary attitude, more or less. And for several weeks they quibbled over it without once offering anything constructive to substantiate their position except to assert "I haven't anything against the man proposed for the job because I don't believe him qualified," or words to that effect.

Commissioner Keegan finally did break the deadlock of four against one by voting for the nominee for the position. But during a session or two later, and when all efforts to bring about confirmation failed, he joined the three stand-pat Commissioners against confirmation and voted for a new examination. And the clock of progress was again turned back.

It does not seem likely that the examination will be held this year although the Civil Service Commission should make every effort to conduct it within the next two or three weeks to enable Council to act upon a new nominee at its first session after New Year's.

In the meantime, Director Hitchcock should advance the program as much as possible and thereby make up, in some degree, for time already lost toward results which the people of Cumberland had reasons to hope would be noticeable by now.

Senator's Plan "To Protect Free Enterprise In Nation"

Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming, who will probably head the powerful Senate-House Economic Committee in the new Congress, has startled Washington with his plan "to protect free enterprise in this country."

In the Senator's view, prices are now controlled and products rationed by "a few giant corporations." He does not name the corporations but does say that prices and distribution of steel are fixed by a few companies. His plan is to impose an excess profits tax on corporations, at one-half the wartime rate; to have Government allocate basic materials in short supply, and to require Federal Trade Commission approval of any price increase after a 60 to 90-day "cooling-off" period and after hearings before FTC, the Department of Commerce and the Justice Department. The Senator does not call for wage control as part of Government price control. And he would punish any evasion of the new laws by a fine of $5,000 and imprisonment for one year.

Since the country's industries have been set by the ears by the Federal Trade Commission and court ban on the basing-point price-system—which seems very likely to reduce competition and make purchasers dependent on local monopolies—Mr. O'Mahoney will find an anxious audience for his plan to deliver the American economy over to Federal bureaucracy and red-tape. His interested readers will not be confined to business and industry. Many members of the new Congress will bitterly fight his plan for Government life-and-death powers over manufacturing and distribution. Mr. O'Mahoney knows that. He says the opposition in Congress is "avoiding the facts."

Speaking of facts, is it a fact that the narrow plurality of voters who elected Harry Truman favored the "new New Deal" advocated by Senator O'Mahoney? Did the Midwestern farmers, who held the balance of power in the election, want it? Did the Southern Democrats want it? Did even labor want these socialistic controls?

The country should be glad that this critical issue has been presented so bluntly even before the new Congress convenes.

Changing Times

The Pittsburgh says:

"A few years ago it would have been a lead joke, but now it's news—a delegation from Indianapolis came to Pittsburgh the other day to find out how to control smoke."

Let's hope that Cumberland will soon get such recognition.

Deduction of $30 from income taxes for every person who votes at a general election has been suggested. Some of the boys in Kansas City should do rather well.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Eating During Pregnancy

Pregnant women should be careful of their diet. If they eat too much, overweight is encouraged; and if they do not consider quality, vitamin deficiencies and other abnormalities may arise. The normal diet is usually sufficient, provided the number of calories are kept within reasonable limits.

Dr. Van Dellen

Carrying a baby increases a woman's need for foods rich in energy and building materials. During the first three months, the baby is going through the developmental stage in which the cells multiply and the tissues are taking shape. It is at this time that the framework is being made and it behooves every prospective mother to make certain that the proper material is used.

This phase is in contrast to the last three months when the babe is fully developed but needs to grow in size. After all, premature infants who come into the world at this time are no different from full term babies except that they are smaller. Consequently, during this period, the expectant mother should come as close as possible to "eating for two." This does not mean that she should eat for two mothers but for a mother and a tiny babe.

No more than 25 pounds above the ideal weight should be gained. This is not difficult if she pays more attention to the quality of food rather than the quantity. One quart of milk should be consumed daily. This fluid furnishes calcium and phosphorous along with proteins and vitamins, which are essential for growth. It can be taken as a beverage, cooked in foods, or eaten as cheese. A 1¼ inch cube of American cheese is equivalent to 6 ounces (¾ measuring cup) of milk. Whole milk is better than skim in the circumstances because it contains butterfat, which is rich in Vitamin A. The evaporated variety, diluted with an equal part of water, may be substituted. Condensed milk is sweetened hence provides more calories, which must be counted in the day's total.

Two or more servings of cooked vegetables should be ingested daily, one of which may be potato, boiled or baked in the skin. The latter is suggested because skins are rich in vitamin C and iron. Three servings of fruit or fruit juices are on the bill-of-fare. Since these foods contain much water and sugar, care must be taken not to use any more than necessary. Whole grain products are beneficial and three to four servings should be taken daily in the form of cereals and enriched bread. Each day, a liberal portion of lean meat is advised along with one egg. Butter, fortified margarine, and cod liver oil are suggested also. Two teaspoonfuls of the latter are ample or one of the better multiple vitamin products may be taken with each meal.

If weight increases too rapidly in spite of a sensible diet, restrictions in salt and fluid may be demanded. The total daily intake of all liquids should not exceed 8 glasses. This includes milk, tea, coffee, water, soups, and fruit juices. Fresh fruit contains considerable water; therefore, no more than the prescribed amount should be eaten.

No.

Gray Hair Vitamin

S.J. writes: My sister is taking folic acid to keep the color of her hair. Will it be helpful?

REPLY

I can find no scientific evidence to prove this contention. Several years ago, other fractions of vitamin B (para-aminobenzoic acid and pantothenic acid) enjoyed this reputation but failed in 97 per cent of the cases. Subsequently, they were discarded.

Possible Kin

H.S. writes: Is rheumatoid arthritis the same as rheumatic fever?

REPLY

Physicians have never considered the two conditions as the same but in the past few years, doubt has been cast upon the correctness of this opinion. The fact that some victims of rheumatoid arthritis encounter leakage of the heart (as occurs frequently in rheumatic fever) suggests that the two diseases are related. Furthermore, some rheumatic fever sufferers develop arthritis. In time, the answer to this question will be determined.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

"If I am elected" . . .

The Women's Research Guild believes that the world needs more joy. It has suggested that a new member be added to the President's cabinet . . . secretary of entertainment.

Imagine all the comedians fighting for the post. Of course, Milton Berle would probably use everybody else's campaign speeches.

But this would be the first time in history that secret service men would accompany the candidates so they could protect the people.

I hear that Jack Benny was offered the post but declined to run. He's still holding out for Secretary of the Treasury.

Fred Allen heard about the proposition but he was cynical. He said, "What's new about comedians in Washington?"

And Eddie Cantor was all set run, but one phrase in the campaign platform frightened him away . . . "favorite son."

Truman Won't Change Cabinet Before January 20; Press Associations Omit One Side Of China Story; F.S.A. Makes Plans To Ease Doctor Shortage

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Talking to a close friend last week, President Truman confided that he did not intend to make any Cabinet changes before Jan. 20, at which time several Cabinet members would go.

However, Mr. Truman, who knows what it is to be broke, said he didn't want any Cabinet member to appear to be fired, for fear it might hurt his future earning power.

"And I'm not going to throw them out while the newspapers are sniping at me," he added. "When the newspapers stop picking my Cabinet for me, I'll pick my own."

News Omission

U. S. newspapers outside New York and Washington sometimes get mentally kicked around by their readers through no fault of their own. They are at the mercy of the press associations which frequently take their lead from the big Washington-New York dailies.

Here is a case in point.

Front-page news in the big metropolitan dailies recently was the report of ex-Senator D. Worth Clark of Idaho urging that several billion dollars be dumped into China. Clark had been sent to China by Republican members of the Senate Appropriations Committee and almost every newspaper front-paged his demand for Chinese aid.

However, not one paper carried the very important fact that ex-Senator Clark was a former partner in a law firm which was paid $100,000 by T. V. Soong, brother-in-law of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, for the express purpose of getting aid for China.

This, most people will agree, was also news.

Qualified Public Servant?

Mayor John F. Davis of Reading, Pa., tells this story on himself.

"Shortly after I was elected, I began to learn about the qualifications for government office. A friend dropped in an suggested that I give a job to George Schultze down in the 6th Ward.

"'What can he do?' I asked.

"'Nothing,' replied my friend.

"'Then let's hire him right away,' I said. 'We won't have to break him in.'"

Doctor Shortage

Unassuming Oscar Ewing, the Federal Security Administrator, has been doing some quiet digging on the all-important problem of getting more U. S. doctors, dentists and nurses.

"Even today, three years after the end of the war," says Ewing, "there are large sections of the country woefully lacking in doctors."

Meanwhile, medical schools are overcrowded and medical faculties are so understaffed that, if new medical schools were started, it would be difficult to find enough professors to staff them.

Ewing is working on a plan for Federal loans to medical students as one way to ease the doctor shortage. Local banks would grant tuition-loans to qualified students, with the Government guaranteeing the loans 100 per cent.

He is also hoping that the bill introduced by Senator Thomas of Utah will pass the next Congress giving Government subsidies to medical schools based on the number of students they turn out.

Note—Ewing blames the marriage-market for the nurse-shortage. Good nurses get married about as soon as they get trained. However, all is not lost, says Oscar; they make better wives.

Truman's Jaw

Comments W. F. Bond, Mississippi's Commissioner of Public Welfare: "Samson slew 1,000 Philistines with the jawbone of an ass—a record which stood for over 6,000 years, and was not broken until November, when Harry Truman with his own jawbone slew over 21,000,000 Republicans."

Labor Diplomat

President Truman's advisers are seriously considering the appointment of a labor leader as Assistant Secretary of State.

Hitherto, high State Department jobs have usually gone to Wall Streeters, as for instance the present Undersecretary of State Robert Lovett, a big investment banker, and Assistant Secretary Charles Saltzman, former vice president of the New York Stock Exchange.

However, most European Governments are now dominated by labor. In fact, the moderate labor leaders of Western Europe are considered the best bulwark against Russia, and it is vital that U. S. diplomats understand their point of view.

That's why a labor leader may be among the new State Department executives, also why Irving Brown, the International Labor Office representative in Europe, may be appointed U. S. Ambassador to a Western European country. Brown's quiet work among European labor leaders has done more to combat Sovietism than a whole crew of the old-fashioned U. S. diplomats combined.

Merry-Go-Round

Senator Glen Taylor, the prodigal Democrat, tells friends he "would be very happy to work as a Democrat in the new Congress." . . . Even-year-old Jerilyn Jessel, daughter of Hollywood comedian Georgie Jessel, got some chewing gum from President Truman himself when she and her dad called at the White House last week. "I know who I'm going to vote for next year," chortled Jerilyn after the interview . . . . Secretary of State Marshall is sore as blazes over the pilgrimage of Madame Chiang Kai-shek. His pal, Secretary Forrestal, however, was in favor of her visit . . . . Marshall confides to friends that he is in a dilemma regarding China. He thinks the American people deserve to know the facts, yet if he tells the facts, the Government of Chiang Kai-shek will collapse . . . . A report leaked out recently that Senator Elbert Thomas, scholarly Utah Democrat, was writing a book on the rise and fall of the New Deal. See magazine promptly offered to buy the magazine rights. Replied Thomas: "I doubt whether an article on the rise and fall of the New Deal would be timely at this time since I do not anticipate its fall."

ON THE LINE

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK, Dec. 2—(INS)—Just think, some day no home will be complete without an "A.C. Poppy," a "cutie pie," a "juno" or "zeus," or "cheng and eng."

These are slightly stupefying instruments which have been developed in this dawn of the atomic age to warn a person when he comes too close to something dangerously radio-active.

Let the atomic war to end all atomic wars come along, and a fellow would be a prize jerk to come up out of his lead-lined bomb shelter to see what is left of his city or state, unless he dragged along one or more of these gadgets.

They were on display, with two dozen other ray-detection gadgets, this week in New York—a city which deservedly will be the first to go in the war of disintegration. This newest industry already has succumbed to the age's passion for streamlining and compactness.

A late model detector comes in several shades of plastic, can be worn as easily and unostentationsly as a hearing aid, and gives off an alarming ticking sound if the wearer is about to touch something which—if touched—would make his toes curl and back teeth spring loose. The 1949 model probably will sound chimes.

The overly-precious names which these slightly macabre instruments possess were given to them during that period of the development of the A-bomb when any person working on the object stood in fear of being re-assigned to a weather outpost in Greenland if he opened his yap.

They were code names fit to astound and bewilder the sleepless enemy, but the names stuck.

The detectors were shown at the conference on electronic instrumentation in nucleonics and medicine. There was no effort to sell the merchandise to home-owners, of course, nor any talk of what the stuff would mean to the survivors of an A-war. Instead, stress was laid on peace.

With the spread of radio-active isotopes in the medical, biological and mining fields it is now imperative that such gadgets be handy at all times to protect and guide scientists engaged in research work. It is possible, for instance, to impregnate an egg with isotopes and then trace it to the various parts of the body of the person who eats it and is enriched by its nutritiousness.

Medicine intended for the liver, let us say, can be similarly treated and the gadgets can prove whether the stuff actually reaches the liver and does any good once there.

Some of the devices on hand were designed for prospecting. This is one of the world's most bountiful lands. We have just about everything except white rock wells, but we have been able to find little or no uranium — without which no country of the future can adequately exist.

To augment the sleepless prospecting of government geologists the Atomic Energy Commission has posted prizes of $10,000 to any American who finds deposits of uranium. The only sure way of finding the junk is with one or more of the gadgets on view here this week.

Variations of these machines have actually been installed on the soft underbelly of airplanes which, in turn, have cruised countless miles over our good and badlands in search of the magic substance.

Don't ask me how any of the geegaws work. The simplest is the Geiger-counter, a sensitive tube which, when bombarded by the trillions of invisible particles flying out of a radio-active or ray-contaminated object, gives off a clicking warning.

Improvements range from a machine which actually counts the particles to tiny instruments which snap on to the vest pocket like a fountain pen and let you know, by means of a built-in needle and chart, just how "hot" you're getting.

We recall the unforgettably cautious men who walked, one step at a time, around the ruptured decks of the ships at Bikini a few days after the first A-blast there, pointing their camera-like Geigers at the decks, railings, wrecked gear and the like—and backing away in horror from, say, a perfectly innocent-looking port hole.

It was a grim preview of what it might be like to the man returning to his home after an a-bomb attack to inquire—by means of monstrously modern implements—whether he could ever live there again.

Business Men Should Not Let Policy Forming Go By Default

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—Business men, many of whom have been suffering from the shock of the election result and some of whom have gotten the mistaken impression that their advice isn't wanted in Washington, are being told to forget it—and come and make their viewpoints known.

The Truman Administration has taken cognizance of the wave of pessimism which recently swept the business community. Secretary of Commerce Sawyer went to particular pains to write this week a public address, which he submitted to President Truman, assuring business that there is no plot afoot to undermine the economic system with destructive legislation.

Similar expressions of reassurance may be forthcoming. The truth is that the Administration is much surprised at the reaction in some business quarters over the expectation of a sudden turn to radicalism. Possibly much of the talk in business circles stems from the outspoken predictions of an intent to wipe out the Taft-Hartley law and leave the one-sided Wagner Act in its place. Another source of concern is the proposal to restore the wartime excess-profits law.

Views Not Crystallized

On both these counts the Administration views have by no means crystallized. While it is certain that a law which will bear the names of Democrats instead of Republicans will replace the Taft-Hartley Act, it is not so certain that the one-sided Wagner law will be that substitute. Even if the labor leaders want such an extreme position, the Administration knows that such a proposal will not get by Congress where a majority who voted for the Taft-Hartley Act is still in power. Whatever law is passed will have to take account of the conflicting interests of labor unions and management. In the end, there will be repeal only is such a compromise is developed. To put it another way, the advocates of outright repeal without a substitute will be playing into the hands of those who want the Taft-Hartley Act to go untouched.

On excess-profits taxes, Senator O'Mahoney, one of the most powerful of the Democrats in the Senate, told the press after a visit to the President that an actual restoration of the wartime law on excess profits was not contemplated. He spoke of the need for writing a law that would not discourage new enterprises. This reveals an awareness of the whole problem of siphoning off into tax receipts any excess of profits without disturbing businesses in the growth stage. Mere percentage rates will not be of avail and could conceivably impair the whole economic structure. Some other formula has to be devised—and it is not easy. But the fact that the Administration indicates that it knows the complexity of the problem is reassuring in itself.

Not Accurate Reflection

More important than any other phase of the post-election mood of business is the report that some business men feel they have been cut off from Washington and that they should avoid the national capital as much as possible. This is probably not an accurate reflection at all of how the majority of business men feel but the report has gained ground here recently, especially as it has been asserted that some business men expect the Truman Administration, by radical legislation, involuntarily to create conditions that will bring about a recession and hence a political upheaval would result and a Republican Congress would come back in 1950.

The situation internationally is so serious that any holding back or reluctance by any economic group to cooperate in Washington just now can be injurious. The cooperation of every group is needed to make the economic system function on a voluntary basis, with government as a guide to what constitutes the public interest.

If a recession does come, there is always the possibility that a much more radical Congress may be elected in 1950 and that nationalization or some new forms of control of industry and business may result.

Business men who let the forming of policies here go by default will be making a serious mistake. The Administration is anxious to have the business viewpoint as well as the labor or agricultural viewpoint. It is a time for greater rather than less interest in government and more rather than less participation by business men in the councils of those here who make governmental policy on economic questions.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The Law of Nations

AFTER the downfall of Napoleon, Europe faced all the confusions which we face today.

Napoleon had tried to reorganize the world to his liking. He sought a federation of states under himself, something that Stalin is trying to do today.

Opposed to Napoleon were those countries which he had failed to master and those which managed to liberate themselves. He was master of the world, creating states, appointing kings, changing forms of government.

Then he failed. The real cause for his failure will long be debated, but when it happened and he was a prisoner on St. Helena, Europe engaged in conference at Paris and Vienna and undoubtedly in other places to find a conclusion to a prolonged universal war. It was extraordinarily difficult and the nations were in conflict, even to their own detriment. The shock of Napoleonism did not readily abate. Napoleon was present in spirit at every conference as Hitler is present today.

The most curious character at these conferences was Talleyrand, renegade and married bishop of the Roman Catholic Church. Napoleon's Foreign Minister as he was now the Minister of Louis XVIII. He had survived the Revolution, Napoleon, and was now making a peace. He had his instructions from Louis, which he probably wrote to himself. I quote the essence of them from Ferrero's "The Reconstruction of Europe," I quote them because they apply today as poignantly as they did when Talleyrand made them his guide:

"The European nations do not live under moral or natural law alone but also under a law which they have invented and which gives the first law a sanction which it would otherwise lack; a law established by written conventions or by customs which are constantly, universally, and mutually observed, based always on mutual consent, whether expressed or tacit, and obligatory for all. This law is the law of nations.

"This law has two fundamental principles. One is that sovereignty cannot be acquired by the simple act of conquest, nor be transferred to the conqueror, if the sovereign does not cede it willingly. The other is that no title of sovereignty and consequently the law which proceeds therefrom, has any reality for other states, unless they recognize it."

Our own troubled times arise, of course, out of war and all that preceded the war, but more immediately they come from errors of judgement and misunderstanding of history at the preliminary conferences of Teheran, Yalta and Potsdam, the order JCS 1067 which implemented the Morgenthau Plan and the failure to make of the United Nations a true parliament of man.

The essential error was that the law of nations was abandoned. For it was substituted a series of deals, trades, transactions based upon the assumption that sovereignty is a matter of no importance, that lands and peoples can be moved about without their consent and against their interest. So we find Poland made a fief of Soviet Russia; Manchuria made into a Soviet sphere of influence, Korea divided in half between Soviet Russia and the United States. A line was drawn vertically across Europe which closed off a large part of the world to the rest of the world. One country became so large geographically and in manpower that it made a just peace impossible.

None of this was done with the consent of the countries or peoples involved. They were not present. For instance, China was not asked to come to Teheran, although Chiang Kai-shek was immediately after called to Cairo, where a declaration was made by Roosevelt, Churchill and Chiang which was violated at Yalta. De Gaulle was not at Yalta.

It is interesting that no matter what has since been tried ends in failure. The reason, of course, is that no principles guide the world today.

No contract can be written without basic and agreed principles, no treaty of peace can be written without basic and agreed principles. Without them, the representatives of nations are like blind men walking in a forest. Of course, they stumble at each step; they hit into obstacles; they soon strike at each other.

That is where we are, but we need not be. Once the principles of the law of nations are restored, the road will be a less onerous one.

Keep Adventuring

No matter what sort of life any of us may live, we should never let the spirit of adventure creep out. While life itself may be termed the Great Adventure, it is made up of endless adventures, wound about interests as endless.

Every job that we handle is an adventure. Every friend is one. Every hobby, no matter what, is also one. Every time that we have an idea, and start putting it to action, we are on our way to some new adventure, the result of which must wait upon our dream or imagination. The fact remains, however, that the more we adventure and explore, the more fascinating and thrilling life becomes.

We owe more to our adventures than we can ever repay. The Wright brothers merely went upon an adventure when they conceived the idea that a machine could be built that would fly in the air, and it was the spirit of adventure that first aroused Henry Ford and which led him into constructing his first buggy without a horse.

I once went through the old laboratory of Thomas Edison that Henry Ford reconstructed in his famous Greenfield Village, and was conducted around by the last living aid of Edison's, Dr. Francis Jehl. He showed me scores of inventions that Edison had started, leaving many others to carry on and improve, but Edison was always an adventurer—and always getting great fun and satisfaction from it.

Every time we read a book we adventure with the author. I have had many an adventure trying to discover the source for many a story that has become a famous book. And any collector of rare books can understand me when I say that there are few adventures quite so satisfying to a book lover as those that he experiences in the second-hand book shops.

How happy we all should be who have been born and reared in a free country—where adventuring is a habit early acquired, because no limit has ever been placed upon ambition in a free country. Like Ulysses—even in old age—we can still adventure. Even "beyond the seas"!

Sledding Areas To Be Roped Off

Under the guidance of various playground associations throughout the city, nine streets will be roped off for sledding this year, Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn announced yesterday.

Grand Avneue from Oldtown Road to Second Street, Mrs. Bernard R. Fleigle, 210 Pennsylvania Avenue, representative of the Penn Avenue group; Oak Street from Browning to Second Streets, Mrs. Vivian L. Turley, 122 Springdale Street, Virginia Avenue; Maple Street south of Oldtown Road, Bernard F. Bealky, 39 North Hampshire Avenue, Mapleside.

Central Avenue from Monroe Street to Willowbrook Road, and Frost Avenue from Leiper Street to Shades Lane, Robert J. Taylor, 635 Baltimore Avenue, East Side; Pine Avenue from Monroe Street to the intersection of Central Avenue, Miss Madah E. Topson, 344 Central Avenue, Pine Avenue.. Marshall Street from Bedford to Frederick Streets, and Warren Street from Bedford to Frederick Streets, James E. Sills, 404 Hill Street, Gephart.

Chestnut Street from Independence to Valley Streets, Mrs. N. H. Miller, 422 Walnut Street, Columbia Street; Sylvan Avenue between Piedmont Avenue and Franklin Street, Mrs. Margaret Diehl, Holland Street extended, North End, and the upper part of Gephart Drive from Ridgedale Avenue to Green Street, and also The Dingle, Mrs. F. Bruce Fable, 817 Braddock Road, Mt. Royal.

The Virginia Avenue association has also requested that Springdale Street be roped off between First and Second Streets for small children as the other street is too fast for beginners.

Chief Flynn said the sponsors have assumed charge of the project to help curb sledding mishaps and look after the children in general. He offered the following rules to be observed by sledders:

Do not run and slam your sled when starting because many persons have slipped and seriously injured themselves while doing this; do not ride one on top of the other as most accidents that occur are caused by this action; do not try to ram another sled; keep clear of the track while returning with your sled, and be careful of small children on the track.

Bittner Given 20 Day Jail Term

A 20-day jail sentence was meted out to William A. Bittner, 208 Maryland Avenue, in Trial Magistrates Court yesterday when he was unable to pay a $25.75 fine after pleading guilty to operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent.

Authorities said Bittner took the car of David Thomas Oates, 310 Waverly Terrace, from the parking lot at Baltimore and Park Streets about 9 p. m. Tuesday. The vehicle was found overturned on its top near the intersection of Maryland Avenue and Oldtown Road a few hours later.

Bittner, according to police, said he drove around town for awhile and picked up a friend on Baltimore Street before heading toward South Cumberland. After the crash in the 900-block Maryland Avenue, both fled from the demolished machine but Bittner was arrested yesterday morning. His companion has not been taken into custody.

Lt. James E. Van, who investigated, said the wrecked car also caused considerable property damage.

Sledding Areas To Be Roped Off

Under the guidance of various playground associations throughout the city, nine streets will be roped off for sledding this year, Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn announced yesterday.

Grand Avneue from Oldtown Road to Second Street, Mrs. Bernard R. Fleigle, 210 Pennsylvania Avenue, representative of the Penn Avenue group; Oak Street from Browning to Second Streets, Mrs. Vivian L. Turley, 122 Springdale Street, Virginia Avenue; Maple Street south of Oldtown Road, Bernard P. Bealky, 39 North Hampshire Avenue, Mapleside.

Central Avenue from Monroe Street to Willowbrook Road, and Frost Avenue from Leiper Street to Shades Lane, Robert J. Taylor, 635 Baltimore Avenue, East Side; Pine Avenue from Monroe Street to the intersection of Central Avenue, Miss Madah E. Topson, 344 Central Avenue, Pine Avenue.. Marshall Street from Bedford to Frederick Streets, and Warren Street from Bedford to Frederick Streets, James E. Sills, 404 Hill Street, Gephart.

Chestnut Street from Independence to Valley Streets, Mrs. N. H. Miller, 422 Walnut Street, Columbia Street; Sylvan Avenue between Piedmont Avenue and Franklin Street, Mrs. Margaret Diehl, Holland Street extended, North End, and the upper part of Gephart Drive from Ridgedale Avenue to Green Street, and also The Dingle, Mrs. F. Bruce Fable, 817 Braddock Road, Mt. Royal.

The Virginia Avenue association has also requested that Springdale Street be roped off between First and Second Streets for small children as the other street is too fast for beginners.

Chief Flynn said the sponsors have assumed charge of the project to help curb sledding mishaps and look after the children in general. He offered the following rules to be observed by sledders:

Do not run and slam your sled when starting because many persons have slipped and seriously injured themselves while doing this; do not ride one on top of the other as most accidents that occur are caused by this action; do not try to ram another sled; keep clear of the track while returning with your sled, and be careful of small children on the track.

Bittner Given 20 Day Jail Term

A 20-day jail sentence was meted out to William A. Bittner, 208 Maryland Avenue, in Trial Magistrates Court yesterday when he was unable to pay a $25.75 fine after pleading guilty to operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent.

Authorities said Bittner took the car of David Thomas Oates, 310 Waverly Terrace, from the parking lot at Baltimore and Park Streets about 9 p. m. Tuesday. The vehicle was found overturned on its top near the intersection of Maryland Avenue and Oldtown Road a few hours later.

Bittner, according to police, said he drove around town for awhile and picked up a friend on Baltimore Street before heading toward South Cumberland. After the crash in the 900-block Maryland Avenue, both fled from the demolished machine but Bittner was arrested yesterday morning. His companion has not been taken into custody.

Lt. James E. Van, who investigated, said the wrecked car also caused considerable property damage.

Police Car Driver Ordered To Court

BALTIMORE, Dec. 2— (AP) — A state police car was involved in a minor accident early today and the driver was ordered to appear in court on charges of reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident.

The driver was booked as Edward M. Johnson. Maj. Edward McKay Johnson, 62, is second in command of the Maryland State Police.

Patrolmen Leroy F. Davis and Howard Lutz reported they were called to the scene, in northwest Baltimore, at 12:28 a. m.

They said they learned from a witness that a Chrysler coupe owned by the state and assigned to the state police bumped into the left rear of a parked car and continued on without stopping. The parked car was not badly damaged.

Col. Beverly Ober, superintendent of the state police, said he has been advised of the accident and is making an investigation. M. Joseph Wallace, Chief inspector of the Baltimore police, said he also is making an inquiry.

Doctors Enter Politics To Fight Insurance Plan

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 2 (AP) — The American Medical Association is asking its 140,000 member doctors to go into local and state politics to oppose compulsory and federal medical insurance—with authority to spend $3,500,000.

"This is the grass roots approach," a medical spokesman explained.

Each county medical society is authorized to assess its members $25 each. The action was taken yesterday in secret, and announced today after reporters had learned of it.

The county societies are independent, but usually follow AMA advice. They have organized state societies, which elect the trustees and house of delegates of the AMA.

Truman Plans To Attend All-Negro Football Game

NORFLOK, Va., Dec. 2—(AP)—President Truman has accepted tentatively an invitation to attend an all-negro football game at Foreman Field during his visit to Norfolk Saturday, it was revealed tonight.

The game, a charity event, will be sponsored by the Shriners' Arabia Temple No. 12, Herman J. Harris, an official of the lodge, extended the invitation to the President three weeks ago.

Harris said tonight the presidential secretary had announced Mr. Truman's approval of the plan, subject to a final decision by the Secret Service.

The Russians have barred voting in their sectors of the city in the Sunday elections scheduled by the legally-elected city government.

Jelisarov assured the rump government the Soviet comand will provide it with all the assistance and support necessary to carry out its functions.

His statement was an indirect answer to the note of the three western military governors asking Soviet Comander Marshal Vassily Sokolovsky if the separate Communist government had been set up with his approval.

The Western authorities have refused recognition of the rump government. They have withdrawn liaison officers from the central city hall in the Soviet sector which is now occupied by the Communist government.

A nurse at the hospital said Thomas and Stanberry were in a serious condition. She said Mrs. Duggan and Mrs. Preasman were painfully injured but said their condition was not serious.

Both Bennett and Phillips were arrested and are in the Bradley County jail. They are charged with assault with intent to murder, said Sheriff Cash. Bond has been set at $5,000.

President Says

There have been many reports that Marshall wanted to retire, also Forrestal. Also, some of the President's advisers are known to feel that certain members of the Cabinet did not do as much politically in the 1948 campaign as they might have.

On the question of German cartels, Mr. Truman harked back to his senatorial experience of investigating these industrial combines and their plans for dividing up the world's markets.

To a direct query about the possibility of German cartels getting control of German industry, Mr. Truman said that wasn't going to happen as long as he was President. He added he knew these big industrial combines tried to help us lose the war.

Mr. Truman was not specific about plans for curtailing lobbyists, but he said there is a vast difference between a citizen talking about what he wants of government, and a paid lobbyist working for his employer's aims.

What about people lobbying for a Truman program? He was asked. Oh, said Mr. Truman with a wide grin, we'd call them representatives of the people.

The President told reporters to wait for his January messages to Congress to learn what he is going to recommend about such matters as excess profits taxes.

Truman Proud

dent said that is a matter for the House Democrats as a whole to decide.

Another questioner wanted to know if he were in a forgiving mood.

That's right, Mr. Truman retorted, smiling, but quickly amended by saying the word is not forgiving. He said he is not angry with anyone.

Mrs. Elisabeth May Craig, correspondent for Maine newspapers, sought elaboration. The President laughed and then got a roar from the crowd when he said he did not know of anyone he had to forgive—except Maine for not going Democratic.

What helped most to win the election? Everybody in the Democratic setup helped. As soon as the people got the facts they voted right. They couldn't get the facts from columns.

To whom do you give the most credit? The farmers, labor, Sen. Barkley, Secretary of Agriculture Brannan, Secretary of Labor Tobin, and a whole list of others.

How about your opponent? He was my greatest asset.

Champion Cattle Sell For $29,402

CHICAGO, Dec. 2 (AP)—A wealthy Texas businessman paid record prices today for grand champion cattle at the 49th International Livestock Exposition.

Glenn McCarthy, 40-year-old Houston oil man, rancher, movie producer and hotel owner, paid a total of $29,402 for the grand and reserve grand champion steers and the grand champion carload of baby beeves.

Tall and bareheaded, the Texan said the prize cattle would be served to guests at the opening of his Shamrock Hotel in Houston, March 17. Prices will be "normal," he said.

The grand champion, a 1,200 pound Aberdeen-Angus shown by C. E. Yoder and Sons, Muscatine, Ia., brought $10.75 a pound. The previous high prices for a grand champion at the International was $10.50 in 1946.

The reserve grand champion, Texo, a 1,290 pound Hereford fattened by members of the Pecos County 4-H Club of Fort Stockton, Tex., sold for $4 a pound, 75 cents more than the 1947 record.

McCarthy then picked up another 15 head, paying 77 cents a pound for Karl Hoffman's prize load of 15 Herefords.

said meat should be considerably more plentiful in the fall and winter of 1949. That should bring prices down, it said.

Among other bellwethers indicating a downtrend in the high cost of living, the Associated Press index of wholesale commodity prices edged lower to 179.58 per cent of the 1926 average, compared with 180.14 a week ago and the peak of 208.14 last January 9.

Civil Rights Program Given Cold Shoulder

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 (AP)—The Labor Department conference on state labor legislation refused today to declare itself in favor of enacting President Truman's civil rights program.

The touchy civil rights issue, which cost the President the electoral votes of four states, was injected suddenly in the concluding session of an otherwise harmonious conference.

A resolution endorsing the President's program was rejected, 21 to 23.

It was introduced by Harry Kranz, Newark, representing the New Jersey CIO Council, as the last item of business. The big conference room was still crowded but only 44 voting delegates — made up of state labor commissioners and union leaders appointed to the conference by various state governors — remained on hand to cast ballots.

The Communist radio, heard in Nanking, said Suchow fell at 8 p. m., Wednesday. It gave no details.

Pilots of Claire Chennault's China Air Transport line, who had been dropping food to Suchow, said they had seen the Communists within one mile of the city Wednesday. Refugess were streaming west, they said, and the government garrison was pulling out to the south.

The government's military spokesman, Gen. Teng Wen-Yu, did not concede abandonment of Suchow, but said:

"As the battle of Suchow has drawn to an end, the city has lost its strategic importance, especially when all government units in that area have been concentrated for a southward advance."

Lighting Of Huge Star Launches Yuletide Season In Bethlehem, Pa.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Dec. 2 (INS) — A 100-foot star atop South Mountain flashed into brilliance visible for 20 miles tonight, inaugurating the Yuletide season in Bethlehem—"the Christmas city of the United States."

Two pretty student nurses—twin granddaughters of Mayor Robert Pfeifle — flicked an electric switch in Zinzendorf Square.

Immediately Bethlehem was turned into a sparkling brooch of 30,000 multi-colored lights twisted in laurel ropes and entwined in Christmas trees.

The steel town of Bethlehem has taken its Christmases seriously ever since it was founded 207 years ago.

It was in 1741 that the first band of Moravians came to the spot where Bethlehem now stands to escape Europe's religious oppression. On Christmas eve of that year, Count Nicholas Zinzendorf and his followers huddled in a crude hut and sang old Christmas carols.

From one of the hymns — "Not Jerusalem, Lowly Bethlehem"—they selected the name of the town, hoping that America would open a new life to them just as the birth of Christ had opened a new way of life many years before.

Teen-Age Trio Arrested Following Wild Party

NEW YORK, Dec. 2 (AP) — Three teen agers, one the daughter of a wealthy advertising executive, were arrested today as an aftermath of what police said was a wild drinking party at the home of the girl's absent parents.

All three were charged with illegal possession of weapons.

Paroled after a Felony Court hearing was Barbara Kemp, 16, of suburban Hollis, while Charles Crawofrd, 19 and Charles David, 16, a negro, were held in $2,500 bail each for a hearing December 8.

Parents of the girl told police they had given her "everything her heart could desire," and couldn't understand why it happened."

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 2 (AP) — The American Medical Association is asking its 140,000 member doctors to go into local and state politics to oppose compulsory and federal medical insurance—with authority to spend $3,500,000.

"This is the grass roots approach," a medical spokesman explained.

Each county medical society is authorized to assess its members $25 each. The action was taken yesterday in secret, and announced today after reporters had learned of it.

The county societies are independent, but usually follow AMA advice. They have organized state societies, which elect the trustees and house of delegates of the AMA.

Truman Plans To Attend All-Negro Football Game

NORFLOK, Va., Dec. 2—(AP)—President Truman has accepted tentatively an invitation to attend an all-negro football game at Foreman Field during his visit to Norfolk Saturday, it was revealed tonight.

The game, a charity event, will be sponsored by the Shriners' Arabia Temple No. 12, Herman J. Harris, an official of the lodge, extended the invitation to the President three weeks ago.

Harris said tonight the presidential secretary had announced Mr. Truman's approval of the plan, subject to a final decision by the Secret Service.

Tension Rises

The Russians have barred voting in their sectors of the city in the Sunday elections scheduled by the legally-elected city government.

Jelisarov assured the rump government the Soviet comand will provide it with all the assistance and support necessary to carry out its functions.

His statement was an indirect answer to the note of the three western military governors asking Soviet Comander Marshal Vassily Sokolovsky if the separate Communist government had been set up with his approval.

The Western authorities have refused recognition of the rump government. They have withdrawn liaison officers from the central city hall in the Soviet sector which is now occupied by the Communist government.

He said the negro sat down beside Bennett and that Bennett told him to move. When the negro refused to move a,cording to the driver, both men jumped out of their seats and began firing.

A nurse at the hospital said Thomas and Stanberry were in a serious condition. She said Mrs. Duggan and Mrs. Preasman were painfully injured but said their condition was not serious.

Both Bennett and Phillips were arrested and are in the Bradley County jail. They are charged with assault with intent to murder, said Sheriff Cash. Bond has been set at $5,000.

Also approved were sections calling for the Jews and Arabs to seek agreement either by direct talks or through the conciliation commission, and for the commission to take over the acting United Nations mediator's job.

Israel's application for United Nations membership produced sharp disagreement between the United States and Britain in the Security Council.

American Delegate Philip C. Jessup supported Israel completely.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, of Britain, described the Jewish state's application as premature.

President Says

There have been many reports that Marshall wanted to retire, also Forrestal. Also, some of the President's advisers are known to feel that certain members of the Cabinet did not do as much politically in the 1948 campaign as they might have.

On the question of German cartels, Mr. Truman harked back to his senatorial experience of investigating these industrial combines and their plans for dividing up the world's markets.

To a direct query about the possibility of German cartels getting control of German industry, Mr. Truman said that wasn't going to happen as long as he was President. He added he knew these big industrial combines tried to help us lose the war.

Mr. Truman was not specific about plans for curtailing lobbyists, but he said there is a vast difference between a citizen talking about what he wants of government, and a paid lobbyist working for his employer's aims.

What about people lobbying for a Truman program? He was asked. Oh, said Mr. Truman with a wide grin, we'd call them representatives of the people.

The President told reporters to wait for his January messages to Congress to learn what he is going to recommend about such matters as excess profits taxes.

Truman Proud

dent said that is a matter for the House Democrats as a whole to decide.

Another questioner wanted to know if he were in a forgiving mood.

That's right, Mr. Truman retorted, smiling, but quickly amended by saying the word is not forgiving. He said he is not angry with anyone.

Mrs. Elisabeth May Craig, correspondent for Maine newspapers, sought elaboration. The President laughed and then got a roar from the crowd when he said he did not know of anyone he had to forgive—except Maine for not going Democratic.

What helped most to win the election? Everybody in the Democratic setup helped. As soon as the people got the facts they voted right. They couldn't get the facts from columns.

To whom do you give the most credit? The farmers, labor, Sen. Barkley, Secretary of Agriculture Brannan, Secretary of Labor Tobin, and a whole list of others.

How about your opponent? He was my greatest asset.

Champion Cattle Sell For $29,402

CHICAGO, Dec. 2 (AP)—A wealthy Texas businessman paid record prices today for grand champion cattle at the 49th International Livestock Exposition.

Glenn McCarthy, 40-year-old Houston oil man, rancher, movie producer and hotel owner, paid a total of $29,402 for the grand and reserve grand champion steers and the grand champion carload of baby beeves.

Tall and bareheaded, the Texan said the prize cattle would be served to guests at the opening of his Shamrock Hotel in Houston, March 17. Prices will be "normal," he said.

The grand champion, a 1,200 pound Aberdeen-Angus shown by C. E. Yoder and Sons, Muscatine, Ia., brought $10.75 a pound. The previous high prices for a grand champion at the International was $10.50 in 1946.

The reserve grand champion, Texo, a 1,290 pound Hereford fattened by members of the Pecos County 4-H Club of Fort Stockton, Tex., sold for $4 a pound, 75 cents more than the 1947 record.

McCarthy then picked up another 15 head, paying 77 cents a pound for Karl Hoffman's prize load of 15 Herefords.

said meat should be considerably more plentiful in the fall and winter of 1949. That should bring prices down, it said.

Among other bellwethers indicating a downtrend in the high cost of living, the Associated Press index of wholesale commodity prices edged lower to 179.58 per cent of the 1926 average, compared with 180.14 a week ago and the peak of 208.14 last January 9.

Civil Rights Program Given Cold Shoulder

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 (AP)—The Labor Department conference on state labor legislation refused today to declare itself in favor of enacting President Truman's civil rights program.

The touchy civil rights issue, which cost the President the electoral votes of four states, was injected suddenly in the concluding session of an otherwise harmonious conference.

A resolution endorsing the President's program was rejected, 21 to 23.

It was introduced by Harry Kranz, Newark, representing the New Jersey CIO Council, as the last item of business. The big conference room was still crowded but only 44 voting delegates — made up of state labor commissioners and union leaders appointed to the conference by various state governors — remained on hand to cast ballots.

plied that heads of missions also all would remain in Nanking.

The Communist radio, heard in Nanking, said Suchow fell at 8 p. m., Wednesday. It gave no details.

Pilots of Claire Chennault's China Air Transport line, who had been dropping food to Suchow, said they had seen the Communists within one mile of the city Wednesday. Refugess were streaming west, they said, and the government garrison was pulling out to the south.

The government's military spokesman, Gen. Teng Wen-Yu, did not concede abandonment of Suchow, but said:

"As the battle of Suchow has drawn to an end, the city has lost its strategic importance, especially when all government units in that area have been concentrated for a southward advance."

Lighting Of Huge Star Launches Yuletide Season In Bethlehem, Pa.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Dec. 2 (INS) — A 100-foot star atop South Mountain flashed into brilliance visible for 20 miles tonight, inaugurating the Yuletide season in Bethlehem—"the Christmas city of the United States."

Two pretty student nurses—twin granddaughters of Mayor Robert Pfeifle — flicked an electric switch in Zinzendorf Square.

Immediately Bethlehem was turned into a sparkling brooch of 30,000 multi-colored lights twisted in laurel ropes and entwined in Christmas trees.

The steel town of Bethlehem has taken its Christmases seriously ever since it was founded 207 years ago.

It was in 1741 that the first band of Moravians came to the spot where Bethlehem now stands to escape Europe's religious oppression. On Christmas eve of that year, Count Nicholas Zinzendorf and his followers huddled in a crude hut and sang old Christmas carols.

From one of the hymns — "Not Jerusalem, Lowly Bethlehem"—they selected the name of the town, hoping that America would open a new life to them just as the birth of Christ had opened a new way of life many years before.

Teen-Age Trio Arrested Following Wild Party

NEW YORK, Dec. 2 (AP) — Three teen agers, one the daughter of a wealthy advertising executive, were arrested today as an aftermath of what police said was a wild drinking party at the home of the girl's absent parents.

All three were charged with illegal possession of weapons.

Paroled after a Felony Court hearing was Barbara Kemp, 16, of suburban Hollis, while Charles Crawofrd, 19 and Charles David, 16, a negro, were held in $2,500 bail each for a hearing December 8.

Parents of the girl told police they had given her "everything her heart could desire," and couldn't understand why it happened."

MOSCOW—(AP)—The Ministry of Education of the Russian Republic and the Ministry of Higher Education of the USSR have called a special conference in Moscow to be devoted to revisions in teaching in the Soviet Union of biology and related disciplines. The conference is being attended by heads of biological faculties of normal and teachers' schools.

"Izvestia" stated that a report will be made on Michurinist Teachings on Inheritance and Its Changes." This conference is one of numerous meetings which have been held recently as a part of the campaign of propagandizing the teachings of Michurin and Lysenko in biology. These teachings, which hold that living organisms can inherit acquired characteristics, deny the tenet of Morganist-Mendelian genetics that germ plasm is unaffected by the environment of the living organism which bears it.

Train Strikes Car Injuring Four

ROMNEY, W. Va.,—A B. and O. train struck a car containing five young women Tuesday at Vanderlip Crossing causing injury to four of the occupants.

The driver, Miss Regina May Riggleman, 18, Fisher, reported that the setting sun blinded her and she did not see the train until it was too late to avoid hitting it.

She suffered a leg injury while Miss Betty Halterman, 17, received a head laceration, bruises over both eyes and leg injuries; Miss Violet Shoemaker, 18, laceration over right eye, and Miss Imogene Robinette, 19, neck injuries. Another occupant, Miss Betty Harper, was uninjured. The last four are residents of Moorefield.

The injured girls were given medical treatment by Dr. R. W. Dailey, of Romney, who was waiting on the other side of the crossing for the train to pass.

Spain Plans New Airport

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain—(AP)—A budget of 50 million pesetas (about $4,800,000) has been set up for the construction of a modern airport to serve this resort city and summer capital of Spain.

The airport, scheduled for completion in 1953, will be situated at Fuenterrabia, near the international bridge between Hendaye and Irun. Three landing strips are planned, one of 2,200 yards and two others of 1,500 and 1,000 yards.

Colorado has 51 mountain peaks rising about 14,000 feet.

Train Strikes Car Injuring Four

ROMNEY, W. Va.—A B. and O. train struck a car containing five young women Tuesday at Vanderlip Crossing causing injury to four of the occupants.

The driver, Miss Regina May Riggleman, 18, Fisher, reported that the setting sun blinded her and she did not see the train until it was too late to avoid hitting it.

She suffered a leg injury while Miss Betty Halterman, 17, received a head laceration, bruises over both eyes and leg injuries; Miss Violet Shoemaker, 18, laceration over right eye, and Miss Imogene Robinette, 19, neck injuries. Another occupant, Miss Betty Harper, was uninjured. The last four are residents of Moorefield.

The injured girls were given medical treatment by Dr. R. W. Dailey, of Romney, who was waiting on the other side of the crossing for the train to pass.

Adds Specs To Sky

SYDNEY—(AP)—While a tourist from Canada was enjoying a swim at Green Island on the Great Australian Barrier Reef, a large seagull swooped down on his glasses, on top of his clothes, and flew out to sea with them.

The actual solar day is 24 hours long only four times a year.

PE Financing Plan Approved

Financing plans of the Potomac Edison Company, involving sale of $5,500,000 in first mortgage bonds, 30,000 shares of cumulative preferred stock and 75,000 shares of common stock have been cleared by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

The bonds and preferred stock will be publicly offered at competitive bidding. The date for such offering has been tentatively set for next Monday. Several of the leading Baltimore investment firms are expected to participate in the bidding.

West Penn Electric Company, New York holding company, will buy the common stock offering of the subsidiary.

MIRROR Of Your MIND

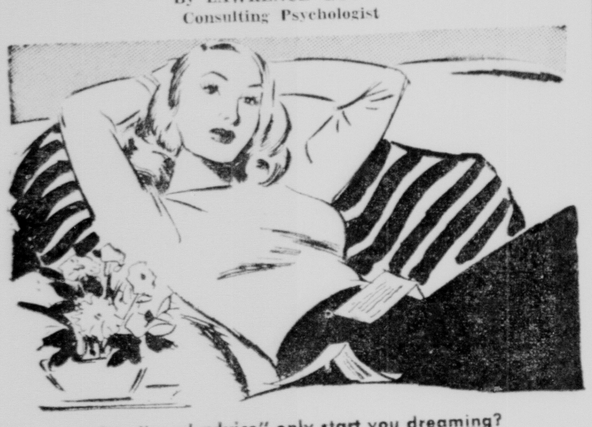
By LAWRENCE GOULD
Consulting Psychologist



Can "good advice" only start you dreaming?

Answer: Yes, there is a type of woman, for example, who reads every beauty hint that she can lay her hands on and gets a tremendous thrill from dreaming of how lovely she could be if she would only follow the experts' instructions. But in practice, she's always too busy or too tired to be bothered. I fear that the popularity of books that tell "how to succeed" has a similar basis. For it's always easier to look for "directions" than to face our own shortcomings, which most often are the real cause of our failures.

Can group interviews uncover individual traits?

Answer: Yes, reports Dr. Ralph Wagner of the American Institute for Research. Experience at five U. S. Air Force stations indicated, he says, that "The group interview accomplished the work of the individual interview in one-fourth of the time with no loss of quality and no adverse morale effects." For one thing, an individual is likely to be less self-conscious as one of a group than when he is interviewed alone, and so will unconsciously reveal in group discussion characteristics he might otherwise have hidden.

Can anyone foretell how long you will live?

Answer: If you're gravely ill, a competent physician might guess with some accuracy how much more time you have left, although the world is full of people—like myself—who are alive and well long after the doctors have said their days were numbered. But the fortune-teller, palmist, or clairvoyant who claims to be able to foresee your death is guilty of a conscious or unconscious act of malice which should be forbidden by law. To make such a statement to a person who already is neurotic may amount to murder.

Both Taft and Hartley read the Taft-Hartley law. But never together. About time they met.

I'm still looking for the third bookworm who gandered that elusive document. When that bill became law, they marked it, "Don't open till Christmas."

I conducted a nation-wide poll during yesterday's lunch hour. Not one voter had ever seen the contents of the Taft-Hartley law nor the insides of a shark's stomach.

But they all agreed both were most gruesome.

Only problem in Washington is one of shelling the committees. Who's going to roll the snowballs and who's going to throw them?

All those daisies are going to nod the same way in every breeze but southern zephyrs. Mr. Truman may keep a couple of pet Republicans for whipping boys.

But even the happiest of families can get fed up on caviar and quail. We predict by 1950 the Democrats will be pulling more ways than a tied calf in a tornado.

Whatever Mr. Truman thinks of this Congress it was sure handy to blame things on.

Train Runs Red Blockade

BERN—(AP)—The Swiss Red Cross has just brought a train through the Russian blockade from Berlin with 451 German children.

Most of the German children are now discovering for the first time what a square meal is. They will live for three months with Swiss families, who have volunteered to care for them, and then return to Berlin to make room for another group.

Five hundred children were returned to Berlin on the train which has just arrived here and now are watching the great Allied Air Lift supply their home city for the first time.

The smallest of the South American countries is Uruguay, which has an area of 72,153 square miles.

PITCHING HORSESHOES by Billy Rose

"Light Up the Sky" Review

"Light Up The Sky" is a fast, funny and phony show, and it looks as if Moss Hart has another hit on his manicured hands.

Billy Rose

This comedy of bad manners is about show people, and its moss-covered plot concerns itself with their shenanigans during the out-of-town tryout of a play. Though the characters are pretty much stock — the temperamental actress, the fancy-nancy director, the Gregory Ratoff-type producer, and the tough gal with the heart of gold—what they have to say is frequently funny. But to a fellow who has been around show business for 25 years, their carryings-on seem like the imaginings of an author who has never been on the road with a show. Let's see if I can't prove my point by telling you what happened to Moss's own play.

• — • — •

When "Light Up The Sky" opened in Boston—the same Boston where Hart opens his imaginary play—it got mixed notices and lost approximately $20,000 in 16 performances. At the time, Moss confesses, he wouldn't have bet a perforated Dewey button on its chances. But did Moss and the actors throw a set of cheap tantrums and start ratting on each other? Of course not—they did what professionals in the theatre have been doing since there was a theatre. The playwright-director locked himself in his hotel room, put on his monogrammed pajamas, sent out for a lot of coffee, and practically rewrote the play. He eliminated page after page of pretentious point-making, substituted several highly comic situations, put the new stuff into rehearsal the third week, and opened in Philadelphia the following Monday with a hit show.

• — • — •

On opening night in New York, Acts Two and Three had the audience laughing as if they had gotten in for free, and most of the critics agreed that the Royale Theatre was a cinch to sell out for a good many 8:40's to come.

I was a little disappointed, however, with some of the directorial shortcomings of playwright Hart. For example, Glenn Anders, portraying a swish director, has a running gag in the show, "I could cry," and he says it about 20 times. After watching out-of-town audiences greet this fake little line with gobs of silence for five and a half weeks, I can't understand why Moss, usually a skillful director, didn't delete the next 19 repetitions.

According to the columns, most of the characters in Hart's play are take-offs on certain members of the marquee and malarkey set, including the Roses, E. and B. Moss argues that they aren't patterned after definite individuals — they're all composites. I agree, but it's my belief that Moss is an essential component of some of these composites. For instance, Sidney Black, the theatrical producer played by Sam Levene, is partly me to be sure, but I submit that he's partly Moss Hart—the part of Moss Hart that he would like to pin on somebody else. Psychoanalysts call it "projection," but, as I see it, it's the old trick of saving face by pretending the face doesn't belong to you.

To make sure that he has nothing in common with the Blacks of this world, Moss has written himself into at least two other characters in his play. Members of the cast and Broadway in-the-know-it-alls will tell you that the 20-year old playwright in the piece is Moss at the age of 20, but it's my theory that he isn't Moss at all. He's the kid Moss wishes he had been—a serious, talented, straight-forward sort of guy who had something to say, and wasn't going to trade his right to say it for a pound of gold jewelry.

The third Mr. Hart on the stage of the Royale is a distinguished-looking gent named Philip Ober who plays a debonnaire, elder-statesman type playwright, and wears more tuxedo than I've ever seen on one man before. That, the actors tell me, is supposed to be Moss today or, psychology being what it is, it represents Moss as he'd like to be.

Nevertheless, the net result of all this ego scratching is a pretty funny evening, and it's probably a good thing for the men who financed this $80,000 production that Moss is a bit mixed up. The id-kid's desire to forget the kicking around he got as a youth, the hungry summers on the Borscht Circuit, the scrounging after success that now seems so unpleasant, the traumatic impulse to show how white he is as compared with Sidney Black's black—they all add up to a hit show.

Poor little Laddy in the Dark! He has another success.

Another Bernadotte For Swedish Scouts

STOCKHOLM — (AP) — Another member of the Bernadotte family will probably succeed the late Count Folke Bernadotte as chief of the Swedish Boy Scout Association. Lennart Bernadotte, grandson of King Gustaf, is the only candidate and his candidacy has been supported by all district chiefs of the Scout Association. Lennart Bernadotte, who is son of Prince Wilhelm, King Gustaf's younger son, renounced his royal privileges when he married a commoner.

Chinese Face New Inflation

SHANGHAI — (AP) — Here's what happens to the little people during inflation:

Susie Pei is 60. She saved $500 in U. S. currency—that looked like the safest investment—in a lifetime of work as a nurse. When the government recently said everyone had to turn in any foreign currency they had for the new gold yuan, Mrs. Pei decided to wait until the new money proved its stability.

But while away on a visit her son, fearing the economic police arrest her, took the hoard of U. S. currency and turned it in. The government gave Mrs. Pei four goldyuan for each dollar. Now the actual value of the yuan has slipped to nine to $1 U. S. and Susie's life-long savings have shrunk to $222. And the yuan still slips.

PITCHING HORSESHOES by Billy Rose

"Light Up the Sky" Review

Brazil Fights Illiteracy

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Brazil is at war on illiteracy. A nationwide program started last year now has 700,000 students learning to read and write. Its aim is to teach a million persons a year.

Because of its wide application and its combination with instruction for useful citizenship, it is considered by educators as the leading literacy program in all Latin American countries. Government authorities, alarmed over the fact that only 55 per cent of the 18-year-old age group in 1940 were able to read and write decided to do something about it.

In 1944, a full program was proposed by Clemente Mariani, Minister of Education. It became effective in 1947 and has since grown with surprising rapidity. Initiated at a cost of $31,000,000,000 it was made accessible to persons ranging in age from 15 to 40 years of age.

The program has been extended throughout all parts of Brazil. This year 500 movie projectors were installed for visual education on such subjects as health, civics, geography and history.

Last year more than 300,000 persons learned how to read and write.

Craters of the Moon, which covers 80 square miles in Idaho, is one of the largest national monuments in the United States.

A rich landowner in Sussex, England, had three daughters who were so ugly and mean-tempered that none of them could find a husband. In a coffee house one rainy afternoon the exasperated landowner declared loudly, "I'd give ten thousand pounds apiece to get those confounded girls off my hands."

An Irishman, sitting unobstrusively in the corner, stepped forward and said, "With your leave, sir, at that price I'll take TWO of them."

Unlikely Bernard Shaw story No. 3611: The ninety-two-year-old sage visited a great London specialist for a general checkup. Unfortunately, we doctors have not yet found a way to make men younger."

"I didn't come to you to make me younger," snapped Shaw. "What I want to do is grow older."

Polio Delays Schools

PRAGUE—(AP)—The opening of schools in Czechoslovakia was delayed for a month this fall by an epidemic of infantile paralysis. Gymnastic training in schools and in Sokol gymnasiums still was proscribed.

A total of 159 cases were reported in Prague alone in September, but official quarters said that the disease was waning.

Reds Strengthen Power

WARSAW, (AP)—The all-powerful Political Bureau of the Communist Workers party in Poland has added a new member. He is General Franciszek Jozwiak, head of the nation's militia.

Communist chieftains who now are purging their ranks of all "rightist and nationalist deviationists" are trying to sell a plan for socializing farm production to the nation's 15,000,000 peasants, have police apparatus at easy call with Jozwiak sitting in on party sessions.

Jozwiak, commanding an estimated 200,000 militiamen who constitute Poland's police force, long has been active in Communist affairs.

Dog Can Be A Nuisance

CENTRALIA, Ill.—(AP)—On a rainy school day little Barbara Ann Knipp couldn't find her rubber overshoes when she started to leave school for home. She sloshed home and found them there. Her pet terrier dog had slipped into the school, picked out her mistress' rubbers from among those of other pupils and toted them home.

Australians Drink More Wine

SYDNEY—(AP)—Australians today are drinking three times the quantity of wine they did before the war. The annual report of the Federal Viticultural Council reported 3,900,000 gallons of wine a year was drunk by Australians before the war. Today Australians are drinking wine at the rate of 11,900,000 gallons a year.

"Monster" Is Only Fox

LAUSANNE, Switzerland—(AP)—For one horrible day, the Swiss in this region thought they were face to face with an invasion of strange furry "monsters" which ran in leaps of twelve to sixteen feet. Two hunters reported they had killed one of the beasts and another escaped. The scare didn't last long. A takidermist from Geneva arrived the next day and announced that the hunters had killed a mountain fox and not a big one at that.

Red Plush Cars, No Passengers

GENEVA—(AP)—The Swiss are wondering out loud again why their government-owned railway has all the red plush, first-class railway cars. They're usually empty.

The railway management recently ordered 17 combination first and second class railway cars, 10 second-third class and 67 third class cars. In practice on the main lines, the third class cars usually are crammed, the second class cars comfortable and the first class empty.

"Why all this red plush?" the independent newspaper, "Die Tat," asked. The paper said it was "stupid" to have empty first class seats when most Swiss would rather stand than pay the extra fare involved. One reader wrote in a letter to the editor suggesting that most of those riding the red plush had free passes anyway.

No Drivers' Licenses

BRUSSELS—(AP)—Belgium is one of the few countries in Europe where motorists do not have to undergo a test of their ability and obtain a driver's license. Anyone here can buy an automobile and drive it away without a license. The Belgian press is now urging that the present system be revised.

Puerto Ricans Continue Moving Out

SAN JUAN, P. R.—(AP)—The net annual increase in population in Puerto Rico has been cut down nearly 50 per cent during the last three years, due to the fact that emigration of Puerto Ricans, especially to New York, has kept on steadily, according to official statistics offered by Statistics Division of the Puerto Rican Bureau of the Budget.

These official figures reveal that from Jan. 1 to Sept. 30, 1948, the total leaving the island has been 32,277 in excess of the total arriving. During that period in 1947, the number leaving was 23,909 in excess of the number coming in.

The Bureau of the Budget indicated that should this emigration continue for the next few years its effect upon Puerto Rico's excess population will be noticeable. It is believed that the emigration will continue due to the high interest among Puerto Ricans in finding better jobs in the United States, coupled witht he fact that the insular government's Labor Deparament now has a division to help persons get adequate jobs with United States firms.

All-Aluminum Bridge

SUNDERLAND, England, (AP)—An all-aluminum drawbridge, said to be the first of its kind in the world, will span the 90-foot entrance to the south docks of this North Sea port. Minister of Transport Alfred Barnes will open it on November 26.

Victoria Loses Throne

HONG KONG—(AP)—Queen Victoria's statue, repatriated at war's end along with the bronze lions of the Hong Kong Shanghai Bank from internment on a Japanese scrap heap, will not return to the pedestal on which it rested for nearly half a century.

The pedestal, its ornate protecting dome and surrounding fence, which occupy a large area in the middle of one of the city's busier thoroughfares, are to be torn down as a traffic hazard.

Red Envoy In London

LONDON—(AP)—A bearded vulture from Moscow, name of Lammergeyer, has arrived in London.

Largest European bird of prey, the Lammergeyer checked into Regent's Park Zoo with some pals—a snow leopard, a northern lynx and five red-breasted geese. In exchange, the London Zoological Society has sent the Moscow zoo a chimpanzee, some monkeys, a leopard, a toucan and a hornbill.

Rice Casserole Gives A Meal Strong Backbone

We go around the seasons quite comfortably in meal planning if only we have access to a number of casseroles—and suggestions with which to fill them. We formerly called casseroles "baking pans", but pans or casseroles, they should come often to the table. In this present day battle for good food at low cost, one of the best paths to take is to explore the realms of cookery that make the most of the simple ingredients—those which don't come with a heavy price on their heads—allowing us to temporarily forget the price of "steak."

For the stay-at-home day, when the folks are all at home and ravenous, try this hearty combination that will feed the family with Autumn-hunger very well.

Rice-Vegetable-Meat Casserole

One pound of hamburger; 1 tablespoon butter or margarine; 2 cups sliced potatoes; ½ cup chopped onions; 1 cup sliced carrots; ¼ cup chopped green pepper, ½ cup chopped celery; ½ cup raw white rice; 2 cups tomatoes; ½ teaspoon salt; ¼ teaspoon pepper; hot water to cover.

Brown the hamburger in the margarine or butter, breaking it up with a fork to have it in crumbles. Then in a greased 2-quart casserole or baking dish arrange in layers—first the meat layer and then a layer of each of the vegetables, one on top of the other, in the order given above, ending with the hot water. Cover and bake in a slow oven, 325 degrees for approximately two hours. Add more water if needed during the cooking period. This will serve four or five, and makes the meal, or if doubled it makes a wonderful supper dish for a "crowd".

An old-fashioned touch is given to Christmas trees by decorating them with gingerbread men wearing suits of confectioners' sugar icing trimmed with raisins and bright candies. 'Neath their sugary outsides is an enriched flour base which means good nourishment for the children.

Potato Chowder

3 cups diced potatoes
2 cups diced carrots
1½ cups sliced onions
2 cups boiling water
2½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
Dash of paprika
3 cups milk
2 tablespoons butter
Parsley

Cook the vegetables in boiling water plus 1 teaspoon salt until tender. Mash vegetables in water. Heat milk, add to vegetables with remaining salt, pepper, and paprika. Heat thoroughly and serve topped with butter and a sprinkling of chopped parsley. Serves 6.

Give your Christmas fruit cake a glistening surface with a glaze which is applied after the cake is cold. Combine one cup sugar, one-half cup corn syrup, and one-half cup water, and cook until mixture forms a thick syrup. Cool before spreading on the fruit cake. While the glaze is moist, arrange a garnish of candied fruits and nuts. When glaze is firm, wrap cakes in moisture-proof cellophane or store in covered containers.

Mint-pineapple sandwiches are ideal to include on your tray of holiday hors d'oeuvres which help to make entertaining easy and gracious. First remove crusts from twelve slices of enriched bread. For filling, mix together two teaspoons chopped mint leaves, one nine-ounce can crushed pineapple, well drained (about one-half cup), and one three-ounce package of cream cheese. Cut sandwiches diagonally to make triangles, or in "fingers."

Catch that hot fruity smell? It's some of the Yuletide coffee cakes coming from the oven. They are a perfect companion for coffee, which is synonymous with hospitality in many families. Try this holiday shape in coffee cakes. Swirl a long roll of sweet yeast dough back and fourth on a greased cookie sheet to form a large Christmas tree, allowing the branches to touch. Place a tiny ball of dough at the base of the tree to form the trunk.

Small budget, many gifts on your holiday list? Then make an assortment of your favorite Christmas cookies to give your friends. Anise drops, spritz cookies, pfeffernuss, date bars, applesauce cookies, blonde brownies, candied fruit bars, rolled cookies cut into Christmas shapes are among those you might include in your "personalized" cookie box.

Gift Goodies

BRAZIL NUT TREATS . . . For a merry Christmas . . .

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If you want to give some of your friends treats from your own kitchen this Christmas, you won't go wrong by using the following recipes. Tried and true, they're well tested, unusually delicious, and take to holiday traveling easily. You can make them later on, but if I were you I would start preparing the containers in which they're to go to their new homes right away.

An especially good package idea is the one illustrated in this accompanying photograph of Brazil nut goodies. See the gay recipe box, filled now with cookies, later to be used for recipe cards. These file boxes are inexpensive and may be bought in ten-cent, stationery or department stores. Tuck in an index and a pack of cards to fit the box. And start the recipe file right by enclosing recipes of the cookies or candies you're sending. If you buy an undecorated box you can go to town painting it.

Other containers are fun to make, too. Any round can with a tightly fitting cover can be covered with paper.

Here's how to make the chips, but before you start, this bit of arithmetic will come in handy: One pound of Brazil nuts in the shell yields one-half pound of shelled nuts; and one-half pound of shelled nuts measures 1½ cups.

BRAZIL NUT CHIPS

Ingredients: 1½ cups shelled Brazil nuts, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, salt.

Method: Put the shelled Brazil nuts in a saucepan and cover with cold water. Bring slowly to a boil; simmer for 2 to 3 minutes. Drain and cut into thin lengthwise slices. Spread out in a shallow pan. Method: Cream butter and orange rind; add sifted confectioner's sugar and orange juice. Mix until smooth. Spread evenly over baked cooled two layers of cooky mixture; sprinkle with chopped Brazil nuts. Let set 30 minutes. Cut in bars ¾x3 inches. Makes 27 bars.

Succulent stuffin' for the Christmas goose is this prune-and-apple dressing. Mix together, lightly but thoroughly, three cups of enriched bread cubes, one cup of cooked apples (pared, diced, and stewed), one-half cup cooked prunes, one-half cup chopped nuts, one-fourth cup melted fat, one teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper. This dressing takes well to chicken, too.

½ cup diced celery
4 hard-boiled eggs
3 slices bacon, diced
1 medium onion, minced
½ tablespoon flour
¼ cup vinegar
¼ cup water
Salad dressing to moisten

BRAZIL NUT TREATS . . . For a merry Christmas . . .

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

If you want to give some of your friends treats from your own kitchen this Christmas, you won't go wrong by using the following recipes. Tried and true, they're well tested, unusually delicious, and take to holiday traveling easily. You can make them later on, but if I were you I would start preparing the containers in which they're to go to their new homes right away.

An especially good package idea is the one illustrated in the accompanying photograph of Brazil nut goodies. See the gay recipe box, filled now with cookies, later to be used for recipe cards. These file boxes are inexpensive and may be bought in ten-cent, stationery or department stores. Tuck in an index and a pack of cards to fit the box. And start the recipe file right by enclosing recipes of the cookies or candies you're sending. If you buy an undecorated box you can go to town painting it.

Other containers are fun to make, too. Any round can with a tightly fitting cover can be covered with paper.

Here's how to make the chips, but before you start, this bit of arithmetic will come in handy: One pound of Brazil nuts in the shell yields one-half pound of shelled nuts; and one-half pound of shelled nuts measures 1½ cups.

BRAZIL NUT CHIPS

Ingredients: 1½ cups shelled Brazil nuts, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, salt.

Method: Put the shelled Brazil nuts in a saucepan and cover with cold water. Bring slowly to a boil; simmer for 2 to 3 minutes. Drain and cut into thin lengthwise slices. Spread out in a shallow pan. Dot with the butter or margarine and sprinkle well with salt. Bake in a moderate (350 F.) oven for 15 to 20 minutes, stirring frequently. Makes about 2 cups chips.

For really marvelous Christmas cookies, make these triple-deckers . . . you can bake one layer while you're preparing the other two.

Ingredients for Third Layer: 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 teaspoon grated orange rind, 1¼ cups sifted confectioner's suggar, 2 tablespoons orange juice, ½ cup finely chopped Brazil nuts.

Method: Cream butter and orange rind; add sifted confectioner's sugar and orange juice. Mix until smooth. Spread evenly over baked cooled two layers of cooky mixture; sprinkle with chopped Brazil nuts. Let set 30 minutes. Cut in bars 3x1¾ inches. Makes 27 bars.

Singapore Housing Slows

SINGAPORE —(AP)— Lack of law is delaying construction of 600 workers flats to be built here with money collected in honor of Princess Elizabeth's wedding. The colony has no law empowering an appropriation for such buildings from public funds, which are to supply three-fourths of the wedding celebration fund.

To make the money available, the governor in council will have to empower its use for workers flats by the Singapore Improvement Trust, the colony's government-sponsored housing authority.

'CULTURE DAY' IN TOKYO — These men wear costumes and play music of their ancestors in "Culture Day" celebration in Tokyo. They represent samurai priests who accompanied feudal lords on trips through Japan. Instruments are made from seashells.

SHE WRITES BACKWARDS—Georgia De Michele, 10, of Waterbury, Conn., can write upside down and backwards, but only with her left hand. She didn't learn it, but says she discovered her skill accidentally while scribbling.

AT WORK — Peggy Ann Garner, 16-year-old movie actress, learns housekeeping by scrubbing the kitchen floor of her Hollywood home. Her mother also is teaching her to cook.

LITTERED WITH PUPPIES — Eleven Dalmatian pups nuzzle mother, Dutchess, at feeding time at University City, St. Louis suburb. Their owners, Mr. and Mrs. Leo E. Moore, supplement their diet with milk and sprup. Nine are males and two females.

BRITONS CONFER — Emanuel Shinwell (left), British Secretary of State for War, confers with Gen. Sir William Slim, new chief of the Imperial General Staff, in London.

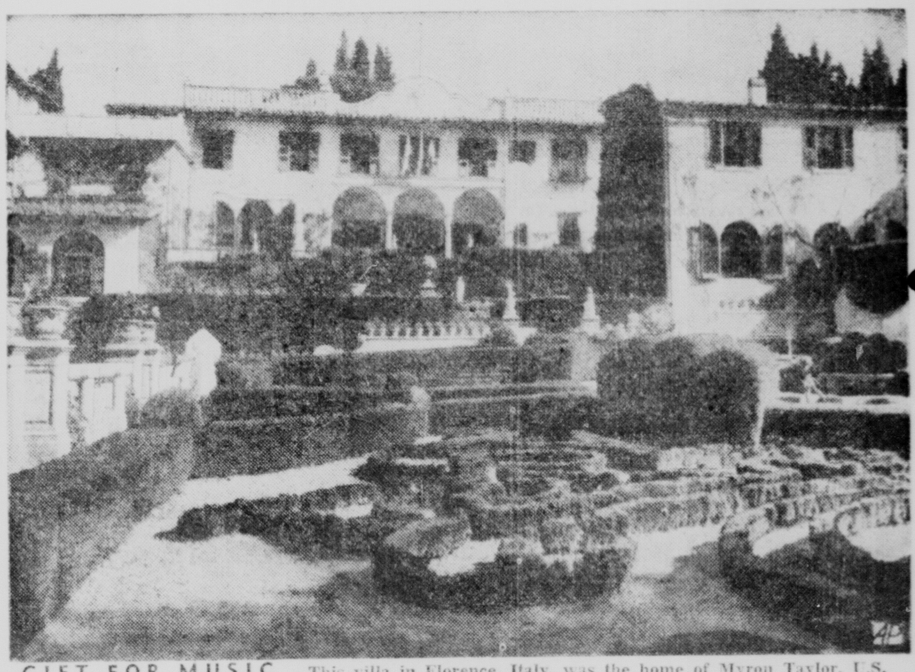
CHINA PASSAGE — A Chinese sampan passes under the overhanging rear deck of the U.S. aircraft carrier Princeton, part of Task Force 38 which is visiting the U.S. naval base at Tsingtao.

DEMOCRAT — Leslie L. Biffle, Democrat and native of Boydsville, Ark., may be secretary of new U.S. Senate.

SCHOOL DOG — Butch, Boston terrier, rests chin on chair at Chamberlain school, Charleston, W. Va., which he has attended regularly for two years. He lives at various homes near school. Teacher, Miss Hazel Cox, says Butch is a good "pupil."



GIFT FOR MUSIC — This villa in Florence, Italy, was the home of Myron Taylor, U.S. presidential envoy to the Holy See, before he gave it to Pope Pius XII as music school for U.S. students. It will be known as the Pope Pius XII Musical Institute.

AT HOME IN ZOO — Five polar bear cubs, about 10 months old, get acquainted with their new home in Brookfield Zoo, Chicago. Gift of the Chicago Zoological Society, they were captured on the east coast of Greenland.

JUST BETWEEN US

By NANCY MOTTRAM

Ask Girl To Return Your Pin

(Q) "Dear Nancy: I had been going with a girl for some time, and then, after an argument, we decided not to see each other any more. But, even after we talked everything over, she didn't offer to return my fraternity pin. I don't know how to bring up the subject, and I'd like it back. I wonder if you could give me any advice?"

Nancy Mottram

(A) At the breakup it was up to her to hand it over, but since she didn't, if you ever want to see it again you'll have to ask her. Sometime, when you meet her, ask her for it. And if those occasions are few and far between, why don't you make it a point to drop over and see her. Then, somewhere in the conversation, tactfully bring up the fact that since everything is over, you'd like your fraternity pin again.

• — • — •

(Q) "Dear Nancy: I've been going steady with one girl for four years. During that time, we've broken up three times, but have always gone back together again. Lately, we haven't been getting along very well, and I'm afraid we're on the verge of ending it all for good. I care for her very much and I want to prevent it, if possible. What do you think I should do?"

(A) Instead of letting the present state of affairs drag on until it is too late, put the problem in plain words to her now. She knows that you haven't had smooth sailing recently and if you could talk it out, that approaching break-up might never happen. Make up your mind that you're going to clear the air, and the two of you can come to a solution.

(Q) "Dear Nancy: My girl friend used to be a real buddy to both the boy I was dating and to me. Then, all of a sudden, he stopped calling me, and began taking her out. Now, every time I see them, they try to avoid speaking or just murmur hello. This hasn't changed my feelings towards him, and I'd like to get him back but I don't know how. What can I do?"

(A) It's pretty obvious which one he's more interested in, and no matter how you hate to admit it, she's the gal in his life now. There isn't much you can do about it, because he won't be back unless he wants to come. But instead of spreading a hurt look over your face whenever the three of you meet, smile and put across the idea that all this doesn't make a bit of difference to you. It could be that he'll decide to begin calling you again but it would be wiser to put that romance out of your mind, and concentrate on something new.

Miss Mottram cannot answer all letters personally, but the most important ones will be answered in her column.

Austrian Forests Doomed

VIENNA—(AP)—Large forest areas in Russian- occupied Lower Austria are doomed to the ravages of the nun-moth, ministry of agriculture officials have announced. The Russians have no equipment such as that used by Anglo-American teams earlier this year to combat the nun-moth in the three Western zones.

And Austrian forestry officials are not allowed to enter the forest—they are claimed by the Russians as former German external assets.

German Fair For New York

FRANKFURT — (AP)—Americans will have a chance next spring to see what has been done with their tax money in Germany.

Western German's industry, rebuilt mostly with American aid, will send its products and statistics to Rockefeller Center, New York, where the "Industry Show of Germany 1949" will be held March 1 to 21.

This was announced by Western Germany's Association of Foreign Trade.

The exhibit, sponsored by the Anglo-American Joint Export Import Agency, is intended to show the American public what has been achieved in the economic field since the end of the war.

The announcement said a group of German tradesmen will leave for New York soon to make all preparatory arrangements.

JUST BETWEEN US

By NANCY MOTTRAM

Ask Girl To Return Your Pin

(Q) "Dear Nancy: I had been going with a girl for some time, and then, after an argument, we decided not to see each other any more. But, even after we talked everything over, she didn't offer to return my fraternity pin. I don't know how to bring up the subject, and I'd like it back. I wonder if you could give me any advice?"

Nancy Mottram

(A) At the breakup it was up to her to hand it over, but since she didn't, if you ever want to see it again you'll have to ask her. Sometime, when you meet her, ask her for it. And if those occasions are few and far between, why don't you make it a point to drop over and see her. Then, somewhere in the conversation, tactfully bring up the fact that since everything is over, you'd like your fraternity pin again.

• — • — •

(Q) "Dear Nancy: I've been going steady with one girl for four years. During that time, we've broken up three times, but have always gone back together again. Lately, we haven't been getting along very well, and I'm afraid we're on the verge of ending it all for good. I care for her very much and I want to prevent it, if possible. What do you think I should do?"

(A) Instead of letting the present state of affairs drag on until it is too late, put the problem in plain words to her now. She knows that you haven't had smooth sailing recently and if you could talk it out, that approaching break-up might never happen. Make up your mind that you're going to clear the air, and the two of you can come to a solution.

(Q) "Dear Nancy: My girl friend used to be a real buddy to both the boy I was dating and to me. Then, all of a sudden, he stopped calling me, and began taking her out. Now, every time I see them, they try to avoid speaking or just murmur hello. This hasn't changed my feelings towards him, and I'd like to get him back but I don't know how. What can I do?"

(A) It's pretty obvious which one he's more interested in, and no matter how you hate to admit it, she's the gal in his life now. There isn't much you can do about it, because he won't be back unless he wants to come. But instead of spreading a hurt look over your face whenever the three of you meet, smile and put across the idea that all this doesn't make a bit of difference to you. It could be that he'll decide to begin calling you again but it would be wiser to put that romance out of your mind, and concentrate on something new.

Miss Mottram cannot answer all letters personally, but the most important ones will be answered in her column.

Austrian Forests Doomed

VIENNA—(AP)—Large forest areas in Russian- occupied Lower Austria are doomed to the ravages of the nun-moth, ministry of agriculture officials have announced. The Russians have no equipment such as that used by Anglo-American teams earlier this year to combat the nun-moth in the three Western zones.

And Austrian forestry officials are not allowed to enter the forest—they are claimed by the Russians as former German external assets.

German Fair For New York

FRANKFURT — (AP)—Americans will have a chance next spring to see what has been done with their tax money in Germany.

Western German's industry, rebuilt mostly with American aid, will send its products and statistics to Rockefeller Center, New York, where the "Industry Show of Germany 1949" will be held March 1 to 21.

This was announced by Western Germany's Association of Foreign Trade.

The exhibit, sponsored by the Anglo-American Joint Export Import Agency, is intended to show the American public what has been achieved in the economic field since the end of the war.

The announcement said a group of German tradesmen will leave for New York soon to make all preparatory arrangements.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Budget Helps Often Come In Tin Cans

There's a future for your budget shiny as a neat tin can in the bargains being featured in three foods at the peak of their pack. Those foods in cans are peas, cling peaches and corned beef hash, all three of them favorites, and all three at saving prices in your market now.

The "thrifty three," peas, cling peaches, and corned beef hash, offer you that no-waste, all-edible attraction that makes foods in cans always a saving, and they're cooked by vitamin-conserving methods with painstaking care so they're as much a bargain in nutritional values as they are to your purse.

To help you serve these economy foods more often, we've assembled simple ways to vary them because foods in cans are actually basic foods that can be seasoned exactly to your family's taste, and varied any way you like to make your menus more inviting. Here are some suggestions:

Pea Pleasantries

For zippy peas, add ¼ teaspoon Tabasco to peas before heating . . . peas Scarlet O'Hara are achieved by adding strips of pimiento to canned peas; new flavor as well as color contrast . . . celery salt is a subtle seasoning for canned peas . . . ever fill the hollows of fluffy mashed potato nests with hot, drained canned peas? It's a beauty of a vegetable combination to arrange around a roast or a broiled platter . . . do use the liquid from the canned peas as well as the peas themselves . . . a vitamin notion is to mix the liquid from the peas half and half with tomato juice, something new in a first course for dinner . . . new, too, is a grapefruit juice and pea juice course cocktail; use 2 parts grapefruit juice to 1 part of liquid from the canned peas . . . a few sauteed mushrooms added to canned peas give you a new vegetable combination . . .

Peach Pretties

Now that tapioca is back, it's fun to peach-ify it; just fold canned sliced peaches into the cooled tapioca pudding mixture and serve . . . cling peach halves in cans make sunny salads; try stuffing the peach centers with cottage cheese and chopped dates . . . quickest meat garnish to make and one of the smartest is canned cling peach halves heated in their own syrup with a sprinkling of cloves to spice things satisfactorily . . . soft custard is smooth stuff with canned sliced cling peaches; make soft custard when you've leftover egg yolks from meringue making, angel cake, etc. . . . sliced canned cling peaches surrounding a scoop of vanilla ice cream is a good autumn sundae for an autumn Sunday . . . let the sunshine of a peach's smile light your breakfast bowl of cereal; delicious with the ready-to-eat cereals like corn flakes, puffed rice, bran, etc.

Mash Hints

It's "different" to make canned corned beef hash patties by removing the hash from the can all in one piece (take off both ends of can with can opener and push out cylinder of hash), slicing the hash into thin patties and sauteing in skillet until crisp and brown . . . vary corned beef hash service by packing the canned corned beef hash into a greased loaf pan, baking at 350 degrees F. for 30 minutes . . . or if you're the hash-and-egg kind of corned beef hash eater, serve sauteed corned beef hash patties each topped with a fried egg, handsome variation of a traditional idea . . . thrifty, hearty stuffing for green peppers is canned corned beef hash used "as is," baked in parboiled green peppers for 30 minutes in a 350 degrees F. oven . . . try a "thrifty three" special combining each of the three canned food bargain buys in one delicious dish; arrange sauteed canned corned beef hash in the center of a heated platter, ring 'round it canned cling peach halves that have been heated in their own syrup and drained, fill centers of peach halves with hot drained canned peas.

Now when high prices play havoc with food budgets is an excellent time to get acquainted with the wide range of foods that come in tin and steel containers. To estimate their true savings to you, estimate the cost according to the edible portions you get from a can of food. The thrifty answer will show you many helpful ways to save with no-waste canned foods.

Here's a new face for mincemeat tarts. Cut a dozen three-inch scalloped rounds from a rolled-out pastry dough and also a dozen two-and-one-half inch doughnut rounds. Place the scalloped rounds on an ungreased baking sheet. Put two tablespoons of mincemeat on each round. Top with doughnut round and seal edges together. Bake in a hot oven (450 degrees F.) 12 to 15 minutes.

Serve quickly-made muffins rich with dates and nuts to bring Yuletide spirit to the simplest luncheon during the busy holiday season.

Now that tapioca is back, it's fun to peach-ify it; just fold canned sliced peaches into the cooled tapioca pudding mixture and serve . . . cling peach halves in cans make sunny salads; try stuffing the peach centers with cottage cheese and chopped dates . . . quickest meat garnish to make and one of the smartest is canned cling peach halves heated in their own syrup with a sprinkling of cloves to spice things satisfactorily . . . soft custard is smooth stuff with canned sliced cling peaches; make soft custard when you've leftover egg yolks from meringue making, angel cake, etc. . . . sliced canned cling peaches surrounding a scoop of vanilla ice cream is a good autumn sundae for an autumn Sunday . . . let the sunshine of a peach's smile light your breakfast bowl of cereal; delicious with the ready-to-eat cereals like corn flakes, puffed rice, bran, etc.

Mash Hints

It's "different" to make canned corned beef hash patties by removing the hash from the can all in one piece (take off both ends of can with can opener and push out cylinder of hash), slicing the hash into thin patties and sauteing in skillet until crisp and brown . . . vary corned beef hash service by packing the canned corned beef hash into a greased loaf pan, baking at 350 degrees F. for 30 minutes . . . or if you're the hash-and-egg kind of corned beef hash eater, serve sauteed corned beef hash patties each topped with a fried egg, handsome variation of a traditional idea . . . thrifty, hearty stuffing for green peppers is canned corned beef hash used "as is," baked in parboiled green peppers for 30 minutes in a 350 degrees F. oven . . . try a "thrifty three" special combining each of the three canned food bargain buys in one delicious dish; arrange sauteed canned corned beef hash in the center of a heated platter, ring 'round it canned cling peach halves that have been heated in their own syrup and drained, fill centers of peach halves with hot drained canned peas.

Now when high prices play havoc with food budgets is an excellent time to get acquainted with the wide range of foods that come in tin and steel containers. To estimate their true savings to you, estimate the cost according to the edible portions you get from a can of food. The thrifty answer will show you many helpful ways to save with no-waste canned foods.

Here's a new face for mincemeat tarts. Cut a dozen three-inch scalloped rounds from a rolled-out pastry dough and also a dozen two-and-one-half inch doughnut rounds. Place the scalloped rounds on an ungreased baking sheet. Put two tablespoons of mincemeat on each round. Top with doughnut round and seal edges together. Bake in a hot oven (450 degrees F.) 12 to 15 minutes.

Serve quickly-made muffins rich with dates and nuts to bring Yuletide spirit to the simplest luncheon during the busy holiday season.

Draft Deferment Rules Pending

Although students are assured they won't be inducted into military service during the course of an academic year, Allegany County draft boards are awaiting word on which college students will be deferred, according to P. Emmett Fahey, clerk-co-ordinator.

The rules for deferment of students in the "healing arts" are expected to be passed on to the boards soon.

'Induction Stays' for Some

These will pertain to men studying to become doctors, dentists, veterinarians and osteopaths.

Rules governing deferments for men in such fields as chemistry, physics, engineering and science probably will be used early next year.

Under the draft law, students are eligible for "induction stays" as well as deferments. This means a man may be placed in 1-A but still may not be sworn into the Army.

This goes for those who aren't married or who don't qualify as veterans under the definition contained in the draft law.

It is after they are placed in 1-A that they may obtain a stay of induction to complete their current academic year.

Students who want such a postponement should apply for it either when they return their questionnaires or immediately after they are placed in 1-A.

In any event, though, the registrant should get a statement from his school to verify that he is a full-time student in good standing.

This goes for high school as well as college enrollees.

Indications are that all students in good standing in the "healing arts" fields will be recommended for deferment.

Deferments for those in pre-medical, pre-dental, pre-veterinary and pre-osteopathy schools probably will be on a quota basis, with each school being told it can recommend a certain number of students for deferment.

Deferred students for the clergy, however, will be put in 4-D, same as ministers. These students are specifically excluded from induction by the law itself.

Certain pre-divinity students also are exempt.

Local Office Answers Social Security Queries

Anyone desiring information regarding any phase of social security should contact the Cumberland Field Office of the Social Security Administration, Room 309, Postoffice, according to John W. Robertson, manager.

"In the past," Robertson stated, "some misconceptions have arisen which may cause a wage earner to lose a portion of his benefit."

The following are some of the provisions of the act which have caused misunderstanding in the past. Wage earners over 65 years of age who continue to work in covered employment are subjected to the same Social Security tax deductions as younger workers.

Old-Age and Survivors Insurance benefits are paid for by contributions from the wage-earner and the employer. No person will be required to sign over any property he may own in order to receive insurance benefits.

A Social Security number is assigned to a wage-earner for his lifetime. Every wage-earner should retain his account number even though he changes jobs or moves to another state. If the card is lost, a duplicate should be obtained from the nearest field office.

SICK!

STOMACH AILMENTS, WEAK KIDNEYS, RHEUMATIC PAINS, ARTHRITIS, NEURITIS

and such complaints as Headaches, Nervousness, Acids Toxins, Bloating, Lack of Vitality, Energy, Poor Appetite, Underweight, Dizzy Spells.

Drugless Health!

REGARDLESS of how long you have been a sufferer, and how many medicines you have tried before, you can now hope for relief if you try GEO-MINERAL, the wonderful mineral aid. Feel and enjoy the results one week after you start taking it. GEO-MINERAL comes from the earth — Nature's laboratory. Contains NO alcohol, NO preservatives, NO oil. NO harmful drugs, NO dope — is NOT habit forming. Contains ONLY Nature's minerals, the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments — highly recommended by the medical profession.

FOR THOUSANDS of years ever since Hipocrates was the father of medicine, minerals and other natural medicines were a reliable remedy for most of our common ailments. GEO-MINERAL will enrich your blood, help to make you strong, full of pep, life and energy. If you suffer from nutritional anemia, nervousness, lack of vitality and energy see what GEO-MINERAL will do for you.

Amazing Results

MEDICAL records show 65% of men and women over 35 suffer from nutritional mineral-iron anemia. When you feel nervous, dull, tired, lazy, have dizzy spells, no ambition to work or play, a poor appetite, when your eyes lack that bright spark, and your mind brilliance, when headaches get the best of you, and you feel old before your time, and life seems not worth living, with worry wearing you down—it may be simply lack of minerals in your blood. GEO-MINERAL is then what you need.

RHEUMATISM, arthritis are dreadful diseases. Acid coddition in the blood is often their cause. What could be the remedy? For thousands of years, minerals have been used to relieve the pain and suffering of these ills. People, on the advice of their doctors, go to mineral springs to find cure, or relief. The late President Rooseveit used to go to Warm Springs in Georgie. He was helped or would not have gone there twice a year.

Wonder Minerals

YEAR after year, people rush to mineral springs and spas, to drink and bathe in their miraculous water. We have all heard of the wondrous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thronion in ancient Greece where, according to legend, Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

GEO-MINERAL contains minerals you get at the world's best springs. Watch your elimination from your bowels a day or two after using it. The waste, black as the color of your shoes, will start to break away, and you will SEE it! Also examine your urine. You may see impurities — poisonous waste — coming out of your kidneys, relieving you. And then realize the priceless value of GEO-MINERAL.

Read What They Say!

"We have sold Geo-Mineral for the last six months and it has been one of the best selling drug items we have ever handled"—say Porter Bros., pharmacists of Concord, N. C. "Users report amazing results in many instances, and we personally believe Geo-Mineral is a good medicine for purposes as indicated, and recommend it to sufferers who have tried other medicines with little if any results. They may discover that Geo-Mineral is what they have probably been needing and looking for — we unhesitatingly recommend it."

100% Guaranteed!

WE URGE everyone to try GEO-MINERAL. Do not hesitate one moment. Go to your drug store now. Get one bottle. Use it one week. If you are not 100 per cent satisfied, we will refund your money.

REGARDLESS of how long you have been suffering, and how many medicines you have tried before, GEO-MINERAL may be the remedy you need!

TRY it today! It may do wonders for you—and be the best investment for your health. Make you feel, eat, sleep, work and enjoy life better.

TO THE MOTHER OF A BOY OR GIRL WHO HAS REACHED "THAT CERTAIN AGE"

Doctor's formula now brings more effective relief from skin blemishes associated with ACNE

Greaseless cream conceals pimples and blackheads at once, while it exposes and inhibits the growth of germs

Doctors now know that while pimples, blackheads, pustules and other unsightly skin blemishes occur in most adolescents, this condition with its social stigma need no longer be passively endured.

Instead, it is medically recognized that in most cases of acne there is a sub-surface infection due to certain types of germs, and if these germs can be exposed and their growth inhibited, acneform eruptions can be controlled.

Today a group of physicians working in the laboratory of a great university has announced the development of a formula which does exactly that. This formula which is the result of endless experiments and tests on thousands of actual sufferers has been called Enca Cream. When this cream is applied to the skin, the following three-way action takes place:

(1) ENCA'S flesh-tinted film instantly hides unsightly skin blemishes, thus leaving a noticeably improved appearance.

(2) ENCA'S anti-biotic ingredients are held in contact with skin pores for hours to expose germs and inhibit their growth.

(3) With germ growth inhibited, pimply skin surface lesions can be controlled. Unsightly appearance tends to improve. Many are amazed to see prompt results. Your boy or girl can face the world with confidence.

MONEY BACK GUARANTEE

So why let your teen-age child suffer the humiliating handicap of skin disfigurement associated with acne? Get ENCA CREAM from your druggist today and use according to directions for one week. If you are not pleased with actual results, if unsightly skin does not feel and look better and better, then return the partly used jar and full purchase price will be refunded.

TO THE MOTHER OF A BOY OR GIRL WHO HAS REACHED "THAT CERTAIN AGE"

Doctor's formula now brings more effective relief from skin blemishes associated with ACNE

Greaseless cream conceals pimples and blackheads at once, while it exposes and inhibits the growth of germs

Doctors now know that while pimples, blackheads, pustules and other unsightly skin blemishes occur in most adolescents, this condition with its social stigma need no longer be passively endured.

Instead, it is medically recognized that in most cases of acne there is a sub-surface infection due to certain types of germs, and if these germs can be exposed and their growth inhibited, acneform eruptions can be controlled.

Today a group of physicians working in the laboratory of a great university has announced the development of a formula which does exactly that. This formula which is the result of endless experiments and tests on thousands of actual sufferers has been called Enca Cream. When this cream is applied to the skin, the following three-way action takes place:

(1) ENCA'S flesh-tinted film instantly hides unsightly skin blemishes, thus leaving a noticeably improved appearance.

(2) ENCA'S anti-biotic ingredients are held in contact with skin pores for hours to expose germs and inhibit their growth.

(3) With germ growth inhibited, pimply skin surface lesions can be controlled. Unsightly appearance tends to improve. Many are amazed to see prompt results. Your boy or girl can face the world with confidence.

MONEY BACK GUARANTEE

So why let your teen-age child suffer the humiliating handicap of skin disfigurement associated with acne? Get ENCA CREAM from your druggist today and use according to directions for one week. If you are not pleased with actual results, if unsightly skin does not feel and look better and better, then return the partly used jar and full purchase price will be refunded.

SICK!
STOMACH AILMENTS, WEAK KIDNEYS, RHEUMATIC PAINS, ARTHRITIS, NEURITIS
and such complaints as Headaches, Nervousness, Acids Toxins, Bloating, Lack of Vitality, Energy, Poor Appetite, Underweight, Dizzy Spells.

Drugless Health!

REGARDLESS of how long you have been a sufferer, and how many medicines you have tried before, you can now hope for relief if you try GEO-MINERAL, the wonderful mineral aid. Feel and enjoy the results one week after you start taking it. GEO-MINERAL comes from the earth — Nature's laboratory. Contains NO alcohol, NO preservatives, NO oil. NO harmful drugs, NO dope — is NOT habit forming. Contains ONLY Nature's minerals, the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments — highly recommended by the medical profession.

FOR THOUSANDS of years ever since Hipocrates was the father of medicine, minerals and other natural medicines were a reliable remedy for most of our common ailments. GEO-MINERAL will enrich your blood, help to make you strong, full of pep, life and energy. If you suffer from nutritional anemia, nervousness, lack of vitality and energy see what GEO-MINERAL will do for you.

Amazing Results

MEDICAL records show 65% of men and women over 35 suffer from nutritional mineral-iron anemia. When you feel nervous, dull, tired, lazy, have dizzy spells, no ambition to work or play, a poor appetite, when your eyes lack that bright spark, and your mind brilliance, when headaches get the best of you, and you feel old before your time, and life seems not worth living, with worry wearing you down—it may be simply lack of minerals in your blood. GEO-MINERAL is then what you need.

RHEUMATISM, arthritis are dreadful diseases. Acid coddition in the blood is often their cause. What could be the remedy? For thousands of years, minerals have been used to relieve the pain and suffering of these ills. People, on the advice of their doctors, go to mineral springs to find cure, or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Warm Springs in Georgie. He was helped or would not have gone there twice a year.

Wonder Minerals

YEAR after year, people rush to mineral springs and spas, to drink and bathe in their miraculous water. We have all heard of the wondrous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thronion in ancient Greece where, according to legend, Hercules, the god of eternal strength and youth, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

GEO-MINERAL contains minerals you get at the world's best springs. Watch your elimination from your bowels a day or two after using it. The waste, black as the color of your shoes, will start to break away, and you will SEE it! Also examine your urine. You may see impurities — poisonous waste — coming out of your kidneys, relieving you. And then realize the priceless value of GEO-MINERAL.

Read What They Say!

"We have sold Geo-Mineral for the last six months and it has been one of the best selling drug items we have ever handled"—say Porter Bros., pharmacists of Concord, N. C. "Users report amazing results in many instances, and we personally believe Geo-Mineral is a good medicine for purposes as indicated, and recommend it to sufferers who have tried other medicines with little if any results. They may discover that Geo-Mineral is what they have probably been needing and looking for — we unhesitatingly recommend it."

100% Guaranteed!

WE URGE everyone to try GEO-MINERAL. Do not hesitate one moment. Go to your drug store now. Get one bottle. Use it one week. If you are not 100 per cent satisfied, we will refund your money.

REGARDLESS of how long you have been suffering, and how many medicines you have tried before, GEO-MINERAL may be the remedy you need!

TRY it today! It may do wonders for you—and be the best investment for your health. Make you feel, eat, sleep, work and enjoy life better.

New Fire Truck To Arrive In McCoole Soon

Made For Company By Roanoke Concern

McCOOLE—Oran Brown, publicity chairman for the McCoole Volunteer Fire Company, announced yesterday that word has been received by Company Engineer Homer Ambrose, chairman of the fire truck finance fund, that the new fire truck ordered by the company in July, 1946, would arrive here today or tomorrow.

The open cab style, seven-man truck was built according to the McCoole Company's specifications by the Orren-Roanoke Corporation, Roanoke, Va.

Brown said the fire truck has pannel sides with compartments and is equipped with a 500 gallon pumper, a 300 gallon booster tank, 1200 feet of 2½ inch hose and ladders.

The white and blue vehicle will be housed in the new two-story red brick McCoole Fire House. The formal opening and dedication of the hall have been delayed pending arrival of the new equipment.

The truck will replace the 1918 model "old maul" used by the company, but "will never take its place," Brown added.

The company purchased an ambulance last year for use in the community and surrounding territory.

The McCoole Fire Company cooperates with the Keyser, W. Va., Vigilant Reel and Hose Company by assisting them in fighting fires when needed and standing by when the Keyser Company is called out of town.

New Fire Truck To Arrive In McCoole Soon

Made For Company By Roanoke Concern

McCOOLE—Oran Brown, publicity chairman for the McCoole Volunteer Fire Company, announced yesterday that word has been received by Company Engineer Homer Ambrose, chairman of the fire truck finance fund, that the new fire truck ordered by the company in July, 1946, would arrive here today or tomorrow.

The open cab style, seven-man truck was built according to the McCoole Company's specifications by the Orren-Roanoke Corporation, Roanoke, Va.

Brown said the fire truck has pannel sides with compartments and is equipped with a 500 gallon pumper, a 300 gallon booster tank, 1200 feet of 2½ inch hose and ladders.

The white and blue vehicle will be housed in the new two-story red brick McCoole Fire House. The formal opening and dedication of the hall have been delayed pending arrival of the new equipment.

The truck will replace the 1918 model "old maul" used by the company, but "will never take its place," Brown added.

The company purchased an ambulance last year for use in the community and surrounding territory.

The McCoole Fire Company cooperates with the Keyser, W. Va., Vigilant Reel and Hose Company by assisting them in fighting fires when needed and standing by when the Keyser Company is called out of town.

PAW PAW, W. Va.—Work started this week on a new acre-wide pond on the Boyd Gordon property intended for use as a skating pond in winter.

A Lions Club project, the pond will range from one to five feet in depth. Water will be supplied by the spring within its bounds and small streams flowing nearby.

Improvements Suggested For Somerset Mine

Ventilation And Rock Dusting Cited

MEYERSDALE, Pa.—Additional precautions, including better ventilation, are proposed for the Frain B mine of the J. J. Frain Coal Mines, Incorporated, 4½ miles northeast of Meyersdale, Pa., in an original inspection report issued today by the Bureau of Mines. The report also cites some commendable safety practices. The Somerset County mine, one of a group known locally as the Blue Lick Mines, employed 25 men and produced 110 tons of coal a day when Inspector Walter D. Brown examined it in October.

Inspector Brown recommended coursing sufficient air to a number of working places to carry away smoke from blasting, driving crosscuts at proper intervals, closing all but the last opening between airways, discontinuing turning rooms beyond the last open crosscuts, erection of air-lock doors or constant attendance of single doors, prompt closing of doors, offset installation and safety devices for the ventilating fan, providing at least two permissible flame safety lamps, and pre-shift and weekly examinations for gas and other hazards.

The inspector proposed adequate rock-dusting of all portions of the mine not actually wet to within 80 feet of the faces, using permissible electric cap lamps instead of carbide lamps, and a ban on smoking underground.

The company's minimum timbering standards should be universally followed, sufficient safety posts set at the faces, and loose roof supported or removed on detection, the inspector said. He endorsed the use of permissible explosives, but advised incombustible stemming, and keeping the blasting cables short-circuited until ready to blast.

Adequate unobstructed clearance space and shelter holes were provided, the inspector reported, but he said the swale in the main haulageway should be kept reasonably free of water, and stopblocks and derails provided at the top of the incline plane. Power wires were supported on insulators and the electric equipment was frame-grounded, he said, but he advised overload protection for the mining machine trailing cable.

The inspector also recommended bringing the mine map up to date, adopting a positive check-in-and-out system, and the use of protective footwear by all employes and goggles for eye-hazardous work.

The company said all cellulose nitrate operations have been carried on at their Newark, N. J., plant, and some operations already have been halted with a complete cessation expected by mid-1949.

Zoo Prices Go Down

WELLINGTON, N. Z.—(AP)—Europe is underselling America in the market for zoo animals. Catalogues from European countries show that many animals are going cheaply.

Hamburg offers the Wellington Zoo young polar bears for $440 each. The United States asks $3,200 each. Newly-trapped giraffes from Kenya can be had for $800 and $1,200 each. Formerly they cost up to $6,000.

The hippopotamus has soared way up into the luxury class, from $2000 to $8000. But Wellington Zoo can now buy giant kangaroos from Australia for $6. The old price was $120.

Bureau Of Mines Commends Mine At Kempton

More Safety Aids Recommended

KEMPTON—A Federal coal mine inspector endorsed several recent beneficial changes and some commendable safety features in the No. 42 mine of The Davis Coal and Coke Company at Kempton, at the same time proposing further precautionary measures, according to a report released today by the Bureau of Mines. This Garrett County mine employed 160 men in the daily production of 960 tons of coal when Harry Jones reinspected it in October.

Working places had been rock-dusted to within 70 feet of the faces, but considerable coal dust was present along haulage roads, and the inspector recommended removing excessive coal-dust accumulations, and through rock-dusting of some cross-cuts and a haulageway.

A systematic timbering method was being followed, roof was frequently tested, permissible explosives and permissable blasting units were used for on-shift blasting, ventilation was good, with no signs of gas detected, preshift, on-shift, and weekly examinations for hazards were made, and air-lock doors and line brattices were in use. Inspector Jones also suggested removing or supporting any doubtful haulageway roof detected, firing all blasting shots or series immediately after charging on shift, and keeping a record of the daily fan inspections.

Recent beneficial changes included setting safety posts close to the face before beginning other mining operations, equipping the ventilating fan with a water gage, and placing rock dust at strategic underground places for fire-fighting.

As further safety aids, Inspector Jones recommended well-installed insulators for unprotected power wires, frame-grounds for ungrounded electric equipment, power-control switches for some cross conveyors, use of permissible junction or distribution boxes for making connections in working places, keeping permissible electric equipment in permissible condition, safe underground storage of oil and grease, added mechanical safeguards, and the use of approved-type goggles by those employees needing protection.

Inspector Jones endorsed the use of permissible electric cap lamps underground, and the prohibition of smoking in the mine.

Trapped Pigeon Given Chance For Recovery

After its rescue by an employe of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company Tuesday, a young pigeon, trapped for two days on the third floor of the Darling Shop Building, corner of Baltimore and Centre Streets, is given a "good chance to recover."

An operator in the traffic department of the C. and P. noticed the bird's plight shortly after noon Tuesday and called the plant.

William Swain, this city, a line splicer's helper, climbed to the roof of an adjoining building and onto the Darling Shop structure to get at the bird. Swain found it had been trapped by a piece of string wrapped around a spouting.

Fellow employes said the bird was so weak from lack of food and its futile efforts to get free, that "it could not fly."

Swain took the bird to a local veterinarian, P. B. McCallum, 144 North Mechanic Street, who said that "the bird will recover."

NEWS FROM THE TRI-STATE AREA

Ventilation And Rock Dusting Cited

MEYERSDALE, Pa.—Additional precautions, including better ventilation, are proposed for the Frain B mine of the J. J. Frain Coal Mines, Incorporated, 4½ miles northeast of Meyersdale, Pa., in an original inspection report issued today by the Bureau of Mines. The report also cites some commendable safety practices. The Somerset County mine, one of a group known locally as the Blue Lick Mines, employed 25 men and produced 110 tons of coal a day when Inspector Walter D. Brown examined it in October.

Inspector Brown recommended coursing sufficient air to a number of working places to carry away smoke from blasting, driving crosscuts at proper intervals, closing all but the last opening between airways, discontinuing turning rooms beyond the last open crosscuts, erection of air-lock doors or constant attendance of single doors, prompt closing of doors, offset installation and safety devices for the ventilating fan, providing at least two permissible flame safety lamps, and pre-shift and weekly examinations for gas and other hazards.

The inspector proposed adequate rock-dusting of all portions of the mine not actually wet to within 40 feet of the faces, using permissible electric cap lamps instead of carbide lamps, and a ban on smoking underground.

The company's minimum timbering standards should be universally followed, sufficient safety posts set at the faces, and loose roof supported or removed on detection, the inspector said. He endorsed the use of permissible explosives, but advised incombustible stemming, and keeping the blasting cables short-circuited until ready to blast.

Adequate unobstructed clearance space and shelter holes were provided, the inspector reported, but he said the swale in the main haulageway should be kept reasonably free of water, and stopblocks and derails provided at the top of the incline plane. Power wires were supported on insulators and the electric equipment was frame-grounded, he said, but he advised overload protection for the mining machine trailing cable.

The inspector also recommended bringing the mine map up to date, adopting a positive check-in-and-out system, and the use of protective footwear by all employes and goggles for eye-hazardous work.

Bureau Of Mines Commends Mine At Kempton

More Safety Aids Recommended

KEMPTON—A Federal coal mine inspector endorsed several recent beneficial changes and some commendable safety features in the No. 42 mine of The Davis Coal and Coke Company at Kempton, at the same time proposing further precautionary measures, according to a report released today by the Bureau of Mines. This Garrett County mine employed 160 men in the daily production of 900 tons of coal when Harry Jones reinspected it in October.

Working places had been rock-dusted to within 70 feet of the faces, but considerable coal dust was present along haulage roads, and the inspector recommended removing excessive coal-dust accumulations, and through rock-dusting of some cross-cuts and a haulageway.

A systematic timbering method was being followed, roof was frequently tested, permissible explosives and permissable blasting units were used for on-shift blasting, ventilation was good, with no signs of gas detected, preshift, on-shift, and weekly examinations for hazards were made, and air-lock doors and line brattices were in use. Inspector Jones also suggested removing or supporting any doubtful haulageway roof detected, firing all blasting shots or series immediately after charging on shift, and keeping a record of the daily fan inspections.

Recent beneficial changes included setting safety posts close to the face before beginning other mining operations, equipping the ventilating fan with a water gage, and placing rock dust at strategic underground places for fire-fighting.

As further safety aids, Inspector Jones recommended well-installed insulators for unprotected power wires, frame-grounds for ungrounded electric equipment, power-control switches for some cross conveyors, use of permissible junction or distribution boxes for making connections in working places, keeping permissible electric equipment in permissible condition, safe underground storage of oil and grease, added mechanical safeguards, and the use of approved-type goggles by those employees needing protection.

Inspector Jones endorsed the use of permissible electric cap lamps underground, and the prohibition of smoking in the mine.

SPORTS GRILL

by Pat Robinson

International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 2—(INS)—We recall when we were a boy an old junk man used to go through the streets chanting: 'Any rags, any bones, any bottles today?"

We kids would hustle around to find some bottles to sell him and he in turn would have marbles or fire crackers or other choice bits to sell us.

As we look back now we have a hunch the junk man never took any the worst of these heavy business transactions.

Somehow or other Branch Rickey of the Brooklyn Dodgers remind us of that old junk man.

At least, he is going to the minor league meetings in Minneapolis next week and to the following major league meeting in Chicago in much the same position as the old junk dealer.

Branch has some major league stuff to sell or trade. He also is in the market to buy—But at his price.

You see Branch has some 700 ball players at his disposal and these range all the way from his current crop of Dodgers down to the boys in Class D leagues.

Just name what you'd like to buy and Branch has it.

For that reason he will be the most sought after man at the meetings. He has what others need. Some of them have a few things he may not have to have but which would come in handy.

It may surprise you to hear that Rickey is willing to sell anybody on the Dodgers with the following exceptions:

Any catcher except Campanella.

Any infielder except Reese and Robinson.

Any outfielder except Snyder.

Any pitcher except Barney, Branca, Newcomb and Banta.

That means he would dispose—at his price, of course—of such outfielders as Reiser, Hermanski Furillo; a catcher like Edwards; infielders like Hodges or Jorgensen and a pitcher like Hatton.

That means, too, that Rickey could use another high class catcher, two infielders and two outfielders.

Mind you, Branch says he doesn't have to sell or trade to win the pennant next year. He thinks the Dodgers could win just as they stand.

Now here's the story behind all this. As you know, major league clubs may carry only 25 men after June 15. Rickey has 15 men out on option to the minors now, some of whom are ready for the majors. On his various farm clubs he also has 18 or 19 high class players he can't use but who are marketable.

Therefore, in any trade he can afford to give up several fine young players to get one established star. Or he could sell one of his own stars for a huge sum and count on one of his minor league aces making good.

That's why major league and minor league owners in all classifications will be camping on the doorstep of Rickey, the "old junk man."

We can't forsee what deals he may make but we feel sure that the "old junk man" won't get any the worst of it.

Why Dutch is Growing a Beard

That beard on Dutch Miller's chin doesn't mean that he's getting ready to play Santa Claus. He's simply paying off the election bet he lost to Cappy Swanson.

And while some folks allow it's all a lot of nonsense — like the wheelbarrow ride that Cappy had to give Dutch after last election day—from where I sit, it's a mighty wholesome aftermath to a difference of opinion.

Because good Americans all take their politics and voting mighty seriously. But when the issue's settled, and the die is cast, they accept the verdict in a spirit of good humor.

And that's as it should be when it comes to any difference of opinion. Some folks vote for beer as their favorite beverage—others vote for cider. In fact, we all have differences of taste in almost everything! But that doesn't mean that we can't live together in a spirit of good fellowship.

SPORTS GRILL

by Pat Robinson

International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 2—(INS)—We recall when we were a boy an old junk man used to go through the streets chanting: 'Any rags, any bones, any bottles today?"

We kids would hustle around to find some bottles to sell him and he in turn would have marbles or fire crackers or other choice bits to sell us.

As we look back now we have a hunch the junk man never took any the worst of these heavy business transactions.

Somehow or other Branch Rickey of the Brooklyn Dodgers remind us of that old junk man.

At least, he is going to the minor league meetings in Minneapolis next week and to the following major league meeting in Chicago in much the same position as the old junk dealer.

Branch has some major league stuff to sell or trade. He also is in the market to buy—But at his price.

You see Branch has some 700 ball players at his disposal and these range all the way from his current crop of Dodgers down to the boys in Class D leagues.

Just name what you'd like to buy and Branch has it.

For that reason he will be the most sought after man at the meetings. He has what others need. Some of them have a few things he may not have to have but which would come in handy.

It may surprise you to hear that Rickey is willing to sell anybody on the Dodgers with the following exceptions:

Any catcher except Campanella.

Any infielder except Reese and Robinson.

Any outfielder except Snyder.

Any pitcher except Barney, Branca, Newcomb and Banta.

That means he would dispose—at his price, of course—of such outfielders as Reiser, Hermanski Furillo; a catcher like Edwards; infielders like Hodges or Jorgensen and a pitcher like Hatton.

That means, too, that Rickey could use another high class catcher, two infielders and two outfielders.

Mind you, Branch says he doesn't have to sell or trade to win the pennant next year. He thinks the Dodgers could win just as they stand.

Now here's the story behind all this. As you know, major league clubs may carry only 25 men after June 15. Rickey has 15 men out on option to the minors now, some of whom are ready for the majors. On his various farm clubs he also has 18 or 19 high class players he can't use but who are marketable.

Therefore, in any trade he can afford to give up several fine young players to get one established star. Or he could sell one of his own stars for a huge sum and count on one of his minor league aces making good.

That's why major league and minor league owners in all classifications will be camping on the doorstep of Rickey, the "old junk man."

We can't forsee what deals he may make but we feel sure that the "old junk man" won't get any the worst of it.

Musial Earns Third N. L. Valuable Player Award

Stan Gets 303 Votes, Johnny Sain Is Second

Baseball Writers Place Dark Third

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Dec. 2 (AP) — Stan Musial, the pitchers' nightmare, was the most valuable player in the National League in 1948.

The voting of the baseball writers wasn't close as the lean St. Louis Cardinals outfielder piled up an impressive margin.

If the pitchers voted, instead of the writers, it probably would have been unanimous, for Musial was a terror at the plate all season. He won as many races as Citation, leading with a .376 average, 135 runs, 230 hits, 131 runs-batted-in, 46 doubles and 18 triples.

Ralph Kiner of Pittsburgh and Johnny Mize of New York tied for home run laurels with 40, but Musial was right behind with 39.

Ed Burns of the Chicago Tribune, retiring president of the writers, announced that Musial received 18 first place votes from his 24-man committee.

Five went to the Boston Braves' ace pitcher, Johnny Sain, and one to Alvin Dark, the Braves' sensational rookie shortstop. In the American League, Cleveland's Lou Boudreau took 22 of the 24 firsts.

Wins For Third Time

Musial's election, his third in six full seasons as a major leaguer, carried with it baseball's official annual Kenesaw Mountain Landis plaque. It cannot mean any more salary for Stan, because he already has signed for 1949 and 1950 at a reported $50,000 per. He also won in 1943 and 1946 and, at 28, has many years to go.

Points actually decide the award on the basis of 14 for a first place vote, 9 for second and so on down to 1 for a tenth place ballot. On the basis, Musial rolled up 303 to 223 for Sain and 174 for Dark. None of the 29 other players listed received as many as 100.

Sain, a 241 game winner for the Braves in their first pennant success since 1914, and Musial were named on all the 24 ballots. The crafty righthander with the sharp curve followed a fine season with an excellent world series performance.

Gordon Gets 72 Points

Hoyever, the post-season play did not count in the most valuable competition, as the poll was taken during the final week of the regular season.

Dark, voted the league's rookie-of-the-year in an earlier Associated Press poll, hit a convincing .322. After a shaky start he finished strong as a key man in the infield of a pennant winner.

Musial's teammate, southpaw Harry Brecheen, enjoying his first 20-game winning season, placed fifth with 61 points, one more than Harold (Pee Wee) Reese, shortstop of the Brooklyn Dodgers, who hit .274.

Kiner, Slaughter Tied

Kiner tied for seventh with the Card's Enos Slaughter, a .321 hitter. Each had 55 points. Then came two infielders who were largely responsible for Pittsburgh's surprising season. Second baseman Danny Murtaugh, who failed with other clubs, "made" the Pirates and hit .290. Shortstop Stan Rojek, purchased from the Dodgers last winter, batted .289. Murtaugh had 52 points to 52 for Rojek.

Richie Ashburn, the Phillies' brilliant freshman who was cut out the latter part of the season with a broken hand, was 11th with 48 points. Johnny Schmitz, the capable Chicago lefthanded pitcher, was next, and in 13th position was the Braves Bob Elliott, winner in 1947.

Others who received considerable support were Warren Spahn, Boston's fine southpaw pitcher; Jackie Robinson, who finished strong at second base for Brooklyn after a poor start; Andy Pafko, who hit .313 as a converted third baseman for the Cubs; Johny Mize, the Giant's power hitter; Rex Barney, the Dodgers' no-hit pitcher; and Johnny Vander Meer, who made the comeback for the reds.

PICKED BY WRITERS—Stan Musial has been selected by the baseball writers as the most valuable player in the National League for the third time in six years. The St. Louis Cardinals' outfielder received a total of 303 votes. Johnny Sain, Boston pitcher, was second with 223 and Alvin Dark, the Braves' rookie shortstop, finished third with 174.

Prospects Bright For New Circuit

Teams Shunned By Sho Loop May Get Berths

HARRISONBURG, Va., Dec. 2 (AP) —Otto Nielson, president of the Harrisonburg Baseball Club, said today prospects appeared brighter for an organized baseball league embracing the Shenandoah Valley and bordering states to the north.

Nielson attributed the brighter outlook to an announcement that Frederick, Md., and Chambersburg, Pa., will not be granted franchises in the Eastern Shore League.

Frederick and Chambersburg had expressed interest in the proposed new circuit and Nielson feels they can be counted on to take franchises.

Waynesboro, Harrisonburg, Front Royal, Winchester, Cumberland, Md., and Martinsburg, W. Va., are interested in such a circuit.

Nielson said he expects to call another meeting of interested clubs at Winchester soon for further discussion.

Regional Deer Records | Beaglers Make Progress
Jackson Praises Dukes | Another Glenn At W.V.U.

By C. V. BURNS

Maryland's six-day open season on male deer gets under way on Monday and to establish new records in Region No. 1 the nimrods have the following marks to shoot at:

Allegany county 149 (1947)
Garrett county 517 (1946)
Washington county . 72 (1947)

Prior to last year Allegany's best mark was 85 kills, established in 1946. Not only was the 1947 total a six-day record in Allegany county but the 46 bucks slain on opening day also represents an all-time high for a single day.

Garrett's total last year was 467.

A total of 680 or 62 per cent of the state's deer kill of 1,090 was credited to Garrett, Allegany and Washington counties in 1947. The 1,090 is a Maryland record, the previous high having been 751 in 1946.

The other deer counties in Maryland are Frederick, Cecil and Worcester.

Backers of the Cumberland Dukes, of the All-American Professional Basketball League, are elated over the attendance figures for the first three games. The average has been over 500 paid admissions per game and if this keeps up the Dukes won't have to worry about splitting even this season.

Inman Jackson, coach of the Kansas City Stars who dropped a 56-48 thriller to the Dukes on Wednesday night, praised the local team highly after the contest.

"This is one of the best teams we've run across this season," Jackson declared.

The Stars had played 16 games, including the Wednesday contest.

Jackson said that Duke Cumberland, the negro star who played with the Dayton (Ohio) Mets last season, is with the New York Renaissance (Rens) this season.

Nat "Sweetwater" Clifton, the other former Dayton ace, is now with the Harlem Globetrotters who are scheduled to play here Christmas Day.

Before that game the Dukes meet Warren, Pa., Wheeling, W. Va., and Butler, Pa., in A-A League tilts here.

East McKeesport and Trafford high schools have been ordered by the WPIAL decision committee to suspend athletic relations for two years for permitting "athletic rowdyism" at a league game. The WPIAL means business.

The committee also warned school coaches to "conduct themselves in a professional manner" and refrain from any action which might incite a partisan riot.

We've always looked upon this phase of the game as being most important because a disgruntled or griping coach can easily incite a crowd to become disorderly.

They do things in a big way at Johnstown, Pa.

The Touchdown Club in the Pennsy city presented a club coupe automobile to Clark Shaffer, head coach of the Johnstown High School Trojans on Tuesday night.

In 60 games as head grid mentor his teams have won 43, lost 14 and tied 3.

"But that's not the important thing" one of the speakers declared. "It's the manner in which his boys are trained, not only to play football, but to respect others and grow to become real men."

Mike Garbinski and Paul Abele assistant coaches, were given tablemodel radios. The latter is a brother-in-law of Paul Sheehe of Sheere's Restaurant, this city.

Tommy Yarosz, Monaca, Pa., middleweight who fights Jake Lamotta in Madison Square Garden tonight, is regarded as one of the cleverest boxers in the 160-pound division today.

He was formerly handled by our old friend "Bunny" Buntag of Braddock, Pa., but is now under the management of Ray Arcel.

"Bunny" told us that there's not a cleaner living boxer in the game than Yarosz and Tommy has more ring brains than the average fighter of today.

Lamotta, Yarosz Clash At Garden

Middleweights Meet For Shot At Cerdan

NEW YORK, Dec. 2 (INS)—Jake Lamotta, one of the question marks of the ring, will return to Madison Square Garden tomorrow night when he meets Tommy Yarosz, of Monaca, Pa., in a 10-round bout.

The winner may box France's Marcel Cerdan, the world's middleweight champion, for the title or in an over-the-weight match after the first of the year.

Yaroz is a brother of Teddy, who once held the middleweight title himself.

Lamotta's last appearance at the Garden was against Billy Fox, a little more than a year ago. The bout resulted in Lamotta's suspension.

As on that occasion, when Lamotta was knocked out, this fight has been preceded by a shift in the betting odds. Jake tonight was a 9 to 5 favorite, whereas he had been 13 to 5.

Lamotta is the only fighter ever to defeat Sugar Ray Robinson, the welterweight champion.

Yaroz spent four years in the army during the war. Tomorrow's fight is the most important of his career.

CHICAGO, Dec. 2 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox today announced the trade of pitcher Frank Papish for two Cleveland Indian pitchers, Ernest Groth and Bob Kuzava.

The 32-year-old Papish, a lefthander, had been regarded as a potential White Sox mound star the past two seasons. Last season, however, he only won two and lost eight because of ailments.

Kuzava, 25, and Groth, 26, saw service mainly in minor league competition. There was no cash involved in the deal.

Last season, both Groth and Kuzava hurled for Baltimore in the International League. Groth finished with a 12-12 record and Kuzava had a 9-16. Groth is a righthander and Kuzava is a southpaw.

Starkey And Daughtry To Clash December 13

Skeets Seeks Revenge For Setback In Philly

Leon Daughtry, Golden Gloves welterweight champion of Washington, D. C., will fight Randall "Skeets" Starkey, outstanding local boxer, in the five-round feature bout of St. Mary's Boys' Club amateur boxing show Monday, December 13, at the State Armory, it was announced last night by Matchmaker Albert "Bobby" Green.

Green announced that arrangements had been made for the match after the Police Boys' Club cancelled its show scheduled for Monday, December 6.

Daughtry and Starkey met in the Olympic tryouts at Philadelphia on May 24 and the clever Washington negro fighter was awarded a TKO over "Skeets" in 1:37 of the third round. The match was stopped after Starkey had been floored for the third time.

Starkey has been "itching" to get another crack at Daughtry because he believes he can whip the capital city boy. Leon is managed by Herbert Harris, a Washington government worker, who hopes to get matches here for three other boxers.

"Skeets" made his last appearance in a local ring when he defeated Omar Dart of Pittsburgh in five rounds on November 8. It was his 18th victory against six defeats.

Tickets for the December 13 show will be on sale at McGee's Tavern, 976 Maryland Avenue.

Retired Grid Coach Coming Here Dec. 9

Harlow is listed in "Who's Who In America" which states that "Dick" was born in Philadelphia, October 19, 1889, and has coached varsity football teams at four colleges. From 1913 to 1917 he was head coach at Penn State, 1921 to 1925, head coach at Colgate University and coach and athletic director at Western Maryland College from 1925 to 1934. Musial Earns Third N. L. Valuable Player Award

Stan Gets 303 Votes, Johnny Sain Is Second

Baseball Writers Place Dark Third

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Dec. 2 (AP) — Stan Musial, the pitchers' nightmare, was the most valuable player in the National League in 1948.

The voting of the baseball writers wasn't close as the lean St. Louis Cardinals outfielder piled up an impressive margin.

If the pitchers voted, instead of the writers, it probably would have been unanimous, for Musial was a terror at the plate all season. He won as many races as Citation, leading with a .376 average, 135 runs, 230 hits, 131 runs-batted-in, 46 doubles and 18 triples.

Ralph Kiner of Pittsburgh and Johnny Mize of New York tied for home run laurels with 40, but Musial was right behind with 39.

Ed Burns of the Chicago Tribune, retiring president of the writers, announced that Musial received 18 first place votes from his 24-man committee.

Five went to the Boston Braves' ace pitcher, Johnny Sain, and one to Alvin Dark, the Braves' sensational rookie shortstop. In the American League, Cleveland's Lou Boudreau took 22 of the 24 firsts.

Wins For Third Time

Musial's election, his third in six full seasons as a major leaguer, carried with it baseball's official annual Kenesaw Mountain Landis plaque. It cannot mean any more salary for Stan, because he already has signed for 1949 and 1950 at a reported $50,000 per. He also won in 1943 and 1946 and, at 28, has many years to go.

Points actually decide the award on the basis of 14 for a first place vote, 9 for second and so on down to 1 for a tenth place ballot. On the basis, Musial rolled up 303 to 223 for Sain and 174 for Dark. None of the 29 other players listed received as many as 100.

Sain, a 241 game winner for the Braves in their first pennant success since 1914, and Musial were named on all the 24 ballots. The crafty righthander with the sharp curve followed a fine season with an excellent world series performance.

Gordon Gets 72 Points

However, the post-season play did not count in the most valuable competition, as the poll was taken during the final week of the regular season.

Dark, voted the league's rookie-of-the-year in an earlier Associated Press poll, hit a convincing .322. After a shaky start he finished strong as a key man in the infield of a pennant winner.

Sid Gordon of the New York Giants received 72 points for his fine third-base play and effective hitting with men on base. He drove in 109 runs with a .229 average.

Musial's teammate, southpaw Harry Brecheen, enjoying his first 20-game winning season, placed fifth with 61 points, one more than Harold (Pee Wee) Reese, shortstop of the Brooklyn Dodgers, who got 274.

Kiner, Slaughter Tied

Kiner tied for seventh with the Giant's Enos Slaughter, a .321 hitter. Each had 55 points. Then came two infielders who were largely responsible for Pittsburgh's surprising season. Second baseman Danny Murtaugh, who failed with other clubs, "made" the Pirates and hit .290. Shortstop Stan Rojek, purchased from the Dodgers last winter, batted .289. Murtaugh had 52 points to 52 for Rojek.

Richie Ashburn, the Phillies' brilliant freshman who was cut out the latter part of the season with a broken hand, was 11th with 48 points. Johnny Schmitz, the capable Chicago lefthanded pitcher, was next, and in 13th position was the Braves Bob Elliott, winner in 1947.

Others who received considerable support were Warren Spahn, Boston's fine southpaw pitcher; Jackie Robinson, who finished strong at second base for Brooklyn after a poor start; Andy Pafko, who hit .313 as a converted third baseman for the Cubs; Johny Mize, the Giant's power hitter; Rex Barney, the Dodgers' no-hit pitcher; and Johnny Vander Meer, who made a fine comeback for the reds.

PICKED BY WRITERS—Stan Musial has been selected by the baseball writers as the most valuable player in the National League for the third time in six years. The St. Louis Cardinals' outfielder received a total of 303 votes. Johnny Sain, Boston pitcher, was second with 223 and Alvin Dark, the Braves' rookie shortstop, finished third with 174.

Prospects Bright For New Circuit

Teams Shunned By Sho Loop May Get Berths

HARRISONBURG, Va., Dec. 2 (AP)—Otto Nielson, president of the Harrisonburg Baseball Club, said today prospects appeared brighter for an organized baseball league embracing the Shenandoah Valley and bordering states to the north.

Nielson attributed the brighter outlook to an announcement that Frederick, Md., and Chambersburg, Pa., will not be granted franchises in the Eastern Shore League.

Frederick and Chambersburg had expressed interest in the proposed new circuit and Nielson feels they can be counted on to take franchises.

Waynesboro, Harrisonburg, Front Royal, Winchester, Cumberland, Md., and Martinsburg, W. Va., are interested in such a circuit.

Nielson said he expects to call another meeting of interested clubs at Winchester soon for further discussion.

Regional Deer Records | Beaglers Make Progress
Jackson Praises Dukes | Another Glenn At W.V.U.

By C. V. BURNS

Maryland's six-day open season on male deer gets under way on Monday and to establish new records in Region No. 1 the nimrods have the following marks to shoot at:

Allegany county 149 (1947)
Garrett county 517 (1946)
Washington county . 72 (1947)

Prior to last year Allegany's best mark was 85 kills, established in 1946. Not only was the 1947 total a six-day record in Allegany county but the 46 bucks slain on opening day also represents an all-time high for a single day.

Garrett's total last year was 467.

A total of 680 or 62 per cent of the state's deer kill of 1,090 was credited to Garrett, Allegany and Washington counties in 1947. The 1,090 is a Maryland record, the previous high having been 751 in 1946.

The other deer counties in Maryland are Frederick, Cecil and Worcester.

Backers of the Cumberland Dukes, of the All-American Professional Basketball League, are elated over the attendance figures for the first three games. The average has been over 500 paid admissions per game and if this keeps up the Dukes won't have to worry about splitting even this season.

• — • — •

Inman Jackson, coach of the Kansas City Stars who dropped a 56-48 thriller to the Dukes on Wednesday night, praised the local team highly after the contest.

"This is one of the best teams we've run across this season," Jackson declared.

The Stars had played 16 games, including the Wednesday contest.

Jackson said that Duke Cumberland, the negro star who played with the Dayton (Ohio) Mets last season, is with the New York Renaissance (Rens) this season.

Nat "Sweetwater" Clifton, the other former Dayton ace, is now with the Harlem Globetrotters who are scheduled to play here Christmas Day.

Before that game the Dukes meet Warren, Pa., Wheeling, W. Va., and Butler, Pa., in A-A League tilts here.

John Alderson, who speared Ronnie Cage's pass in the end zone to give Fort Hill a 6-6 tie with Allegany on Turkey Day, is called the "most underrated end" in the local scholastic grid ranks by a man who knows ... football and attends most of the local games.

Louis H. "Red" Klotz, the "Mighty Mite" of the Dukes is pacing the team in scoring for the first three games with 35 points. Lou Bell is second with 31 followed by Bob Pence with 28 and Paul Oberhaus with 25. Klotz also is the team's top foul shooter with an average of .818. East McKeesport and Trafford high schools have been ordered by the WPIAL decision committee to suspend athletic relations for two years for permitting "athletic rowdyism" at a league game. The WPIAL means business.

The committee also warned school coaches to "conduct themselves in a professional manner" and refrain from any action which might incite a partisan riot.

We've always looked upon this phase of the game as being most important because a disgruntled or griping coach can easily incite a crowd to become disorderly.

They do things in a big way at Johnstown, Pa.

The Touchdown Club in the Pennsy city presented a club coupe automobile to Clark Shaffer, head coach of the Johnstown High School Trojans on Tuesday night.

In 60 games as head grid mentor his teams have won 43, lost 14 and tied 3.

"But that's not the important thing" one of the speakers declared. "It's the manner in which his boys are trained, not only to play football, but to respect others and grow to become real men."

Mike Garbinski and Paul Abele assistant coaches, were given table-model radios. The latter is a brother-in-law of Paul Sheehe of Sheere's Restaurant, this city.

Tommy Yarosz, Monaca, Pa., middleweight who fights Jake Lamotta in Madison Square Garden tonight, is regarded as one of the cleverest boxers in the 160-pound division today.

He was formerly handled by our old friend "Bunny" Suntag of Braddock, Pa., but is now under the management of Ray Arcel.

Lamotta, Yarosz Clash At Garden

Middleweights Meet For Shot At Cerdan

NEW YORK, Dec. 2 (INS)—Jake Lamotta, one of the question marks of the ring, will return to Madison Square Garden tomorrow night when he meets Tommy Yarosz, of Monaca, Pa., in a 10-round bout.

The winner may box France's Marcel Cerdan, the world's middleweight champion, for the title or in an over-the-weight match after the first of the year.

Yaroz is a brother of Teddy, who once held the middleweight title himself.

Lamotta's last appearance at the Garden was against Billy Fox, a little more than a year ago. The bout resulted in Lamotta's suspension.

As on that occasion, when Lamotta was knocked out, this fight has been preceded by a shift in the betting odds. Jake tonight was a 9 to 5 favorite, whereas he had been 13 to 5.

Lamotta is the only fighter ever to defeat Sugar Ray Robinson, the welterweight champion.

Yaroz spent four years in the army during the war. Tomorrow's fight is the most important of his career.

Jim Tatum, head football coach of the University of Maryland was originally slated to be the speaker, but he asked to be excused because of the fact that he must attend important sessions of the Southern Conference on December 9, 10 and 11.

Harlow is listed in "Who's Who In America" which states that "Dick" was born in Philadelphia, October 19, 1889, and has coached varsity football teams at four colleges. From 1913 to 1917 he was head coach at Penn State, 1921 to 1925, head coach at Colgate University and coach and athletic director at Western Maryland College from 1925 to 1934. He took over the post of head coach at Harvard University in 1935 and resigned due to ill health at the close of the 1947 season. During that period he spent several years in the Navy. In addition to football he also coached boxing at Penn State, Colgate and Western Maryland.

A veteran of the First World War, Harlow has been a professor of ornithology, curator of zoology and has contributed articles to many nationally known magazines.

In 1936 while coaching at Harvard he was voted "Coach Of The Year" by the coaches and football writers.

Spiker said that invitations have been extended to the Fort Hill football team and to sports officials of this area.

Reservations have been made for 150 persons and those desiring to attend the affair are requested to purchase tickets immediately at the Wilson Hardware Company, Truitt's Drug Store or Fort Hill High School.

Papish Of Chicago Traded To Indians

Southpaw Is Swapped For Groth, Kuzava

CHICAGO, Dec. 2 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox today announced the trade of pitcher Frank Papish for two Cleveland Indian pitchers, Ernest Groth and Bob Kuzava.

The 32-year-old Papish, a lefthander, had been regarded as a potential White Sox mound star the past two seasons. Last season, however, he only won two and lost eight because of ailments.

Kuzava, 25, and Groth, 26, saw service mainly in minor league competition. There was no cash involved in the deal.

Last season, both Groth and Kuzava hurled for Baltimore in the International League. Groth finished with a 12-12 record and Kuzava had a 9-16. Groth is a right hander and Kuzava is a southpaw.

Dukes To Play Altoona Flyers Here On Sunday

Walt Miller's Team To Sub For Warren

Coach Walt Miller's Altoona (Pa.) Flyers have been substituted as opponents for the Cumberland Dukes in an All-American Professional Basketball League game to be played Sunday night at 9 o'clock at SS. Peter and Paul gymnasium, Bob Whip, business manager of the local club announced last night.

The Warren (Pa.) Bulldogs were originally slated to play here but Whip was notified by league headquarters in Wheeling last night that Altoona is being substituted.

The Flyers dropped overtime battle to Wheeling in their opening league contest by the score to 77-68. The score was knotted at 66-66 at the end of the regulation game.

Altoona's personnel include Player-Coach Walt Miller, formerly of Duquesne University; "Mo" Becker, another ex-Duquesne ace; Jimmy Atkins, the speedy negro sharpshooter; Bobby Artman and Ed Strall, formerly of the University of Pittsburgh; Mike Bytsura, Ed Janicki, Al Bair, an ex-Long Island University player and D Asmonger, well known minor league baseball pitcher, who signed with Altoona last season.

The Dukes will be angling for their fourth straight victory of the season. They hold a 61-47 win over the Pittsburgh Merchants in a league game and turned back St. Francis College, Loretto, Pa., 60-56, and the Kansas City Stars, 56-48, in independent contests.

Starkey And Daughtry To Clash December 13

Skeets Seeks Revenge For Setback In Philly

Leon Daughtry, Golden Gloves welterweight champion of Washington, D. C., will fight Randall "Skeets" Starkey, outstanding local boxer, in the five-round feature bout of St. Mary's Boys' Club amateur boxing show Monday, December 13, at the State Armory, it was announced last night by Matchmaker Albert "Bobby" Green.

Green announced that arrangements had been made for the match after the Police Boys' Club cancelled its show scheduled for Monday, December 6.

Daughtry and Starkey met in the Olympic tryouts at Philadelphia on May 24 and the clever Washington negro fighter was awarded a TKO over "Skeets" in 1:37 of the third round. The match was stopped after Starkey had been floored for the third time.

Starkey has been "itching" to get another crack at Daughtry because he believes he can whip the capital city boy. Leon is managed by Herbert Harris, a Washington government worker, who hopes to get matches here for three other boxers.

"Skeets" made his last appearance in a local ring when he defeated Omar Dart of Pittsburgh in five rounds on November 8. It was his 18th victory against six defeats.

Tickets for the December 13 show will be on sale at McGee's Tavern, 976 Maryland Avenue.

Aged Whisky Is Scarce
The shortage of aged whisky is reportedly behind the withdrawal of some brands. While total stocks of liquor are large—in excess of 400,000,000 gallons — the bulk of it is young whisky not aged enough to fit into most blend formulas.

KEEPING UP WITH

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 2—(INS)—I always remember Ann Blyth's happy face when she told me Bing Crosby had okayed her for his leading lady in "Top Of the Morn."

Now I wish I could see her face when she reads in this column, and learns for the first time, that William Goetz has just bought James Webb's magazine serial, "Going, Going, Gone," for her.

Ann Blyth

In contrast to her role in Bing's picture she will go dramatic and play the bride of a man who, she discovers on her wedding night, is a murderer.

Webb already has arrived to write the screen play, and Michael Kraike will tend to the producing chore when the movie goes before the cameras in early January.

This, I might postscript, is only one of the movies Universal-International has planned for Ann, who is being built up fast as their top femme star.

• — • — •

I'll be surprised, indeed, if Ellen Corby, who plays Aunt Trina in "I Remember Mama" isn't up for Academy consideration as a supporting player, she's so good. Ellen, who was formerly a scrip girl on the RKO lot, was given this role when Jessica Tandy went to New York for "Streetcar Named Desire." Since that time, she has been much in demand, and when "Little Women" was previewed last week, she got a tremendous hand from the audience.

Today she was given one of the most important roles of her career. She was signed to play Felicite, Jennifer Jones' maid in "Madame Bovary." This is the femme role next in importance to Jennifer's part. Ellen's is the kind of Cinderella story I enjoy writing.

• — • — •

"Snake Pit" has busted wide open the consent decree in Chicago. It's in its eighth week, and a representative of 20th Century-Fox will again go before a judge and ask that it be given an added run because of its social significance.

The judge, who originally granted the eight weeks' stay, based his ruling on the fact that he feels it has a message of social importance.

Chicago, you may remember, limits the run of every movie to two weeks, which has been a headache to all producers. So let me say that Mr. Darryl Zanuck is very happy over this exception.

• — • — •

When one well-known writer planks out $35,000 cash for another writer's yarn—it must be good.

Writer-Producer Dick Irving Hyland (not the sports writer) has just dipped into the profits he made writing "Night Song" for RKO and producing "Kilroy Was Here" to buy "Burial Of the Fruit"—a new novel by David Dortort.

It's about a Brooklyn boy who becomes trigger happy in his efforts to escape his environment and Hyland will produce it independently.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Lana Turner's baby is expected April Fool's day. I know two awfully nice girls, Mrs. Walter Lang and Mrs. Bob Young, who celebrate their natal day April 1.

Estelle Taylor and Druggist Max Marks may name the date in spite of denials. He is cr-a-z-y- about her. They were at Ciro's opening together.

Sitting nearby were Gloria Lloyd, Harold's lovely daughter, and Bob Neal, who is devoting himself exclusively to the lovely Gloria.

Marion Hutton's husband, Jack Philbin, is here to try and talk her into a reconciliation.

With the polio scare still a serious menace in our town, it is good news that Sister Kenny will be here Friday, the 10th of December. Rosalind Russell and a group of civic leaders, are sponsoring a dinner in her honor.

Dorothy Lamour goes to the Palladium in London in 1949, and Dottie has really worked out a cute gag. She'll come out on the stage in a formal evening gown, but it has a trick zipper, so that she can become the sarong girl they expect before her first number is finished.

The Phillips Dorns celebrate their fifteenth wedding anniversary today. Congratulations!

Maureen O'Hara, all well again and blooming, back among us, and very glad to be here.

That's all today.

There's More Than Theory To Darwin

DARWIN — (AP) — You have to watch your step in Darwin, tropical front door to Australia. Anything can happen here, local people will tell you. In recent months they say they have seen:

Hawks drop missiles about people's heads; snakes in baths and hotel bars; crocodiles in the main street; a wallaby (small type kangaroo) jump into a speeding jeep; cats eat a giant poisonous stingaray on the beach.

Now, taxi driver Pat Wright has had a finger almost bitten off by a 5-foot crocodile in the saloon bar of the Hotel Darwin. It took four men and a beer bottle to force open the croc's jaw. Then Pat took his mangled finger up to the hospital.

Drinkers said the crocodile had been sleeping happily on the bar while his owner had a drink. Then someone pulled his tail, and things began to happen. The owner and crocodile disappeared in the general excitement over Pat's injury. Only the owner knew what was going to happen to that crocodile. Nobody had bothered to ask. You get used to that sort of thing in Darwin.

Romans Fight For Walls

ROME—(AP)—The walls that turned aside Hannibal's elephant battering rams 2,150 years ago are threatened today by the bulldozer. Engineers want to tear down part of the Servian walls to make way for Rome's new central railway station.

Prof. Salvatore Aurigemma, Rome's fine arts superintendent, is defending "his" walls against the engineers. He said the walls, built after the Gaulish sack of Rome, 390 B. C., remain only in part. A stretch about 200 yards long, of the complete fortifications of Rome as they were in the 4th Century B. C., was uncovered under about 20 feet of earth, when digging for the new station started a year ago.

The Million Dollar Comedians

Professor Sumner J. Slichter in his book, "The American Economy," states that our economic system is now laboristic, a nice word which does not msan socialist, rather than capitalist. Wage earners, he says, are in the overwhelming majority here and their interests dictate most economic decisions.

John Crosby

The recent high-flying financial deals in Hollywood over the services of a couple of comedians who are, in an elevated sense, labor (they certainly aren't bankers or stockholders) is a remote example of Professor Slichter's thesis. The sheer magnitude of these purchases of somebody's labor is breathtaking. At one point in the negotiations for a comedian, it was suggested that the Music Corporation of America, the biggest and most powerful talent agency in the country, be purchased in order to clear the way. Buying M. C. A. would be about as easy and inexpensive as buying the New York Central Railroad.

• — • — •

These mammoth deals for talent are hard to understand from an economic standpoint—though that's C. B. S.'s worry, not mine—but they are also hard to justify from another viewpoint in which the listener is concerned. This sort of horse-trading will almost inevitably lead to a star system just as rigid and just as harmful as that of the motion picture industry.

Stars, which have cost so much money, must be used, must get the best time, the best billing, the best of everything whether their show merits it or not, simply because they are so expensive. Names become more important than talent.

Competition among networks is a healthy thing for the listeners when it is confined to ideas. It is less edifying when the networks start raiding one another's personnel rosters. When N. B. C.—which has done plenty of raiding, too—lured "Ozzie and Harriet," Jimmy Durante and a host of other expensive shows from C. B. S., the C. B. S. answer was to build its own shows. In the case of "My Friend Irma" 'and the various Arthur Godfrey shows, it was conspiciously successful. With others, it wasn't. Nevertheless, all their efforts had freshness and originality which were welcome to listeners and it's heartening to know that William S. Paley, C. B. S. board chairman, promises that C. B. S. will continue to develop its own new ideas despite the addition of some very old ones to its network.

It's rather odd that these huge deals are being made at a time when almost all advertisers are preparing to slash their radio budgets sharply next year. There will be precious few $20,000 to $25,000 a week budgeted shows which is what the big variety show of the Benny, Hope, Allen, Bergen type cost. Advertisers will even think a long time before sponsoring the $15,000 show such as "Duffy's Tavern."

Even this year, the highly priced guest stars—the $7,500 or Al Jolson variety—have gone begging because they aren't worth it to the advertiser. One of the biggest ad agency men in radio recently predicted that within two years radio will consist of low-budgeted—$3,000 to $5,000—shows and music. The reason is television. It will be five years probably before the television audience matches radio's but two other factors have already hastened the advertiser into the new medium—sponsor identification and sales pull.

Sponsor identification is three or four times as high in television as in radio. And, if you're talking to 10,000,000 persons of whom 20 per cent remember your message or to 2,500,000 of whom 80 per cent remember it . . . well, do your own arithmetic.

In Memoriam

In loving remembrance of our husband and father, Ralph B. Shuck, who passed away one year ago, December 3, 1947.
No one knows the silent heartaches,
Only those who have lost can tell
Of the grief that's borne in silence
For the one we loved so well.

In Memoriam

In loving remembrance of our husband and father, Ralph B. Shuck, who passed away one year ago, December 3, 1947.
No one knows the silent heartaches,
Only those who have lost can tell
Of the grief that's borne in silence
For the one we loved so well.

Stock Market's Effort To Extend Wednesday's Advance Fails

NEW YORK, Dec. 2—(AP)—The stock market tried to extend Wednesday's sharp advance today but the results were disappointing.

Immediately after the opening bell, quotations advanced rapidly. The rest of the session was spent in chipping away at the morning gains.

Mark-ups well in the majority at the finish and also well under the widest advance. A good handful of issues slipped a notch or two.

Trading activity expanded on the way up, contracted when prices slid downward. The day's turnover of 1,210,000 share compared with 1,320,000 yesterday, which was a three-week high.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was unchanged at 63.6, with the industrial component up and the railroad section down. The average does not include a number of stocks which showed substantial improvement.

Of the 1,044 issues which appeared on the ticker tape, 540 advanced while 270 declined.

Among the more substantial gainers were National Steel at 89, Douglas Aircraft 49, Lockheed 16¾, Pepsi-Cola 8¾, American Telephone 151¼, Kennecott Copper 56⅛, J. C. Penney 46¼, American Woolen 37½, Union Bag & Paper 32⅝ and Long Bell Number "A" 22½.

American Broadcasting and Twenty Century-Fox each slipped, apparently a reflection of news that negotiations had ceased between the two companies for a cut in ABC by 20th Century.

Also lower were U. S. Steel, American Stove (A new low), Youngstown Sheet, Chrysler, Sears Roebuck, John-Manville, Phillips Petroleum, American Tobacco, Gulf Air Corp, Atlantic Coast Line, Standard Oil (NJ), and American Air Lines.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

James R. Wilson, and Jeannette L. Wilson, his Wife, vs. Marvin P. Thompson, Jr., and Nancy E. Thompson, his wife. No. 21023, Equity, in the Circuit Court, for Allegany County, Maryland.

The object of this suit is to secure the passage of a decree of adoption, declaring Marian Agnes Thompson, infant, to be the legally adopted daughter of the Petitioners.

The Petition states that Petitioners were married in Bel Air, Maryland, on September sixth, 1942, and have had no children born to them. That they now have in their custody the said Marian Agnes Thompson, born on November third, 1948, in Cumberland, Maryland, and wish to adopt the said infant.

The Bill further states that the Petitioners are residents of the state of Maryland, and have been such residents for more than two years next proceeding the filing of this Petition, and that the mother of the child, Nancy E. Thompson, is also a resident of the state of Maryland, but that the said Marvin P. Thompson, Jr., is a non-resident of the state of Maryland, and has not been seen or heard of since March, 1948.

It is thereupon ORDERED this 2nd day of December, 1948, by the Circuit Court, for Allegany County, Maryland, sitting in Equity, that a copy of this order be inserted in one of the newspapers published in Allegany County, once each week for four successive weeks, before the 4th day of January, 1949, giving notification to the said Marvin P. Thompson, Jr., of the object and substance of these proceedings, and warning him to be and appear in this Court in person or by solicitor, on or before the 19th day of January, 1949, to show cause, if any he may have, why a decree ought not be passed as prayed.

Donors Asked To Hold Up Gifts Temporarily

Due to the lack of much storage space at the First Presbyterian Church depot and that the truck from New Windsor will not be here for approximately three months, Mrs. William A. Elsenberger, asks that contributions for overseas relief be held until notice is given that a truck will be here.

Mrs. Eisenberger suggests that the donors see that the things are in good condition and packed in small containers to conserve space. Heavy packing bags may be procured from her. Clean clothing in good condition is badly needed overseas and is always welcome, she said.

Stock Market's Effort To Extend Wednesday's Advance Fails

NEW YORK, Dec. 2—(AP)—The stock market tried to extend Wednesday's sharp advance today but the results were disappointing.

Immediately after the opening bell, quotations advanced rapidly. The rest of the session was spent in chipping away at the morning gains.

Mark-ups well in the majority at the finish and also well under the widest advance. A good handful of issues slipped a notch or two.

Trading activity expanded on the way up, contracted when prices slid downward. The day's turnover of 1,210,000 share compared with 1,320,000 yesterday, which was a three-week high.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was unchanged at 63.6, with the industrial component up and the railroad section down. The average does not include a number of stocks which showed substantial improvement.

Of the 1,044 issues which appeared on the ticker tape, 540 advanced while 270 declined.

Among the more substantial gainers were National Steel at 89, Douglas Aircraft 49, Lockheed 16¾, Pepsi-Cola 8¾, American Telephone 151¼, Kennecott Copper 56⅛, J. C. Penney 46¼, American Woolen 37½, Union Bag & Paper 32⅝ and Long Bell Number "A" 22½.

American Broadcasting and Twenty Century-Fox each slipped, apparently a reflection of news that two companies for a cut in ABC by 20th Century.

Also lower were U. S. Steel, American Stove (A new low), Youngstown Sheet, Chrysler, Sears Roebuk, John-Manville, Phillips Petroleum, American Tobacco, Gulf Air Corp, Atlantic Coast Line, Standard Oil (NJ), and American Air Lines.

James R. Wilson, and Jeannette L. Wilson, his Wife, vs. Marvin P. Thompson, Jr., and Nancy E. Thompson, his wife, No. 21023, Equity, in the Circuit Court, for Allegany County, Maryland.

The object of this suit is to secure the passage of a decree of adoption, declaring Marian Agnes Thompson, infant, to be the legally adopted daughter of the Petitioners.

The Petition states that Petitioners were married in Bel Air, Maryland, on September sixth, 1942, and have had no children born to them. That they now have in their custody the said Marian Agnes Thompson, born on November third, 1948, in Cumberland, Maryland, and wish to adopt the said Infant.

The Bill further states that the Petitioners are residents of the state of Maryland, and have been such residents for more than two years next proceeding the filing of this Petition, and that the mother of the child, Nancy E. Thompson, is also a resident of the state of Maryland, but that the said Marvin P. Thompson, Jr., is a non-resident of the state of Maryland, and has not been seen or heard of since March, 1948.

It is thereupon ORDERED this 2nd day of December, 1948, by the Circuit Court, for Allegany County, Maryland, sitting in Equity, that a copy of this order be inserted in one of the newspapers published in Allegany County, once each week for four successive weeks, before the 4th day of January, 1949, giving notification to the said Marvin P. Mrs. Elsenberger suggests that the donors see that the things are in good condition and packed in small containers to conserve space. Heavy packing bags may be procured from her. Clean clothing in good condition is badly needed overseas and is always welcome, she said.

Construction Is Finished On New County Infirmary

Institution May Open January 15

Work on the new Allegany County Infirmary, which has been under construction since last spring, has been completed and representatives of Saxe, Willard and Robertson, Baltimore engineers, are expected here today to make a final inspection of the building.

The engineering firm designed the building and has been acting as consultants. John I. Vandegrift and Son Company was the contractor.

Charles N. Wilkinson, president of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, said last night the engineers have been notified that Vandegrift has completed his work and the customary final inspection can be made.

Work is proceeding now on obtaining equipment, supplies and all the essentials necessary to put the infirmary into actual operation. Wilkinson said Benjamin W. Wright, superintendent of Memorial Hospital, is assisting the commissioners with the purchase and acquisition of necessary supplies and equipment.

Wilkinson indicated last night that after the building has been formally accepted for the county by the County Board, which will be done after the engineers give it their final approval in a day or two, it will be ready for use by January 15.

A public inspection day and formal opening will be held before patients are moved down from the old infirmary building, to give the citizens of the county an opportunity to see the new institution.

The structure is designed as a 100-bed hospital, with kitchens, dining quarters, wings for the detention of juveniles who have heretofore been confined to the County Jail when in need or in trouble, and other facilities.

Playground Group Supports Stadium

The Cumberland Playground Association last night disclosed a letter written to the Junior Association of Commerce congratulating the organization on efforts to secure a municipal stadium, but declaring they oppose any plan to use part of the $150,000 Playground Bond Fund.

The playground group advised the Jaycees that W. E. Eichner was nominated as the representative to the stadium commission and promised all aid possible.

Other events at the regular meeting saw a motion passed requesting each playground unit in the city to list equipment needs and submit the list to the association for presentation to the Mayor and City Council.

Units were also informed that it will be necessary to have the names of representatives and alternates enrolled at tht January 6 meeting in preparation for officer nominations. The nominating committee will report at the February meeting. The annual election will be held in April.

Weather

The cold came creeping from all sides yesterday, surprising Cumberlanders who had forgotten what real cold was like since last year. The minimum temperature was way, way down to 22 degrees. Although the maximum of 45 degrees wasn't too cold, the dampness crawled down unsuspecting collars and coat sleeves. Looks like more of the same today, too. Last night's temperature of 34 degrees looked like it was about to go lower very quickly and the weatherman's promised rain got a head start which leaves a blank prediction for today.
